By CALVIN PORTER

The blanket of snow, which fell here Wednesday gave Mount Olive students a reprieve on their examinations. Many here hope the snow and cold weather, however, won't cool off the Panthers and Fantherettes who have been "red hot" on the basketball courts recently.

The Panthers won their second game in a row Tuesday night, after having dropped their first seven, and the Pantherettes also won their second game this season, giving them a record of two wins against seven defeats. This is about the best record the Pantherettes have had in the past three seasons.

Tonight and Tuesday the Mount Olive basketball teams will be idle because of exams. The big question remains to be answered. Will the long lay-off hurt the locals' playing when they return to the court here next Friday?

By losing to B. F. Grady Tuesday night, the Calypso lassies have fallen from first place in the Duplin conference standings. Usually once a team falls from top spot it never recovers. If Calypso misses a championship this year, fans there might find some comfort in that next fall should be brighter, and, of course, the same holds true with Faison.

The two schools are to be consolidated by then, if present plans are carried out. Although both schools will lose a few of their stars, the consolidation should produce a team second to none in Duplin County.

Of course, it is long-range thinking, but maybe after the schools are consolidated and adjusted to the merger, the Calypso-Faison High could put a football team on the field.

John Burch, the cage coach at Carver, has been saying spectators don't turn out to Friday night con-

SNOW BATTLES—No snow is complete without a snow battle, and typical of this tradition is the above photo showing a group of Mount Olive youngsters engaged in such a battle. tests held here. To prove his point, he recently scheduled a Friday night contest.

The results proved him to be correct. Only about half as many people attended the game as they do on Tuesday nights. But the gym is packed for the Tuesday night contests, which would indicate the Tigers are receiving sufficient support to back a six-man football team next fall.

From the way boys were loosening up with snow balls Wednesday

Panther Coach Dave McClenny can look forward to having a lot of pitching candidates for his baseball team come spring. But if the boys are as wild with baseballs as they were with the snowballs, they won't help the diamond crew one bit on the mound.
