

DALRYMPLE ON SCENE WITH STATE CONSTABULARY

Arrives in Iron River With 16 Armed Men and Force of Police - No Resistance Is Expected - Will Enforce Prompt and Vigorous Measures.

(By The Associated Press)

IRON RIVER, Mich., Feb. 25.—Developments in Iron county's alleged "liquor rebellion" today depended on steps taken by Major A. V. Dalrymple, federal prohibition director for the central states, who arrived here last night with 16 armed agents of the internal revenue department and a force of Michigan state constabulary.

No resistance was expected should the prohibition director begin his campaign to "clean up Iron county and leave it a clean and law-abiding place," by following out his announced purpose to arrest without warrants, M. S. McDonough, state's attorney, and five Iron county and Iron River city officials, who on February 19, interfered with a prohibition agent after he had seized alleged contraband wine.

It was that action which led to reports of the "uprising" against enforcement of the eighteenth constitutional amendment. Mr. McDonough, in a statement assuming responsibility for stopping seizure of the wine, announced his readiness to capitulate to any federal official who displayed the proper credentials.

Leo J. Grove, the prohibition agent from whom the wine was taken, accompanied Major Dalrymple here from Chicago. He held search warrants for ten places.

"We are taking precautions in case we should meet resistance during our work, but that does not mean we expect a fight," he continued.

Major Dalrymple issued a statement repeating his announcement that "this affair has been brewing for a long time," and expressing the opinion that "it was inevitable that in some community there would be an organized attempt to violate the prohibition law."

He said he determined weeks ago that when the outbreak came he would "put it down with prompt and vigorous measures."

INVESTIGATION TO FOLLOW

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—A complete investigation of the prohibition controversy in Iron county, Michigan, will be made by the bureau of internal revenue, Commissioner Roper announced today.

H. M. Gaylord, deputy prohibition commissioner, will leave tonight for Grand Rapids and Iron River city to take up with the authorities there the controversy which led District Prohibition Commissioner Dalrymple at Chicago to declare the county in "open revolt."

Mr. Roper said, however, that the importance of Mr. Gaylord's visit should not be exaggerated. He had been instructed to make a tour of the central district for other purposes, and his itinerary was enlarged in order to permit the bureau to obtain first hand information of the case in Michigan.

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION RAISES PRICES FOR GAMES.

ATLANTA, GA., Feb. 24.—The Southern Association playing season will open April 14 and close September 18 with a schedule of 154 games, according to the revised schedule, made public today.

With the schedule out of the way and half a dozen changes agreed upon, the league directors who attended the annual spring meeting here yesterday, turned their attention to court today, where all eight heads of clubs and John D. Martin, president of the association, were under subpoena to testify in a hearing before a commissioner on the claims of Mobile and Atlanta pitcher Keller Hasty.

Chief changes agreed upon yesterday at what was said to have been one of the league's most harmonious sessions, were adoption of the major league revisions in playing and scoring rules, with the exception of a lighter penalty for illegal pitching, raising the price of grandstand seats to 75 cents, including war tax, and allowing ball players $2 a day for meals, while the team is on the road, instead of $1.75, as allowed last year.

PRESIDENT'S ADRIATIC NOTE REACHES LONDON

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, Feb. 25.—President Wilson's reply to the allied note on the Adriatic situation reached London today and was delivered to the allied supreme council.

DAVIS WILL DELIVER REPLY.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Arrival in London today of President Wilson's reply to the entente premiers' note on the Adriatic question, will furnish the European chancelleries with an unequivocal statement of this country's position as to the forming of agreements for disposal of territory without the participation of the United States.

President Wilson has refused, according to well-informed circles, to agree to the settlement offered to Junco-Slavia as an ultimatum, but he has not insisted on carrying out precisely the Adriatic settlement reached December 9 with the consent of the United States. Seizure of Fiume by D'Annunzio, and other subsequent events were said to have made requisite some changes in that plan.

Ambassador Davis will deliver the reply as soon as it has been decoded. It was dispatched last night.

UNIVERSAL MILITARY TRAINING AN ISSUE

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Universal military training as an issue in the coming campaign will be left for definition to the national conventions, in the opinion today of house leaders following the agreement announced last night by Chairman Kahn, of the house military committee, for elimination of the training proposal from the army re-organization bill.

The agreement, concurred in by republican leaders in the house, provides that universal military training be taken up as separate legislation as the next session of congress, beginning in December.

Elimination of the training plan from the army bill soon to be taken up will permit the members of both parties so far as the house is concerned to avoid taking a stand on the question in advance of the national conventions.

The agreement of republican leaders and Chairman Kahn contemplates appointment of a special sub-committee, friendly to universal training, to take up the question and to draft a bill for presentation at the next session.

MYRON E. FULLER CHOSEN CAROLINA FOOTBALL COACH.

Correspondence of The Daily Gazette. CHAPEL HILL, Feb. 25.—Myron E. Fuller, of Yale, line coach at West Virginia University last fall and for 7 years prior to that coach at various institutions in the northeast, will be head coach of the University of North Carolina football team next fall, succeeding Thomas J. Campbell, of Harvard, who is giving up football for business.

Fuller graduated from Yale in 1911, where he played guard and tackle. He has coached every year since then, two seasons at Stevens Institute, two at Colby College, and one each at Haverford, Swarthmore, Hog Island Shipyard and West Virginia. Several of his teams were of championship caliber, notably the 1914 Colby team, the 1917 Swarthmore team, and last fall's West Virginia team, which electrified the football world by defeating Princeton, 25 to 0, and by winning also from Rutgers, Washington and Jefferson and others.

Graduate Manager Charles T. Woolen said today that Fuller would have two assistant coaches, one for the backfield, and one for ends. At least one of these will be a Carolina alumnus.

A large amount of veteran material will be ready for Coach Fuller next fall. It is thought that fourteen letter men will return, beside promising men from the 1919 freshman squad.

A Danish inventor claims to have eliminated the scratching and hissing sounds from a telephone receiver by the use of a number of wires of various lengths instead of a single sound producing diaphragm.

MEN'S BIBLE CLASS ENJOYS BIG FEED

Annual Affair Given By Men of First Presbyterian Church Was Enjoyable Occasion - Ladies of Church Were Guests - Delightful Menu Prepared by Ladies - Beautiful Music.

Members of the Ladies' Young Ladies' and Business Women's Bible Classes, of the First Presbyterian church, prepared and served the daintiest and most delicious supper ever enjoyed by the members of the Men's Bible class, of that church, on the occasion of their annual feast Tuesday night. More than 175 representative men and women of the Presbyterian Sunday school were royally entertained in the banquet hall of the Armstrong Community house.

The supper was served in buffet style and the large tables were bountifully laden with sandwiches, salads, pickles and fruit, with steaming hot coffee served from the side tables. Members of the young ladies' class served brick iced cream and delicious cake.

The evening's entertainment was delightfully dispersed with music, songs and impromptu speeches. Rev. Dr. J. H. Henderlite, teacher of the Men's class and past master in the art of saying just the right thing at the right time, acted as toastmaster. In his usual happy vein and with fittingly chosen words of hearty welcome he most cordially greeted the ladies and the members of the Men's class, beginning with the "regulars", including the "occasional" and not forgetting the very last "newcomer". The old Scotch ballad, dear to the hearts of all, "Annie Laurie," was feelingly and beautifully rendered by a quartet composed of Mesdames Holland Morrow, Harry Rutter, Misses Mary Ramsey and Marian Harvey. The Hawaiian guitar music and songs, in the native language, rendered by Miss Harvey brought forth continued applause. Responding to the eulogies Miss Harvey sang the simple but beautiful gospel hymn, "If Jesus Goes With Me, I'll Go Anywhere."

Messrs. J. H. Kennedy, P. W. Garland, J. W. Timberlake, Harry Rutter, H. G. Winget, A. M. Smyre, C. B. Armstrong, R. C. Patrick and Rev. G. R. Gillespie responded to toast with three minute talks. Mrs. J. M. Caldwell, teacher of the Young Ladies' class and Miss Martha Torrence, vice-president of the Business Women's class, charmingly acknowledged their class toasts. Dr. Henderlite has joyfully watched and prayerfully developed the Men's Bible class of his church in a rapid growth from a very small beginning to its present membership enrollment of 200 with an average attendance of 115.

A great deal of the success of the evening must be attributed to the committee in charge, Messrs. W. E. Todd, chairman, R. C. Patrick, E. J. Rankin and W. F. Kincaid. The ladies who prepared and served the banquet also deserve the highest commendation for their services.

BREWERS OF U. S. WILL MAKE FIGHT

(By The Associated Press.)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Feb. 25.—"Brewers of the United States will use every legal and constitutional means to keep that liberty and that property that guaranteed to us by the constitution," Christian W. Feigenspan declared here today at the United States Brewers' conference of which he is president.

"Counting the non-ratifying states, those which have not voted for state prohibition and those which have voted against federal or state constitutional prohibition in recent years," he said, "we have twenty-five or more than a majority of the whole number."

"There are 21 referendum states, 15 of which are not included in the foregoing. In these states the people have reserved to themselves 'the power to approve or reject at the polls any act of the legislature.' They must, therefore, be counted as states which have not ratified. Adding these states to the 25 mentioned heretofore, we have a total of 40 in which the people are either opposed to federal prohibition, or have been denied their undoubted right to pass upon it. No wonder the proponents of this system fought tooth and nail against letting the people vote."

"The present short period of prohibition has been a blessing in disguise. It has aroused the American people to the necessity of being keenly on their guard to preserve their liberties. It has opened their eyes to the unscrupulous tactics, the falsehoods and hypocrisies of a certain irresponsible element, which had almost escaped public condemnation because of a constant pretense of morality and righteousness."

"It is part of the prohibition propaganda today to pretend that the American people, through their own action, have brought about the existing situation. Never was there a greater falsehood. The American people never have acted upon national prohibition. They have never been permitted to do so. Only one state—Ohio—voted upon this tremendous issue and there the verdict was against it."

WILL COLLECT GASTON COUNTY'S WAR RECORD

Joint Committee From Woman's Club, D. A. R. and U. D. C. to Take Step Toward Collection and Preservation of Gaston County's Record in World War - Questionnaires to Be Sent Out.

The first definite step toward the collection and preservation of the war record of Gaston county's soldiers was taken Monday night when there was held at the home of Mrs. T. W. Wilson a meeting of a joint committee from the Woman's Club of Gastonia, William Gaston Chapter, D. A. R., Gastonia Chapter, U. D. C., and the Gastonia Public Library, to formulate the plans and machinery for compiling the information and data necessary for this history.

Present at the meeting were Mesdames G. W. Ragan, president of the Woman's club, Mrs. A. A. McLean, of the club, Mrs. T. W. Wilson, representing the D. A. R., Mrs. R. M. Reid, of the U. D. C. and Miss Lottie Blake, of the library. Present in an advisory capacity were Messrs. Stephen B. Dolley and Hugh A. Query, post commander and historian of the local post of the American Legion, which is co-operating with the above named organizations in getting together this history. In addition to the organizations named every historical, civic, religious and fraternal body in the county is urgently requested to co-operate in this work. Churches, lodges, clubs, fraternal orders are all possessed of information which will be of inestimable value in the collection of this history. Material will consist of all printed matter concerning the soldiers, bulletins, newspaper clippings, honor rolls, letters, diaries, photos, sketches, proclamations, sermons, posters, paintings, drawings, medals, mementoes, souvenirs, trophies, military equipment, etc., etc. Much valuable information can also be obtained from Y. M. C. A. and Liberty Loan drives.

It was brought out at this meeting Monday night that it is impossible for the above committee to gather all the information desired, if working alone and unaided. It was therefore decided to enlist the support and co-operation of township and community committees from over Gaston county. It is the intention of the committee in charge to announce within a short time the personnel of this committee which shall embrace those in each community who are interested in the Gaston county war record and who have easy access to available sources of information.

Furthermore, to assist in this work there are being printed 3,000 questionnaires which will be handed to all the ex-soldiers of the county. These blanks when properly filled out and returned to the committee will give all the information concerning each soldier's age, date and term of enlistment, promotions, medals, wounds, citations, transfers, battles and campaigns in which participated, name of organization, service overseas, date of discharge, etc. One of the main functions of these township committees will be that of locating, and delivering to, each soldier one of these blanks or questionnaires.

Co-operating with this committee in every way will the N. C. Historical Commission in the person of Mr. R. B. House, collector of war records for the commission.

All readers of The Gazette are earnestly requested to further this work as much as possible and to co-operate in every way toward the preservation of this war history so that it may be saved to posterity and made known to the world. Announcement of the personnel of committees and other details concerning the work will be made from time to time through The Gazette.

GLYDE HOEY MAY NOT RUN AGAIN

Reported That Congressman Will Not Stand For Re-election After This Term.

By H. E. C. Bryant in Charlotte Observer. WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Representative Clyde R. Hoey may not stand for re-election from the ninth district.

He is seriously contemplating quitting and will make an announcement within the next day or two.

The gubernatorial situation is said to be behind the contemplated action of Mr. Hoey.

Since the election of Mr. Hoey the Gardner boom for governor has slowed down.

The situation in Mecklenburg county where demand for representation in Congress was made, caused a slump in the Gardner stock.

If Mr. Hoey withdraws from the race for Congress he will do so because of the Gardner contest.

The dropping out of Mr. Hoey would make a big hole in the North Carolina delegation, for he is a man of ability and fine character.

His short stay here has convinced those who have come in touch with him that he is a fine fellow and would make an excellent congressman.

But something is in the wind and it may break at any time.

UNION PLANS FIGHT ON R. R. REORGANIZATION BILL

Will Carry Fight to White House and Request President to Veto the Measure - May Attack Constitutionality of Law.

BAINBRIDGE COLBY NEXT SECRETARY OF STATE

Prominent Republican Progressive of New York, Follower of Roosevelt, Succeeds Robert Lansing.

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Bainbridge Colby, of New York, who was one of the leaders in the progressive party under Theodore Roosevelt, will succeed Robert Lansing as secretary of state. Announcement of his selection by President Wilson was made today at the white house.

The selection of Mr. Colby came as a surprise, most officials assuming that Frank L. Polk, acting secretary, would be the president's choice. The first inkling that the president was to appoint some one outside of his official family came when Mr. Colby visited the white house early today in company with Raymond T. Baker, director of the mint.

Mr. Colby was taken to see the president on the south lawn and a few minutes later the formal announcement of his selection was made. His nomination is expected to be sent to the senate within a day or two.

This is not the first office Mr. Colby has held under the president's administration. He was appointed a member of the shipping board and the emergency fleet corporation in July, 1917, and also was a member of the American mission to the inter-allied shipping conference at Paris in the same year. He retired from the shipping board more than a year ago.

Mr. Colby was a life-long republican until the famous Bull Moose bolt at the Chicago convention in 1912. He had been actively identified with the candidacy of Theodore Roosevelt for the republican nomination for president that year and was in charge of contests to send the Roosevelt delegates in the Chicago convention.

When Colonel Roosevelt bolted the convention, Mr. Colby helped to found the progressive party and was a delegate to its Chicago convention in 1912. He continued an active leader in that party and in 1914 and again in 1916 he was a progressive candidate for Senator from New York State.

When Colonel Roosevelt threw the weight of his influence to Charles Evans Hughes in the 1916 presidential race, Mr. Colby identified himself with the democratic party.

Mr. Colby was born at St. Louis 51 years ago and graduated from Williams College, Massachusetts. He spent one year at the Columbia law school and has practiced law in New York since 1892. He was a member of the New York assembly in 1901-1902.

After Mr. Colby has taken office, Mr. Polk, who has been secretary ad interim since the resignation of Mr. Lansing nearly two weeks ago, is expected to carry out his intention of retiring from the state department. Mr. Polk's health has not been at all good for more than a year and his physicians have advised him to take a long rest.

Should Mr. Polk retire, two important posts in the state department would be left vacant, that of under-secretary, to which Mr. Polk was advanced some months ago, and of assistant secretary. The latter place was held by William Phillips, the newly appointed minister to The Netherlands and Luxemburg.

TREATY VOTE WILL COME WITHIN TWO WEEKS

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—A vote within the next two weeks on ratification of the treaty of Versailles is contemplated by senate leaders.

Pressing legislation displaced the treaty on the floor today, but it will be called up tomorrow by Senator Lodge, who will ask that it remain the business of the senate until acted upon. No opposition to this course is expected, though there is an element of doubt as to where the vote can be reached, in view of the demand of irremediable opponents for ample discussion.

How the democrats will line up on the reservations adopted at the last session of congress, which it was proposed to modify, is the question of chief interest in the renewal of the long-drawn out fight. Despite republican claims of a defection of twenty two of the minority, the democratic leader, Senator Hitchcock decided not to call a caucus at present, because he thought it "inadvisable." Several democrats who want to end the long drawn out controversy by taking the republican reservations as they stand, put forward the proposal.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Consideration of President Wilson's proposal for settlement of railroad employees' wage demands by an impartial tribunal was sidetracked today by union officers to give the right of way to a finish fight on the recently passed railroad reorganization bill.

Request for a veto of the measure will be presented to President Wilson, probably tonight, in the form of a memorial setting forth organized labor's objections to the arbitration features of the bill, especially, and to the financial clauses. Failing to gain a veto, the unions plan to attack the constitutionality of the law.

Decision to carry the fight to the white house was taken suddenly at a meeting to consider the President's proposal, but the latter did not get much consideration, because general committeemen represented that their membership was restive under what they termed "legislative attacks" on union labor and would not be satisfied unless the bill was fought to the last ditch. When it was decided to ask for executive disapproval of the measure, many of the delegates made arrangements to return home immediately, leaving the wage controversy negotiations unfinished.

The unions still have to decide also whether they will join in selection of experts to gather data for consideration by the wage commission created by the railroad bill. As they have expressed unalterable opposition to such a council of arbitration, in which the public would be represented as well as railroad and employees, some of their officers have objected to participating in choosing the board for fear it would be taken as acceptance of the provisions they deem obnoxious.

SANITARY BEAUTY PARLOR TO OPEN SOON

"You'll Have to be Introduced to Me all Over Again—You Will Not Know Me After I Visit It," Said a Young Lady of Gastonia When She Heard of the Beauty Parlor.

As was intimated by a brief editorial notice in The Gazette of a few days ago, Gastonia is soon to have a beauty parlor. The name of the establishment will be the Sanitary Beauty Parlor. Mrs. J. H. Sumrell is the chief promoter of the enterprise. Miss Marie Knowles, of Jacksonville, Fla., a sister of Mrs. Sumrell, will have the active management of the emporium of beautification. Miss Knowles is thoroughly experienced and capable in this line of work and comes highly recommended.

The parlor will have quarters upstairs over the Torrence Drug Company in one of the new apartments recently finished and created out of what was the old "opera" house. Other offices will also be opened in this place.

It is the intention of Mrs. Sumrell and Miss Knowles to open the parlor to the woman public alone of Gastonia within the next ten days or two weeks. All the furniture and equipment has been purchased and a greater part of it is already delivered in Gastonia.

Asked by the reporter as to the end and purpose to be served by such an establishment, which all the world knows is entirely foreign to the needs of the female population in toto of this town, Mrs. Sumrell said:

"We shall have facilities for hair-dressing, massaging, manicuring, shampooing, etc., and all the other various and sundry habits peculiar to the female sex and form that you men know nothing about."

"Will there be any quarters for any of Gastonia's ugly men folks who might wish to repair thither for a little beautification and shining up as they begin the day's work?" was asked.

"Not a man will be allowed on the place after the opening day," was the answer. "You can get all your work that nature done at the barber shop."

"Wish you well with your new business and know it will be filled every day from the opening hour with Gastonia women, but in writing up your business, we cannot employ, as is generally the custom in announcing a new enterprise for the city, that age-honored and hoary expression: 'A long felt and much needed want in the growth and expansion of the city has been filled by the announcement of so and so—etc., etc.'"

It will be open for business early in March in the new apartments over Torrence's.

German textile manufacturers have asked the National Assembly to establish a research institute to develop domestic materials for their industry.
