FARMERS — ENTER NEW "FINER FARMS" CONTEST
$2,800 cash prizes for soil conservation efforts
Nine prizes for individual farms—three size groups
 Here's what to do: (1) start one new conservation practice on your farm, or enlarge a present one (2) fill out a simple entry blank, available from a Soil Conservation Supervisor or at the nearby CP&L office (3) use soil-conserving methods of farming during 1954 so your farm will rate high when the Soil Conservation Supervisors select the best farms in the county.
 To the farmers who do the best conservation jobs in 1954, prizes will be awarded in three acreage classifications:

| Prize | Total Acres in Farm | | |
|--------|---------------------|---------------|----------------|
| | under 100 acres | 100-400 acres | over 400 acres |
| First | $300 | $300 | $300 |
| Second | 200 | 200 | 200 |
| Third | 100 | 100 | 100 |

Also, you can help your county soil conservation organization win one of these six prizes:
 To counties with greatest number of acres entered $250, $150, $100
 To counties with greatest per cent of its total farms entered $250, $150, $100

Conserving the topsoil on your farm is important to successful, profitable farming. Your crops will be bigger, of better quality and will bring in more money if you use soil conservation methods in your farming. A Soil Conservation Supervisor in your county can show you neighboring farms where records will prove these statements.
 We at CP&L are interested in soil conservation because our future is wrapped up in the future of the area we serve. In this 60-county area of North and South Carolina, every farmer is urged to enter. He is eligible whether electricity is served retail to him by CP&L or not.
 Get your entry blank from one of the Soil Conservation Supervisors in your county or at the nearby CP&L office before April 1, 1954. You can't lose in this contest whether or not you win a cash prize. Enter now!
