Refreshments will be sold on the midway, candy, sandwiches, hot cream, coffee and you might even find hot dogs and red tomatoes. After everybody has eaten all they can hold and seen all the wonders of the shows a comic opera will be given in the school auditorium as the climax in fun for the night. NEW YORK SPOT MARKET. NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(3 p. m.) Spots closed at 37.40.

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The cotton market today showed continued nervousness over the labor situation, which led to considerable realizing or liquidation. There was also southern hedge selling here but relatively firm cables and the continued bullish character of spot and crop advices brought in fresh buying and the market opened steady at an advance of 22 to 50 points. January reacted from 35.15 to 34.80 shortly after the call but later sold back above the 35 cent level on covering and trade buying of near months.

As an American I am proud of it as a citizen I am grateful to it: It is entitled 'The University of the South,' but it is much more than that; it is a University of all America, and its welfare should be dear to all Americans who are both patriotic and farsighted, and therefore anxious to see every influence strengthened which tends for the betterment and enlightenment of our great common country."

SECRETARY JOSEPHUS DANIELS ADDRESSES THE CONFERENCE

Eminent North Carolinian Discusses the Duty and Opportunity of the Church in Modern Days.

BISHOP'S SERMON WAS MASTERFUL DISCOURSE

"Judas" Was Theme of Great Utterance Sunday Morning—Annual Love Feast and Ordination Services Were Other Features of Conference Sunday.

The Sunday features of the Western North Carolina Conference of Methodists in session at Greensboro were the splendid sermon delivered by Bishop Darlington at 11 a. m. in West Market street church, and an address at the evening hour by Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels.

Bishop Darlington preached from the text in Matthew 26:24. "It had been good for that man if he had not been born." His theme was the opportunities which Judas had in the fellowship of his Lord, and his failure to take advantage of these wonderful opportunities. He was heard by a congregation which overflowed the large church building.

In beginning his address to the Conference Sunday evening Secretary Daniels said that he had long coveted the privilege of preaching to preachers and his opportunity had now arrived. He urged his hearers to stick to the plain preaching for which Methodism had been noted in its early days.

Secretary Daniels said in part:

"The World Is My Parish." "North Carolinians last week established the fact that they are true to the spirit of early Methodism when by a unanimous vote they went on record as favoring the league of nations movement as part of the treaty of peace. Preaching mainly to men denied the advantage of education and travel, Mr. Wesley's slogan was: 'The world is my parish.' He himself preached to the Indians in America and made plans along Pauline lines so the Gospel should be preached by Methodists to the ends of the earth. The vision of a parish bounded only by the horizon is the Bible command: 'Go ye into all the world.' The man who supports his own home church and does not send the truth to peoples afar off has nothing in common with Paul or Wesley. 'There never was a time when Wesley's sublimity of world duty was more compelling than today. The world war has wrought mighty changes. We have a new map of Europe. Where the Hapsburgs, the Romanoffs and the Hohenzollerns ruled automatically the scepter of dynasty has departed forever. Peoples suddenly freed from tyrannical direction are moving or groping into the light of self-government. It is a stimulating but it is the only humanity that leads to rest government. The brave youth of America played a large part in ridding the shackles that fettered them. Our world duty is in conscience—refuse the help and help in world readjustment.' By arms and faith, the old order has been destroyed. We have to set up a new order. Poland is a land of scattered earthshakes. Are we to retreat and to scuttle while this people strive against odds to set up a stable government? The day the first sailor gave his life to protect Americans on their rightful passage on the sea and the day the first American soldier gave his life for freedom in French trenches, that day Americans became partners in destroying autocracy and building on its ruins new and better governments. It would dishonor the dead for us to evade this self-imposed responsibility to make a better world. It would disgrace the living if it could help our promise to lead the call. Come over into Macedonia and help us. And Methodists would repudiate the spirit of Wesley's large conception of the limits of his parish and his duty to his parishioners. In the face of the world revolution there still remain patriotic people among us who think only in terms of their own neighborhood, forgetting that Christian men are compelled by their leader to put no metes and bounds upon their love of mankind and their duty to help those who stand in need of their assistance.

Hour of Peace Has Come. The hour has struck. For the first time in nineteen hundred years the nations of the earth, inspired by American example, have united to fulfill the mission for which Christ came upon earth—that peace should smile upon every portion of it. For this Christian men and women have hoped and longed and prayed since the star shone in Bethlehem and the angels sang 'peace on earth; good will toward men.' It is the tragedy of tragedies that men of learning have so long listened to the jarring voices of war that they are deaf to the compelling voice of the Prince of Peace. But let us rejoice that our ears and the ears of most of the world are attuned to hear and that we rejoice in the approach of the day for which all other days were but the prelude—the day when nations will make war no more. It heartened all men who believe with Jobert: There are two powers that govern the world—force and right. Force must rule until right is ready. Those who oppose the league think we still live in a world where only force counts and can count. We glory in the faith that we believe that right is possible to us and that the time where force has been governor with the sword. The time has come with the sword. The time is coming for us to abdicate and to let the world be governed by the Master and not to follow His leadings.

Ordination Service. At the close of the morning sermon Bishop Darlington ordained the following: Messrs. R. A. Clark, M. G. Eavin, E. H. Fries, E. L. Shelton, W. R. Shelton, T. A. Dwyer and M. B. Wootley, who are traveling deacons. These ordained deacons were J. M. Barber, A. P. Brantly, E. M. Ferrell, W. J. Harkney, W. R. Jenkins, J. H. Lanning and J. A. Snow.

Memorial Session of Conference. Conference met in memorial session at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Rev. D. Atkins presiding.

On motion of J. P. Hays, J. A. Baldwin was added to the committee on memoirs in order that he might read a memoir of Rev. Scott Owen, who had done service as a pastor for a number of years, although not a member of the conference.

The memoir of Rev. J. D. Buie was read by H. M. Blair; that of Rev. C. R. Camp was prepared by J. F. Kirk, but read by C. A. Wood; J. H. Barnhardt read the memoir of Rev. M. C. Field. The memoir of Rev. W. T. U'rey that had been prepared by W. F. Starnes was read by J. R. Walker. J. A. Baldwin read the memoir of Rev. Scott Owen.

The memoir of Mrs. C. E. Shelton was read by J. J. Gray, and that of Mrs. W. B. Thompson by R. G. Tuttle. These were the wives of itinerant preachers.

After the reading of these memoirs and verbal tributes to the memory of those departed members of the conference, Bishop Darlington ordained the following elders: A. S. Abernethy, J. W. Bennett, C. M. Carpenter, G. W. Fink, R. L. Forbis, D. V. Howell, C. A. Johnson, M. A. Orsborne and T. V. Crouse, traveling elders, and J. M. Varner and T. S. [unclear] local elders.

The Love Feast. The conference love feast began at 9 o'clock and was large attended, not only by members of the conference, but by people of the city and out-of-town visitors.

The love feast is a great annual experience meeting of the itinerants, gathered at their annual assembly. The talks are not confined to preachers. Laymen and women, not a few, join heartily in these meetings.

This love feast is an expression of the heart of the conference. The members at this service speak freely of their personal religious experiences, of their trials, but mostly of their triumphs. The service this year gave emphasis to the fact that the Western North Carolina Conference is sound at heart and that within still burn the ancient fires. Not only were there heart-to-heart talks, but the people sang "Revive Us Again" and "The Old-Time Religion," shook hands with one another, and a few shouted and many were set on fire afresh with a passion for high and holy service.

SATURDAY NIGHT GLEANINGS FROM THE MILL VILLAGES.

(By The Gazette Pick-up Reporter.)

Mrs. R. C. Warren and Misses Ward and Grantham were the guests of Miss Ava Myatt at the Osceola community house Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Warren has kindly consented to rehearse the young ladies of the village in a playlet to be staged in the near future.

Mrs. J. Lean Adams, secretary of the Ladies Home Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church, met with several of the ladies from the Clara, Dunn and Armstrong villages at the Armstrong community house and arranged for a meeting to be held in the hall tonight at 7:30 o'clock. All Presbyterian ladies of these communities are urged to be present.

At a meeting of Boy Scout Troop No. 2 in the hall of Armstrong community house Saturday night new members were received and it was decided to rehearse a minstrel to be given later for the benefit of the troop. Arrangements will be made for a hike to Spanglers Mount in Saturday, November 1st, for a stay over Sunday, Rev. R. R. Hildebrand will be the speaker then. The hike will be held in the afternoon on Sunday morning. They will attend a Sunday school and preaching service in a body. Donald Stron is president and T. M. Huffstetler assistant master.

Fifth avenue in the Clara community is taking on a new and vastly improved appearance under the direction of Sergeant Leavett. The new looks are architect of the Armstrong Mill villages, who is busy having the houses repaired and building new porches. He expects later to beautify the grounds of the mills with trees and shrubbery.

The operatives of many of the mills worked a half day Saturday and will work half day next Saturday in order to have a full day off for the John Robinson Circus November 3rd. They realize that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" and they are willing to work for their fun. They expect to enjoy to the limit the fat woman, the clowns, the kangaroo and the hippopotamus, the Bengal tiger, feeding peanuts to the monkey and elephant and even the red lemonade. If there is one time in the life of a healthy, red-blooded American boy it is circus time. If the writer had the money he would gather up every mother's son in Gastonia who didn't have the price and take him to the circus, for this is "when a feller needs a friend."

The trouble with the Italian press seems to be that it regards the United States as an accomplice instead of an ally. —New York Morning Telegraph.

THE CRACK O' DOOM FOR NASTY CALOMEL

Folks Abandoning Old Drug for "Dodson's Liver Tone," Here In South.

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you lose a day.

Calomel is mercury! When it comes into contact with your bile, it crashes into it, breaking it up. Then is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish, if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have a headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous, go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it can not salivate or make you sick. Adv.

GASTON'S COTTON CROP WORTH TWO MILLION

Well Informed Men, in Close Touch With Local Cotton Situation, Say County Will Produce 9,000 Bales This Year.

Despite the unfavorable season and the gloomy predictions of a month ago as a consequence thereof those who keep in close touch with the cotton situation express the opinion that Gaston's crop this year will be well up with the average for the past five years. In fact one well posted man says that the crop in this county will go to 9,000 bales. Some of the more optimistic say 10,000 to 12,000.

A little "figuring" on this subject produces interesting results. Cotton is bringing say 35 cents per pound. This figure is taken for convenience sake, for as a matter of fact the price has ranged recently from a quarter to a half a cent above that figure. At 35 cents a 500-pound bale brings $175.00. Thirty-three bushels of seed to the bale at the present price of $1.35 per bushel, adds $47.95 to this, bring the total receipts up to $222.95. At this figure 9,000 bales would bring in $1,916,550.00. In short Gaston farmers will receive this year for their cotton crop $2,000,000.00. Which is not so bad, after all, considering the fact that it is just about an average year for cotton.
