

HOKE COUNTY JOURNAL
LOCAL ITEMS.

No, we didn't have snow, but we had a lot of cold rain.

The low price of cotton has stopped the real estate business.

Judge Horton will hold our next term of court. We read he is only 26 years old.

We have not heard of a deer, in fact nothing worth while, being killed this season.

The Journal has been wrong; Superior court convene Nov. 29, Monday after Thanksgiving.

The hobbyhorses are in town, and running at a loss, still they are here, if that's comforting.

If you get real mad at a fellow, tell him to go to Hamlet; we don't know of anything more tantalizing.

Yesterday, Nov. 17, Mr. Harry Skipper brought us a limb off a peach tree with open bloom on it, which unusually late or early one or the other.

The mistake was made when the Raeford team agreed to play a game with Hamlet at Hamlet. Gee whiz! We remember a base ball game here with a team from that town once.

Mrs. W. C. Currie entertained the Raeford graded school teachers at supper Tuesday evening, making it a most delightful occasion for the hardworked instructors of the city.

Mr. Albert Wilson left Monday night for California where he will make his future home. It is a serious loss to the State for such young men as Mr. Wilson to leave it, and we feel the loss keenly.

FOR SALE—A young Jersey cow, fresh, kind and gentle.
A. P. DICKSON.

Yes, we ought to observe Thanksgiving.

The Red Cross drive is now being made in the county.

The opening of the schools is delayed to gather cotton.

And the Democrats by scores are working to get Marion Butler into Harding's cabinet, and he's been dead 20 years!

There is little change in the price of compound lard, largely made of cotton seed oil. To our mind, a manufacturer thinks he is entitled to a good margin of profit; but the producers of crude materials get no further consideration than the right to eke out a bare existence.

Electric light bulbs 32 and 110 volts, 25, 40, 60 and 100 candle power.

WE will have a carload of fresh Mountain Apples for sale on the siding in Raeford Saturday at retail, 55c a peck.
O. C. SUGG

When it comes, cotton sells in Raeford for 12 to 18 cents.

Being poor inconveniences us quite a good deal. We cannot have things we would enjoy. But being poor and acting rich is what gets us into trouble.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that application will be made to the Governor of North Carolina for the pardon of J. A. Cameron who was convicted of 2nd degree murder at the August term Hoke Superior court, 1913.
MRS. J. A. CAMERON.
