

The Mouth Piece

One of the most popular phrases you hear from travelers nowadays is, "The world is certainly getting to be a small place." Truth of this is being proven over and over again in the experiences of those who go places.

Take Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Flowers, for instance. Two or three weeks ago they were in Florida. Passing through Titusville they decided to stop for a meal, and when they walked into the cafe associated with the motel where they stopped, who should they see in there, peacefully eating a meal, but Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Warren and children, who were also in Florida for a holiday.

Mrs. Boyd Beall was curious the other day about the power she thought we had over her husband. "I've been trying to get him to mow the grass and do some work in the yard," she said, "but he's always too busy, or too tired. Then you come along and suggest hitting some golf balls, and away he goes."

Shucks, Mrs. Beall, that ain't power. It's just a little trick which very few wives ever learn. You see, we suggested something HE likes to do, and that's all there was to it. If more wives would try to get their husbands to do something their husbands wanted to do anyway, the wives would be surprised at how obedient husbands really are.

Mention of golf recalls scoring recorded by a quintet of Mount Olive players some time ago. In the group were George Sutton, Charles Kraft, Bryce Ficken, "Hooley" Lewis and Shelton Boyd. At the end of the first nine holes the score card read "44, 45, 46, 47, and 48." We don't remember just who had what scores, but it was kinda odd, we thought.

A fireman's wife turned in a fire alarm here the other day because she'd often heard her husband say the department should be called first thing when anything catches fire—not to wait until efforts to put the fire out have failed.

This time happened to be a fire, and a passing colored man already secured a bucket of water, which would have been more than adequate to douse the flame. But this fireman's wife wouldn't let him pour the water on the fire because she'd already turned in the alarm, and didn't want the firemen to come up on a fire that was already out.

Then she was so embarrassed by what she'd done she hid when the firemen answered the alarm. But we can tell her, for the fire department, that it's much easier, and takes much less time on a call where the fire is already out, or under control than it is to answer one where the alarm has been turned in too late. So don't you feel badly, A. M.

Calvin Porter, newsman for The Tribune, was confined to his home by influenza several days recently, and got to the place, he said, where he really was enjoying lying around, having his comparatively new wife wait on him hand and foot.

His pleasure was short-lived, however. The day after he got up and around again, Mrs. Porter, the former Charlotte Andrews, became ill with the same stuff, and when Calvin's turn to wait on her began it took the pleasure out of his own sickness.

Johnny Walker was telling us yesterday that several weeks ago the question came up in his family about whether to renew subscriptions to The New York Times and The Tribune. Of course he renewed to The Tribune.

The thing that amazes us is not that The Tribune won out over The Times, but that there was any question!

If you ever want to bore straight through the earth, you'll have a shorter distance to go if you start at one of the poles and go through to the other pole than if you start equator and go through to the other side—13.35 miles, to be exact.

One might think this information is of no value, but one never knows who reads The Tribune.

Jesse Hinson, representative of a wholesale grocery concern, who has worked Mount Olive merchants for many years, told us Tuesday that he will be a candidate for the office of Wayne county sheriff.

Mr. Hinson, who is well-known here, has lived in Goldsboro most, or all, of his life, said he would file sometime this week, or next.

Milk is not a perfect food because it is low in iron and cellulose.

School for Church Men At Calypso

The School for Elders and Deacons opened Monday night at the Presbyterian church in Calypso. Dr. Leroy Burney of Richmond, Va., taught the class. Present were 28 officers and ministers from Faison, Stanford, Calypso, and Mount Olive churches.

Dr. Burney stressed that the elders and deacons were representatives of the people, originated with God. They are authorized and they are answerable to God. Dr. Burney is the author of the study book for elders and deacons. He is an outstanding leader in the service of Christ.

The second study will be held Monday, March 1. The Rev. L. L. Taylor, secretary of home missions for Wilmington Presbytery, will teach the class.

Church women served refreshments during the recess period. This school was postponed in January due to weather conditions.

Piney Grove Youth Meet

The Junior Methodist Youth Fellowship of Piney Grove met Wednesday night at the home of Rosalie Sullivan with 14 members answering to roll call.

Alice Faye Sutton, president, called the meeting to order by having the group sing "Just A Little Talk With Jesus." Johnny Hatch read the minutes of the last meeting. Virginia Sutton read a poem and the president told a story.

Mrs. Sullivan served soft drinks, cookies, and peanuts at the close of the meeting. The March meeting will be with Virginia and Lee Sutton.

Travelers Group Has Meeting Here

Post U of the Travelers Protective association held its annual ladies' night banquet in the Mount Olive elementary school cafeteria Tuesday night.

Thomas C. Abele of St. Louis, Mo., national secretary, was guest speaker. Other guests included Thomas R. Yates, state secretary of Winston-Salem and State President T. Frank Jones of Goldsboro, and Mrs. Jones.

Reath Jones, president, presided. The meal was served by women of the Mount Olive Christian church.

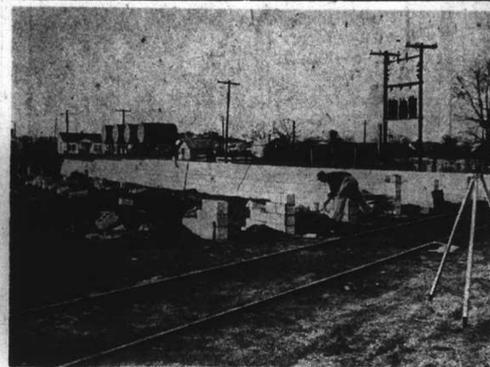

Of Mecklenburg county's 1950 population of 187,052, only 14,581 persons lived on farms.

World Day of Prayer for Local Women Held March 5

Women of the various Mount Olive Protestant churches are sponsoring the local observance of the annual World Day of Prayer Friday morning, March 5, at 10 o'clock, in the Baptist church.

Mrs. H. J. Skipper is chairman of the group arranging for local observance of this day. Others participating are Mrs. Wilson Lewis, Mrs. Rodney Knowles, Mrs. Shelton Boyd, Mrs. Jesse Graham, and Mrs. B. E. Dotson.

Purpose of this day is to unite all Christians in a bond of prayer, especially for peace, and to make an offering for Christian missions at home and abroad. Theme for this year's observance is "That

POTATO WASHER COMING—Workmen are shown above erecting a platform which will be used in washing and grading Irish potatoes grown in this section. Ralph Warren, local produce broker, who is installing the new washing machine, said equipment is expected to arrive here around the middle of next month. The platform is expected to be completed by noon today with additional construction in connection with the platform to be finished within a few weeks.

Construction is Begun on Spud Washing Facilities

A movement to get Mount Olive grown Irish potatoes on the market by installing washing and grading equipment here is materializing steadily, according to reports from a local owner, who said machinery for grading and washing spuds is to arrive here by March 15.

Ralph Warren, broker, who is installing the equipment in hopes of reviving the dwindling sale of Irish potatoes grown in this section, said this week that the platform for housing the machinery would be almost completed by noon today and additional adjustments on the building should be finished within a couple of weeks.

The machinery is to arrive here about the middle of March, he said, and will be installed in time to handle this year's crop.

In recent years Mount Olive, once a potato center, has had difficulty finding a place on the markets for its potato products, partly, it is believed, because the spuds were not washed and made attractive to buyers. Marketing specialists say the chief buyers of Irish potatoes are chain stores and that they want products which are quickly handled.

Several Citizens are In Hospital Now

Among those from this section who are patients at Wayne Memorial hospital, Goldsboro, are: David Gillis, Mrs. Willie Jones, and Mrs. W. S. Head of Mount Olive and Robert Best of route 3.

Property damages estimated at $400 resulted when autos driven by Larry Best, Jr., of Mount Olive, and Marion Jones of route 4 collided in front of Josh Hinson's store just outside Mount Olive city limits on the Goldsboro highway late yesterday afternoon.

Jones was charged with failing to yield the right-of-way. Jones told investigating officer Willie Currin of the highway patrol he was driving out of Hinson's driveway when the accident occurred. Best was traveling north on highway 117.

The collision sent Best's 1953 Mercury into a ditch.

Officer Currin estimated the damages to the car driven by Best at $300, and to the 1937 Ford driven by Jones at $100.

Rites Held In Indiana For Native

Jessie Oliver McCullen, 38, native of this section, died in an Indianapolis, Ind., hospital February 15. Funeral services were held in Quinn and McGowan funeral home, Warsaw, Sunday afternoon. Interment was in the Warsaw cemetery.

He is survived by his father, W. M. McCullen of Warsaw; one son, Mackie McCullen of Texas; two brothers, Johnnie of Kinston and Walter McCullen of Warsaw; four sisters, Mrs. Claudell Tyndall, Mount Olive, route 1, Mrs. Charlie Walker, Mount Olive, route 2, Mrs. Paul Bell, Kinston, and Mrs. Henry Deams, Goldsboro.

Mrs. Flowers Chairman of Duke Drive

Mrs. Mossett Flowers of Mount Olive has been named chairman of the Duke University Loyalty Fund campaign for 1953-54 in the Mount Olive area, it was announced today.

The Loyalty Fund is Duke's annual alumni giving program, through which the institution's former students contribute annually to its support.

As chairman for the area, Mrs. Flowers will head a committee that will seek to contact personally all Duke alumni here who have not participated in the giving program thus far this year. The local campaign will be one of approximately 175 to be conducted throughout the country during February and March.

Calypso PTA Met And Had Scouts as Special Visitors

The PTA of Calypso school met Monday night in the auditorium for the regular monthly meeting with the president, Mrs. Robert Farrior, presiding.

The second grade students with their teacher, Mrs. Allen Cox, were in charge of the devotional and program. The meeting opened by singing "Praise Him," and the students repeated the 121 Psalm in unison, followed by prayer.

A poem, "A Child's Thought of God," was given by Miss Elizabeth Barrett Browning. The Pledge to the Flag was given by the students and "America" was sung by the assembly. A playlet, "Little Red Riding Hood," was given.

Cub scouts and scouts attended in a body and were recognized by the president. Presentation of ex-president pins was made by W. H. Hurdle. Mrs. Jim Grady and Samuel Pipkin were recipients of the awards.

After a business session, members were invited to a birthday party celebrating Founders Day of the Parent-Teachers Association. Birthday cake and punch were served by the women of the PTA.

Mrs. Bessie Best, 60, accused of slaying her 59-year-old salesman husband, Marvin Best, of Goldsboro, has been bound over to Superior court following a preliminary hearing before Goldsboro Mayor Scott Berkeley, sitting as a magistrate in the preliminary hearing.

In 1950, some 58.9 per cent of North Carolina farm families owned their own homes.

Lengthy Docket Disposed Of in City Court Saturday

A lengthy docket was disposed of in Mayor's Court Saturday with Mayor T. Nelson Ricks transferring some cases to county and Superior courts, sentencing some to road terms and dismissing a couple, while ordering the majority to pay court cost.

Many of the 22 defendants had more than one charge against them.

Ronnie McMillan and Bennie Faison, Negroes of Mount Olive, were given road sentences. McMillan was given 30 days each for public drunkenness and disorderly conduct, while Faison was sentenced for forgery.

William Moore of the city, who is charged with larceny of more than $1,000 from Dr. C. C. Henderson, was given a preliminary hearing and ordered held under bond for Superior court.

J. D. Dixon and Carl McEiver, Negroes, of near Kenansville, who recently had their charges added to by resisting arrest and running from Officer M. D. Connor, will be heard in county court along with Robert Nethercutt of Clinton, and John Powell of route 3. Dixon is charged with resisting arrest, careless and reckless driving and driving under the influence, while Mc-

WILDLIFE CLASS—Students at Mount Olive high school inspect beaver hides which were displayed by Miss Lounette Barber of the State Wildlife Commission, third from left, when she gave lectures in wildlife at the local high and elementary schools

Tuesday. Students making the inspections are, left to right: Tenny Warren, Shelton Best, Miss Barber and Joyce Daughtry. The lectures were sponsored by the Mount Olive Garden club.—Staff Photo by Gordon Williams.

Slides Are Shown for Club Folks

Outlaw's Bridge Community club met Saturday night in the church annex with Theodore Outlaw, vice-president, presiding.

He called the meeting to order by having the group sing "America." Mrs. B. F. Outlaw led the devotional. Cleo Outlaw, program chairman, presented two Mormon Elders, who talked and showed slides on the historical background of Mormons and Salt Lake City, Utah.

After the program, officers for the coming year were elected. They are as follows: B. F. Outlaw, president; Theodore Outlaw, vice president; Mrs. M. L. Outlaw, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Henry Parker, chaplain.

Next club meeting will be held March 20.

Duplin Hail Rates Will be Increased

Duplinites will pay more for hail insurance on tobacco, while Sampsonians will have a slight reduction in their insurance rates, according to a proposal made by the North Carolina Fire Insurance Rating Bureau.

In Duplin county, those taking out hail insurance on their tobacco will pay rates of $5.50 instead of $4.50, while in Sampson, rates will be reduced from $5 to $4.50.

Local Student at College Honored

Rosemond Farah, a senior, has maintained a scholastic average of "B" or better for the past semester at Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, and because of this has been granted special absence privileges for the current semester. She is the daughter of Mrs. Abbe Farah of Mount Olive.

In 1950, some 58.9 per cent of North Carolina farm families owned their own homes.

Lost Cap When Plane Was Shot Down; To Get It Back

Heart Attack Is Fatal for Faison Man

Funeral services for William Mason Baugham, 51, who died of a heart attack at his home in Faison Wednesday morning, were held yesterday from the Faison Presbyterian church with the Rev. Taylor O. Bird, his pastor, officiating. Interment was in the Faison cemetery.

Mr. Baugham was the son of the late Mrs. Willie Smallwood and W. R. Baugham of Northampton county.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lucille Bowden Baugham; one daughter, Miss Mary Baugham of Faison and Kings College, Bristol, Tenn.; one sister, Mrs. L. E. Lanier of Lexington; one brother, George E. Baugham of Norfolk, Va.

Scout Badge For Sutton

E. B. Sutton, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Sutton, of Calypso, was awarded the tenderfoot badge in scouting Sunday morning at the Calypso Presbyterian church.

The tenderfoot badge is the first award in scouting and was presented by H. B. Kornegay, Jr., at the Sunday school hour. Kornegay received the God and Country pin the highest award in scouting, several years ago.

Panthers Conclude Season Here, 7:30

Mount Olive high school basketball teams wind up their season tonight in games played here against New Hope.

A win is needed by the Mount Olive boys if they hope to retain possession of fifth place in conference standings, while the local sextet must win if they are to come through the season with a victory. To date, the Mount Olive girls have not won in 17 contests. The boys' record is seven wins, ten defeats.

Other games on tap as Wayne conference concludes its season are as follows: Grantham at Seven Springs, Rosewood at Brogden, Nahunta at Eureka and Fremont at Pikeville.

Mrs. Herring Buried On Wednesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Seydelle Garner Herring of near Mount Olive were held Wednesday afternoon from the Hopewell Baptist church with the Rev. Clarence Biggs, of Goldsboro, pastor of the church, officiating. Interment was in the family cemetery near the home.

Mrs. Herring, 48, died early Tuesday morning at her home in the Indian Springs community.

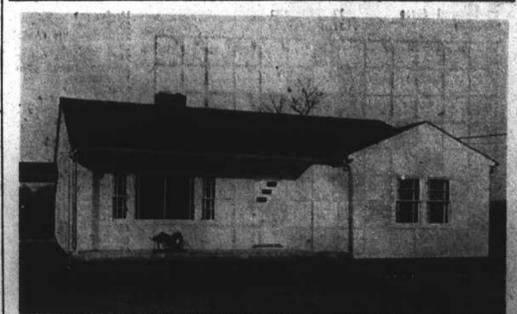

Surviving are her husband, Johnny Herring; two daughters, Mrs. Thirl Best of Faison and Mrs. John Heath of Deep Run; two sons, Marvin and Morris of the home; and two grandchildren.

Seven Springs is Winner, 2 Games

Seven Springs went ahead in the third period Tuesday night to edge out Mount Olive boys, 49-46, while the girls had little trouble in whipping Mount Olive's sextet, 84-60, in games played in the local community gym.

The Thunderbolts jumped to an early lead, but this was cut down by Mount Olive boys, who commanded a 22-21 halftime lead. In the third stanza, Seven Springs went out in front, and were never headed in tying the Panthers for fifth place in the conference.

For the Mount Olive girls, Bobby Lee dropped in 29 points, while Mary Wolf had 19. Margaret Grant led the winners with 46. Emma Sanderson had 12 for Seven Springs.

NEW HOME—Among the new homes recently erected in Mount Olive is this one belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Milford Jackson on East College Street.—Staff photo.

DOUBLE SET OF TWINS—Donald and Ronald Lindsay, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lindsay of route 3, hold the twin calves that were born on their farm on their birthday, February 19. The twins are not identical. Donald has black hair and is holding the black calf, while Ronald has red hair and is holding the red calf.—Staff Photo