

PAINS NEARLY DOUBLED ME UP

Nothing Helped Me Until I Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Wyandotte, Mich.—“For the last four years I have doctored off and on without help. I have had pains every month so bad that I would nearly double up. Sometimes I could not sweep a room without stopping to rest, and everything I ate upset my stomach. Three years ago I lost a child and suffered so badly that I was out of my head at times. My bowels did not move for days and I could not eat without suffering. The doctor could not help me and one day I told my husband that I could not stand the pain any longer and sent him to the drug-store to get me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and threw the doctor's medicine away. After taking three bottles of Vegetable Compound and using two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Sensitive Wash I could do my own housework. If it had not been for your medicine I don't know where I would be today and I am never without a bottle of it in the house. You may publish this if you like that it may help some other woman.” Mrs. M. R. STENZEL, 120 Orange St., Wyandotte, Mich.

PEACE RESOLUTION VETOED BY WILSON

WOULD “PLACE INEFFACEABLE STAIN ON OUR GALLANTRY AND HONOR”

OMISSIONS IN RESOLUTION

In Rejecting the Treaty We Put the World on Notice That We Would Prefer to Play a Lone Hand

Washington.—The Republican peace resolution was vetoed by President Wilson.

Such a method of making peace with Germany, the president said, would “place an ineffaceable stain upon the gallantry and honor of the United States.”

Without announcing his intention regarding the treaty of Versailles, the president declared that the treaty embodied the important things omitted by the resolution and said that by rejecting the treaty the United States had declared in effect that it wished “to draw apart and pursue objects and interests of our own.”

“Such a peace with Germany,” the message continued, “a peace in which none of the essential interests which we had at heart when we entered the war is safeguarded—is, or ought to be, inconceivable, is inconsistent with the dignity of the United States with the rights and liberties of her citizens and with the very fundamental conditions of civilization.”

The president added that the peace resolution omitted mention of many important objects for the vindication of which the United States entered the war.

Expenditure of at least $600,000,000 for new equipment for the nation's transportation system was advocated by Mr. Markham. For the southern railroads, Mr. Markham asked an increase in freight rates to enable the carriers to earn $136,049,091 annually which, he claimed, would represent a return of six per cent on the aggregate value of those carriers.

M. Deschanel, upon his arrival here, received first medical attention some two or three hours after the accident. Physicians found he had suffered no injuries sufficient to cause anxiety, although he was bruised and lacerated.

In telling of his experiences after his fall, President Deschanel said he found that he had been greatly shaken up and was bleeding from some of his injuries. He satisfied himself, however, that no bones had been broken, and then followed painfully after the train on foot until he met the workman. The president, who had retired sometime before the accident occurred, was attired only in his pajamas, and was barefooted and bareheaded.
