

Locals

Mr. Grady Leach tells us that bugs are dying with the cholera around Bethel.

Mr. Neill McGill has returned from St. Luke's hospital in Richmond, Va., and is doing well.

We are told that something like thirty dogs have been killed in this town within two months by poison.

Hoke Highland Co. are after your business. They have a page ad. this week, in which they set forth certain salient facts concerning their line of fall goods.

Rev. H. N. McDiarmid has accepted a call to the Kinston Presbyterian church effective September 1. Mr. McDiarmid has been preaching in Rocky Mount since he graduated from Hampden Sidney Seminary five or six years ago.

The local ball team disbanded last Friday. Hoke Floyd and Vance McMillan went to their homes in Fairmont and Parkton, respectively. These are splendid young men, and good ball players—Floyd being the leading hitter in the Pee Dee League.

After a month's rest Mr. A. K. Stevens is back at his post at McLauchlin Co. opening up his stock of clothing, in which he is much better stocked than since before the World war, and he is happy in anticipation of a large trade during the fall season.

Raeford defeated Lumberton 4 to 3 in a ball game played here last Thursday afternoon, notwithstanding the fact they had six Scotland Neck East Carolina League players in their line up, and some of the locals played about their poorest of the season. Make McKeithan, who pitched for Raeford, was entitled to a shut out had his team mates played in usual form.

Mrs. J. W. Howell and children, of Lumberton, are visiting relatives in town.

The Aberdeen tobacco market opens Sept. 21st, as you will see by reference to a page ad. in this issue of The Journal. Last season farmers received much better prices for their tobacco on the Aberdeen market than any other on which they sold, and you see what the warehousemen promise for this season.
