

Summer Softball Season Comes to End Thursday Night with Tight Race Seen

A battle to the wire has developed in the city's softball league, which finishes its regular season Thursday night with the playing of games rained out last week.

The National Guard and the Presbyterians, loop winners last year, go into the final week tied for first place in the standings, with identical records of seven wins, two losses. But the picture could change with the Methodists moving in to throw the league leadership into a three-way tie.

Except for the Methodists, other teams have been eliminated from contention.

The schedule this week calls for the Methodists to meet the Guard tonight and Stanford Thursday. If the Methodists take both of their games, and the Presbyterians lose to the Chubs Thursday night, the league will close its regular season with three clubs in first place.

Should either the Guard or the Presbyterians win while the other team loses, the club coming out on top in the game also will come out on top in the final standings.

On conclusion of the regular season, a play-off will begin. Dave McClenny, director of the league, said the first rounds will have the third place club playing the fifth place team, and the fourth place club meeting the sixth place team.

The loop winner will meet the winner of the third and fifth place contest, while the runner-up will meet the winner of the game between the fourth and sixth place clubs. Winners of the second series will meet for the play-off championship.

Presbyterians Beat Stanford In City's Softball Program

The Mount Olive Presbyterians, after scoring six runs in the initial frame, had to wait until the last inning to score their deciding run in turning back a luckless Stanford softball club 10-9 Friday night. In the first game home run by Jimmy Deavers and Oscar Lambert enabled the National Guard to roll to an easy 10-4 win over the Baptist Jacks.

Singles by Morris Barwick and Billy Godwin, coupled with two errors, gave the Presbyterians their winning run in the bottom of the seventh.

The Stanford club went to bat first and in the opening frame plated five runs, with a two-run homer by Robert Pate highlighting the uprising. The Presbyterians, however, came back in their half of the inning to take the lead by scoring six times, mostly, on walks.

Singles by Barwick, Paul Crumpler, Deavers, and Prentice Brock gave the winners three more runs in the fourth. Stanford picked up a run in the third on Dick Kornegay's double and an error and a double by C. D. Pate set the stage for two runs in the fifth. An error and a walk in the seventh gave the losers their final run.

Barwick, with three singles, was the leading Presbyterian batsman, while C. D. Pate, with two singles and a double, led Stanford at the plate. Paul Crumpler was the winning pitcher, while C. D. Pate was charged with the loss.

Deavers, a former Mount Olive High star athlete, who is home on furlough before reporting for overseas duty with the Air Force, was given permission to play with both the Guard and the Presbyterian clubs. He started the Guard on the road to victory with a circuit cut as the first batter up, and aided the winners' cause with two singles later in the game.

After adding another run on Billy Stevens' double in the second, the Guardsmen cut loose for three tallies in the third, with Lambert's homer featuring the rally. Four more runs were scored in the fourth on Jiggs Harris' double and singles by Deavers, Kenneth Best and Jack Williams. The Guard finished its scoring in the fifth when two errors allowed a Guardsman to score.

Sermonette

By G. A. HOWELL

Recently, our nation commemorated a day which stands out in the history of the United States—Independence Day. We are proud of this day because of the rights and privileges which were given every individual when the Declaration of Independence was signed in 1776. It was on this day that our nation won freedom from our mother country and freedom of speech, worship, and press. This was a great day because it gave us these liberties, but there is an even greater day than that of Independence—the day that Christ died to liberate us from the bondage of sin.

In the beginning, God created man perfect, but man fell and, therefore, was doomed for hell. He needed a Redeemer to redeem him from sin and bring him back to God. It was for this reason that Jesus Christ, the Son of God, came to this world to die for man. Jesus came "to seek and to save that which was lost" and "that we might have life and that we might have it more abundantly." He was not forced to give up His life, but He freely laid it down for us at Calvary.

Since Christ died at Calvary, it has come to hold a dear spot in the hearts of the Christians. We love Calvary because we know that there is only one way Home and that is by Calvary through the cross. We love this place because it is here that we find eternal life.

Today, if you are carrying the burden of sin, all you need to do is come to Jesus and He will free you because He is our Burden-Bearer. There is perfect freedom in Jesus because "he whom the Son makes free is free indeed," John 8:36.

Calvary is the place to find forgiveness of sins and peace of mind which is for all people—because it is not God's will that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance. Therefore, today, let's make use of the benefits of Calvary.

Tribune Midget Team Wins Two Games In Week's Play

The Tribune midget baseball team won two in a row last week, knocking the Legion from the unbeaten ranks with a 5-4 victory Thursday and defeating the Rotary 6-2 Friday afternoon.

The newspaper boys came from behind in the last inning to eke out the victory Thursday. Going into the bottom of the sixth trailing 4-2, the Tribune scored three runs on Larry Crowder's long single. Crowder's blow would have gone for a grand-slam homer, but the young pitcher was called out for failing to touch second base.

Elwood Goodson, first batter up for the Tribune in the sixth, doubled. Doyle Whitfield reached base on a fielder's choice and Byrd walked to load the bases. Crowder then cleared the bases with his long single.

The Tribune's other tallies came in the fourth on successive singles by Jimmy Merritt, Kenneth Waters and Crowder.

The Legion club scored once in the first and fourth frames, and in the sixth plated two runs on back-to-back homers by Jimmy Wood and Lindsay, the losing pitcher.

In Friday's contest, the Tribune used three pitchers in turning back the third place Rotarians. Jimmy Merritt started, but gave way to Crowder after the Rotarians had scored and placed men on base in the fourth. Crowder came in and retired the side. Doyle Whitfield pitched the final inning for the newspaper, retiring the side on strikeouts. Merritt was the winning hurler.

L. B. Brewer, who pitched for the losers, led his club at bat with two singles in three official times at bat. L. Taylor got the only other Rotary hit.
