

We Haven't Said A Word

Ever since our opening we have not said a word in the way of advertising. Yet the crowds kept right on coming. They know where they can expect real bargains and not be disappointed in their expectations.

The people in Gaston County know that Frohman does exactly as he advertizes and advertizes to do. That is why they flock so to Frohman's Bargain Shop.

We have not advertized since our opening announcement because our opening sale was a far greater success than we expected, and we sold more goods during this sale than we expected to sell in several months. After the sale our store looked like a cyclone hit it, and we had nothing very special to offer you. But when the goods began to pour in by express it came in such abundance that we found our store entirely too small. We had to enlarge it.

Our store is now twice the size it was and we have it well filled with bargains in everything ready to wear for men, women and children.

Col. Preston Promoted.

Of interest to many Gastonia people who have had the pleasure of acquaintanceship with officers at Camp Chronicle is the news in current dispatches that Colonel Guy H. Preston, commanding one of the regiments here, has been advanced in rank to a brigadier generalship. Of interest also is the news that Lieutenant Colonel A. A. King, who was with the 77th Field Artillery at Camp Chronicle part of the time, has been transferred to the Eighth Cavalry. As he served many years in the west and on the border he is returning to his favorite service.
