Max Gardner Captures the Women.
—Headline in daily paper over account of commencement address made by Lieutenant Governor Gardner.

Said to relate, however, capturing women in North Carolina does not yet mean "capturing votes." It will mean that, we opine, ere long, but not soon enough to do present gubernatorial candidates any good.

Gaston farmers believe in making hay while the sun shines. In a twenty-five mile trip into the country Monday the writer saw more folks—men, women and children; old and young; white and black—working in the fields than he ever saw at one time in his life. Continued rains for a month put the farmer about four weeks behind and all the time General Green was marching on. The past ten days, however, has seen an enormous amount of farm work done in the county and prospects for the various crops seem to be good.

What has become of the project recently launched looking to the erection of an apartment house in Gastonia? So far this week there have been three families, newcomers to the city, in The Gazette office on a hunt for houses, all of whom would no doubt have been glad to take an apartment. That such a building could be filled with good renters the day it is ready for occupancy, at good rentals, we have no doubt. Gastonia is growing rapidly but the construction of houses is by no means keeping pace with the increase in population. The Gazette hopes that the business men of the city will not let this opportunity pass. We understand that all but eight or ten thousand dollars of the required amount has been subscribed. The remainder should be forthcoming without further delay. Every day the project is delayed Gastonia suffers.

Born.

Rev. and Mrs. W. G. Moore, of Boiling Springs, announce the birth to them at the City Hospital on Monday, June 2, 1919, of a daughter, Frances Lee. Mrs. Moore was formerly Miss May Rice, a teacher in the city schools here.

Rifle Club Meets Today.

Members of the Gastonia Rifle Club will hold a practice contest at the rifle range this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The local club has a chance to send a team to compete for honors in the National matches in August, and quite a bit of interest is being manifested at this time.
