As usual, soft colors will be very important for spring. For those who can afford them, little furs in new blond and creamy colors will be smart. There are several new colors in mink, chinchilla and, ever popular, muskrat.

Fur trim on pastel colored coats will be the same tone as the pink, blue or yellow coat it adorns. Jewels will be used for trim on both afternoon and evening dresses. Rich, heavy lace will be another outstanding trim.

High-domed rings and larger-than-ever earrings will be worn for cocktail and evening occasions. The many strands of beads, so popular for the past couple of seasons, will look dated. Jeweled hair ornaments worn in the most unexpected places in the hair will be a common sight — so the style-setters say.

The small hat will be worn as far forward on the head as gravity will allow. Flower trim, as always, for the spring, will be the most outstanding. Velvet will be vying with straw for the most often used material for spring hats.

Embroidery will be used for trim on linen and cotton and as an all-over pattern. Batiste, patterned with embroidered carnations and sewn with dewy crystal beading, will make one of the most outstanding formal gowns of the coming season.

Modern Etiquette

Q—Isn't it all right to send a typewritten letter of condolence, signing it of course by hand?

A—While it is acceptable now to type most social letters, it still is considered more proper to write the letter of condolence by hand—this seeming to indicate more personal and more sincere warmth.

Q—Is it considered proper to use the spoon to test the temperature of the coffee at the table?

A—Yes, this is all right. But after that one little "taste-test" the spoon should be placed in the saucer and left there.

Q—What apology should one offer if one accidentally brushes against another person on the street, or in some public conveyance?

A—"I am sorry," or "I beg your pardon."

Q—What is one supposed to say to the bride and bridegroom at the wedding reception, also what do you say to their parents?

A—You wish the bride all happiness, congratulate the bridegroom, tell the bride's parents how lovely the bride is, and tell the bridegroom's parents what a charming couple they make.

Q—Some men merely touch the brim of their hats when greeting women on the street. Is this considered all right?

A—No; this is unmannerly and lazy. The hat should be lifted slightly from the head.

Q—Please suggest some light refreshments that can be served at a small wedding reception.

A—Cake, with coffee, tea or punch. Sandwiches and ices can be included if desired.

Q—I was widowed several months ago, and a friend has told me I am supposed either to discard my wedding ring or wear it on my right hand. What is correct?

A—You certainly do not have to do either of these! You may continue to wear your wedding ring for as long as you wish!

Q—What is the proper way to use a finger bowl at the dinner table?

A—Dip the ends of the fingers of one hand at a time, not both together, into the water. Then dry them with the napkin on the lap.

Q—Is it all right for a young man to accept a cigarette offered to him by a girl?

A—This is quite all right.

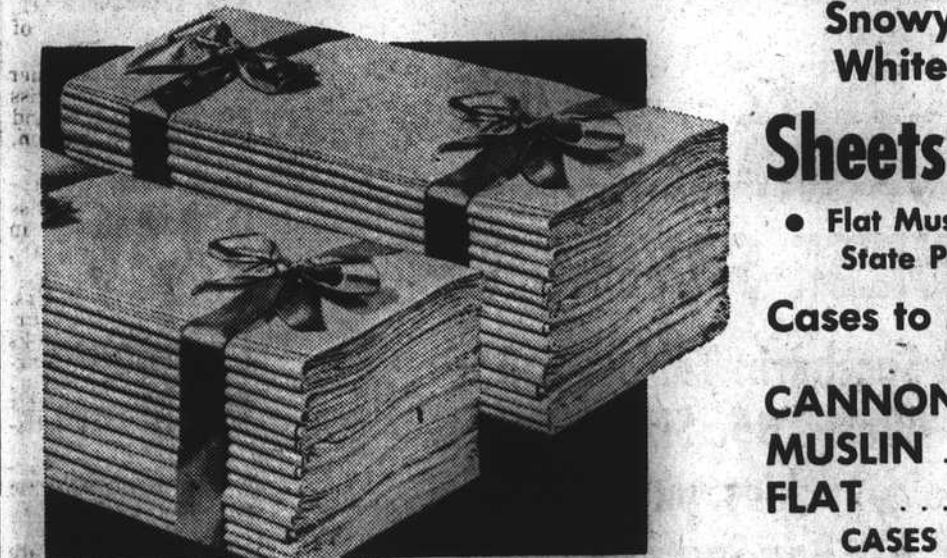

Q—Is it permissible to lean across one person to shake hands with a third?

A—It is usually better to avoid this, if you can. But if the other person seems bent on shaking hands with you, be sure to beg the pardon of the person across whom you reach.
