Business, Professional Women Met Thursday With Mrs. Parker

The Mount Olive Business and Professional Woman's club met Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Louis Parker with Miss Margaret Martin and Mrs. Helen Caviness hostesses.

The radio and television committee had charge of the program. Mrs. Jessie Rose Waller, chairman of the committee, introduced Harry Lee Cobbs, who spoke on the mechanics of television and discussed how the television companies are developing color TV.

During the business session, the club went on record as being in favor of the project the Rotary club is sponsoring for safety equipment at the railroad crossings on Center street. Miss Martin gave a report on the district meeting held in Farmville.

The hostesses served ice cream and cake. The Halloween theme was carried out in the colors of the decorations.

The November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Dail.

Adelphian Club of Calypso in Meeting

Mrs. W. H. Hurdle was hostess to the Adelphian club at her home in Calypso on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Edward Lewis, Welfare chairman, was in charge of the program and had as guest speaker, Mrs. Luby Bell of Mount Olive. She spoke on Civil Defense and told of the work Mount Olive citizens are doing in spotting and reporting planes. She said, "It is a wonderful feeling of satisfaction one gets in doing this work. They know they are not only helping themselves, but helping others."

Mrs. E. F. McColman and Mrs. T. H. Latham of Faison were guests of the club, and Mrs. McColman told of her trip to the State Club Women's convention in Greensboro. She also rendered several piano selections.

Children's clothing was brought by the members to be given to a needy family.

Other guests present were Mrs. S. D. Davis, Jr., and Mrs. Thomas Albritton, both of Calypso.

Punch, cookies, cheese leaves, acorn mints and nuts were served by the hostess, with Mrs. R. L. Cox of Mount Olive pouring punch.

Notice for Garden Club Members Here

Mrs. Luby Bell of the Mount Olive Garden club announced this week that members of either the Mount Olive or Green Thumb clubs who wish to attend the district meeting in Bladenboro Friday but who have not made reservations can attend and be assured of eating accommodations.

Registration will be held in Bladenboro Friday morning from 9:30 to 10:30 and Mrs. Bell urges as many members as possible from the two clubs to attend.

Baptist Girls' Auxiliary Coronation Service Is Held Here

Since the beginning of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Southern Baptist Convention one of its aims has been the Missionary Education of its young people.

On Sunday evening, October 16, in the First Baptist church of Mount Olive, a Girl's Auxiliary Coronation Service was held.

This is an annual event, at which time the girls are recognized for the work they have done for the past year.

The "forward steps" in Girls Auxiliary gives the young people an opportunity to advance individually and receive merited recognition. There are selected scripture passages to learn, mission facts and denomination information to know and there is handwork, notebook work, maps, charts, original poems and 500 word papers to be written by those working on the higher steps. All of their work must be original and is sent to the state headquarters for checking and grading.

The following program was presented: Mrs. R. R. Hines was organist for the evening. Mrs. Robert Martin and Mrs. Cletus Brock, counselors for the Junior and Intermediate G.A.'s, presided. Mrs. Raymond Blanchard, associational young people's leader, and Mrs. H. J. Skipper, local young people's leader, participated in the service. The dedicatory charges were given by the pastor, Rev. T. W. Williams. Immediately following the presentation of tithes and offerings, the Presentation of the Court began as follows:

Maiden, Helen Dail; Ladies-in-waiting, Beverly Scarborough, Florence C. Wilson, Elizabeth Herring, Linda Murray, Ellen Tillman, Doris Ann Sloan; Queens, Mary Emma Brock, Pat Ennis, Laura Ann Miller, Dorothy Wood; Queens With Scepter, Evelyn Cook, Joyce Garner, Billie Carol McPhail, Emma Kay Hines, Johnny Faye Broadhurst; Queen Regents, Linda Skipper, Kay Herring, Rebecca Oliver, Carole Brock; Queens in Service, Virginia Martin and Starkey Cherry.

The program ended with the recessional following the singing of "All Hail The Power of Jesus' Name" by the congregation. Immediately following the program the Woman's Missionary Society entertained at a reception at the parsonage honoring the girls, to which the congregation was invited.

Flower girls and bearers participating in the services were Harriet Ann Upchurch, Bill Southernland, Pamela Phillips, A. C. White, Jackie Tillman, Louis Thompson, Alma Lee Wood, Hain Ficken, Sharon Parker, Douglas Guy, Norma Ann Cameron, Clyde R. Reaves, Billie Carole Cobb, Dan McPhail, Eysel Franklin, Reggie Hines, Linda Grice, Tommy Dawkins, Angela Wright, Alan Stevens, Karen McClenny, Glenwood Kornegay, Jane Shackelford, Tommy Williams, Peggy Brock, Clayton Brock, Mary Jo Bundy and Jamie Lee.

20th Century Club Met Wednesday with Mrs. Robert Holmes

The Mount Olive Twentieth Century club held its first meeting of the 1955-56 club year Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Robert Holmes with Mrs. Lillie Holmes and Mrs. J. A. Batson assisting hostesses.

Mrs. E. J. Pope, Sr., president, welcomed members and guests, the latter including Mrs. W. C. Steele of New York, a charter member of the club. Mrs. C. W. Oliver gave the devotional, reading from her grandmother's Episcopal prayer book.

Mrs. W. E. Lewis, assisted by Mrs. L. N. Ipock, gave out the year books and outlined the program for the year. Mrs. J. F. Oliver gave the program on "Personalities from the World of Women." She discussed the life of Ethel Barrymore. The hostesses served a dessert course, sandwiches and coffee. Flower arrangements entranced the Holmes' home.

The November meeting will be held with Mrs. R. J. Southernland. Mrs. Steele and officers were given camellias from the Holmes' garden. Officers are: Mrs. Pope, president; Mrs. R. B. Warren, vice-president; Mrs. S. M. Davis, secretary; Mrs. M. S. Porter, assistant secretary; Mrs. W. E. Lewis, program chairman; Mrs. L. N. Ipock, assistant secretary; Mrs. J. D. Brandon, treasurer; Mrs. Lillie Holmes, assistant treasurer, and Mrs. Z. D. Cox, book custodian.
