THURSDAY, AUGUST 22.

THE WAR SITUATION.

Brief Statements.

The French and English are driving the Germans back; they have shortened the battleline 50 miles, have captured 100,000 prisoners since July 18, and more materials than were used in the Civil war, perhaps, and it looks like the German retreat will become a rout.

Circumstances develop the characters of people. If a man or woman proves to be different from what you thought he or she was, they just hadn't had a prior opportunity of revealing their true characters.

Somebody said this 7 o'clock call to prayer every evening was suggested by the Pope at Rome. That makes no difference if we are sincere in our prayers the Lord will hear and answer us. He says he will put we solemnly doubt any of us being specially recognized because we belong to some certain denomination.

The German people are having an awfully hard time to exist now. They have but little food, and they wear paper clothing. They must be a very resourceful people, but they are nearing the length of their tether.

Their rulers must answer for the sin of deluging the world in human blood, and the whole German nation and their allies are "accessories before the fact"
