BORROW AND INVEST.

What do you think of investing in these high-priced cotton mills? was the question put to a prominent business man of the town yesterday.

Invest, by all means, was his answer. Even if they are costing two and three times as much as they did several years ago, the thing to do is to borrow money and invest in these mills.

This is the advice The Gazette would pass on to its readers. If you want to get in on a good sound investment, lay by a little in some of these Gaston county cotton mills.

In this connection we are quoting part of Col. C. B. Armstrong's speech at the Lockmore cotton mill picnic last Saturday at York as given by The Yorkville Enquirer.

Get acquainted with your banker, the colonel urged. Open up accounts with him, a checking account and a savings account and look after both of them.

Never mind the before that, said the manager. If you've been in France a year you know all about domestic work. I'll make you head chambermaid.

Lincoln's "Lost Speech."

On the twenty-ninth of May, in 1856, Lincoln made a speech at the first Republican state convention in Illinois that is remembered as Lincoln's "Lost Speech."

Chief Executives Censured.

Congress has twice censured a president—Andrew Jackson, in June, 1834, for causing the removal of the government deposits of about ten million dollars from the United States bank the preceding September; and John Tyler, in 1843.

As to Conforming to Fashion.

Avoid singularity. There may often be less vanity in following the new modes than in adhering to the old ones. It is true that the foolish invent them, but the wise may conform to, instead of contradicting them—Joubert.

His Language.

Mother told sister that baby came from heaven, so when baby was eight months old sister said to a playmate: "Our baby is talking now, but we can't understand him, 'cause he talks sky talk."

ANGER SIGNALS OF BAD BLOOD

Pimples on the face, bunches in the neck, sallow and swarthy complexion, sores, ulcers, mucous patches, copper colored spots, scaly skin affections, constipation, inactive liver, dyspepsia and stomach troubles are common symptoms of poisoned blood.

TOO WILD IN CELEBRATION

Americans in Paris, Released From the Horrors of Trenches, Somewhat Astonish the French.

Not the least of our pride in the expeditionary force was its good behavior. For general morals we were the prize winners. But, of course, soldiers in a nonprohibition country will get drunk now and then.

Your French pal, who, in his reaction from the trenches took to liquor, got a blissful and genial jag, which expressed itself in talkativeness and in flirtation. The American whooped it up.

As two coyotes on a moonlight night can give the impression of a whole wolf pack, so two drunken Americans could give the appearance of a drunken army.

This tendency brought its most deplorable effects in Paris. The capital of the world was not a leave center. Nevertheless all sorts of commissions and activities centered there; soldiers were constantly coming and going on military errands; moreover, though Paris was officially barred, men nevertheless got Paris leave by pull or cajolery.

The French, who, as I have said, grow merely genially expansive with liquor, did not like this.

LEARNED MUCH IN FRANCE

Doughboys, Back in America, Are Not Quite the Same as When They Left.

"The boy just back from France is a mighty different chap from the lad who went over there," says William Howard Taft, adding, with a laugh: "He's learned a lot he didn't know before. Take two instances that came to my notice recently."

"One was the case of a doughboy who before the war had been a hotel clerk. On his return to America he applied in New York for a place."

"What references have you?" demanded the manager.

"Been over in France a year, and before that—"

"Never mind the before that," said the manager. "If you've been in France a year you know all about domestic work. I'll make you head chambermaid."

"The other one," continued Mr. Taft, "was quite different. He, too, had come back from France, and he, too, had learned a lot."

"To you think you could ever learn to love me?" he asked the girl of his choice, and she answered:

"I don't know. Anyhow, you might continue your course of instruction. Gee! It's so different!"

Cause of the Query.

As soon as women have the vote and the league of nations becomes a reality, says Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, she is going to be a "gay young girl." As it is, no one would suspect her of being past seventy. And she likes to tell stories on herself. This is one she told in Indianapolis to a group of friends:

"When I was in California recently, folks kept coming up to me and saying: 'How young you look,' in most surprised tones. Well, it began to wear on me. Why shouldn't I look young? So when a young girl came up and said it for the 'seventh time, I said, 'So do you look young.'"

"And then I learned the reason for all the surprise. The newspapers had been told that I was in California in '96 with Miss Anthony. It had somehow got twisted to read: 'Dr. Shaw was ninety-six when she was here with Miss Anthony.' That would have made me about 120 years old."

Caught at Last.

A father said to his pretty daughter one morning:

"What time did you send that young Simpson home last night?"

"Oh," replied the girl, "I don't think it was very late."

"It must have been close to midnight!"

"Why, father?"

"Didn't you send him out the back door and hurry off to bed when you heard me coming in?"

"Why, father, I had been in bed for hours."

"You heard me, then?"

"Yes, you woke me up."

"And you had been in bed for hours?"

"Ur huh!"

"That certainly is funny!"

"Why?"

"Because when I went to light the lamp I nearly burned my hands off on the hot chimney."—Youngstown Telegram.

No More Insects or Plant Diseases.

Now that plant quarantine No. 37 of the Agricultural department is in effect, prohibiting the importation of plants without a permit, there will be no more garden insects or plant diseases.

If there are it will be the fault of the federal horticultural board, for no insects or diseases can enter now except with the permission of the board. Do not discard the sprayers and insecticides, however, as they will still be useful to combat the old and new troubles that are bound to appear.

MRS. E. F. HARDY GAINS TWENTY-SIX POUNDS

Texas Farmer Says His Wife Is Now Enjoying as Good Health as She Ever Did Owing to the Tanlac She Has Taken.

"Well, sir, my wife only weighed 90 pounds when she commenced taking this Tanlac, and now she tips the scales at one hundred and sixteen, which gives her a gain of twenty-six pounds, and any medicine that will do that kind of work is worth recommending to anybody," said E. F. Hardy, a well-known farmer who lives near Terrell, Texas, the other day.

"For three long years," continued Mr. Hardy, "my wife suffered something awful, and although she was under the best of treatment all the time, her condition seemed to get worse instead of better. She suffered almost continually with a severe pain in the small of her back which was caused from the awful condition of her kidneys. Very often she would have pains in her sides, too, and was so nervous all the time that she never got a good night's sleep. She got so thin and weak, and so generally run down that she was not able to do any housework at all."

"We had been reading a good deal in the papers about this Tanlac, and I decided to buy one bottle and see if it would make any change in her condition. Well, the first bottle helped her so much that I got another, and it just seemed that the more Tanlac she took, the faster she improved, and now since taking four bottles, she is enjoying as good health as she ever did in her life. Her stomach seems to be in perfect condition, and everything she eats agrees with her all right. The pain has left her back and she never has the slightest sign of that kidney trouble. She has a fine appetite, and it is simply wonderful the way she has gained in weight and strength. She does all her housework now, and it doesn't hurt her at all. Yes, sir, Tanlac is all right, and I am more than glad to let others know of the great good it has done my wife."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Laban Huffstetter and little son, Lloyd Craig, and little Miss Kathleen Beattie, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Costner, who live near Limestone.

SPRINGS & COMPANY'S WEEKLY COTTON LETTER.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5. The government crop report of 67.1 which is 2.9 under that of July and 6.5 under last August and the under the 10 year average of 76.1 in all appointments, spells disaster and the best thing to do is to buy early, especially in the cotton market.

There is so little business in the cotton market that variations in prices are often wild, and the eye of a speculator in such circumstances is almost certain to be unsatisfactory. It is wise to trade only in the active months in which trading can be done to far better advantage either way. The crop is estimated at 12,000,000 bales against 12,000,000 bales the national crop a year ago. Texas and Georgia are only 67 per cent, Mississippi and Arkansas 63, Alabama 64 and Louisiana actually only 52 against a 10 year average of 73. Meanwhile the world's stock of cotton outside of this country is down to a very low ebb. Those of cotton goods are small throughout the world. Reports are persistent that German banks have borrowed, or will be authorized shortly to borrow $100,000,000 in this country. Credits are bound to be given to promote the export trade of the U. S. with Europe. The case is really as broad as it is long. Europe wants cotton; we want buyers. Cotton goods are in active demand in this country. American has been hard hit by boll weevil, and by prolonged rains. The damage from this pest at this stage of the season is of a severity unexampled in cotton history. The plant is now exposed to two dangers. First, dry hot weather will increase shedding, not to speak of even higher conditions in certain contingencies. The government report shows that this crop

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

Bevo THE BEVERAGE The all-year-round soft drink. The first man's drink was water and grain. Bevo is the highest refinement of the natural drink of primitive man—the accepted drink of modern America—a beverage with real food value.
