

HOKE COUNTY JOURNAL

VOL. XVI NO. 36.

RAEFORD, NORTH CAROLINA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1920.

$2.00 Per Year.

Mothers' Club Meeting.

The Mothers' Club will meet next Tuesday, Nov. 30th, with Mrs. Wm. Lamont at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Hoke County Cotton.

There were 10,815 bales of cotton ginned up to November 8th of 1920, as compared with 11,998 to the same date in 1919. Ten counties in the State are ahead of Hoke in the number of bales ginned up to Nov. 8th.

Flora MacDonald College Notes.

(Communicated)
Miss Mary Poole of Raeford contributed a well-written article "A Group of Hoosier Writers" to the November issue of "Pine and Thistle," the magazine published by the students of Flora MacDonald. Miss Poole is secretary of the Senior Class and president of the Zetesian Literary Society.

On Monday night, November 22nd, John Temple Graves, editor of the Atlanta Constitution and one of the most distinguished orators in the South will speak in the auditorium of Flora MacDonald College.

The Election.

This paper has carefully refrained from taking any part in the recent National campaign. We have steadfastly tried to render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's. We gave Caesar one vote at a private and we expressed our views on the subject as we could.

As a paper of the church, however, we abstained from any political deliverances, though our hope was for the success of the only party that has ever been a friend to the South. The election is now over, and the Democratic party has been overwhelmingly buried for the time being. It will do no good to explain why, nor to indulge in complaints about the spirit of sectionalism that was aroused to turn the North and West against the South.

The Lord rules in the affairs of men, and His plans are always wiser than ours. The South has a great country, and we have a great people. Let us now turn from political affairs to increasing our production, both in manufactures and agriculture. Time will vindicate the present administration, and possibly prove to the masses in the North and West that we are as loyal as any people.

As a church let us push forward our own work along the lines of education, home and foreign missions, remembering that the Lord's work is far more important than that of Caesar.—Presbyterian Standard.

McLeod-Currie.

Fayetteville, Nov. 20—The following invitations have been issued:

"Mrs. John Henry Currie requests the honor of your presence at the marriage of her daughter, Lucy Worth, to Rev. Randall Alexander McLeod, on Wednesday, December 1st, nineteen hundred and twenty at three o'clock, Galatia Presbyterian church, Fayetteville, North Carolina."

FOR SALE—One saw mill, boiler and engine, one pair mules D. J. RAY, Rockfish, N. C.

Clippings From The Laurinburg Exchange.

Mr. Ralph Emmett Gibson Dies.

Mr. Ralph Emmett Gibson, prominent young business man of Laurinburg, died Tuesday morning, November 16, at 5 o'clock at his home about two miles south of Laurinburg. News of the young man's almost sudden death reached Laurinburg soon afterward and the community caught its breath for a moment, scarcely being able to realize the sad fact that one of its noble and highly esteemed young men had set out on the Great Adventure.

Mrs. Mary McKinnon Dies.

Mrs. Mary McKinnon, one of the county's noble and beloved women, died Sunday morning at 6:30, November 14, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Angus Fairly, following an illness that extended over a period of several months and which in recent weeks had been serious. News of her death, though not unexpected, was a shock to her many friends and kinspeople here and elsewhere.

Mr. R. S. Overby Dies.

Mr. R. S. Overby of Laurinburg died at the James Hospital at Hamlet Thursday morning, November 18, about two o'clock. Mr. Overby had been ailing for several days, suffering with a deep cold and complications. He was carried to the hospital Wednesday morning in order that he might have the best medical attention and nursing.

Child Burned to Death.

The only son of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan B. Monroe, aged three and half, died last Saturday from burns received Friday night, when his clothing caught from the fire in an open fireplace.

We sympathize with the parents in their very great trouble. These good people live in Lumber Bridge, but have numbers of relatives and friends in this town and county.

A Birthday Party.

(Communicated)
Little Miss Lillian Yeomans entertained 56 of her friends at a party given on her 12th birthday, Nov. 8.

Prof. Patton, superintendent, and Misses Kincanon and Raney, teachers in 5th and 6th grades, were among the guests.

Games were enjoyed, after which, as a sequel to the evening's pleasures, delightful refreshments were served.

Death of a Little Child.

Beulah, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John K. McNeill, died Monday morning after an illness of ten days of pneumonia, at the home of her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Lentz, two miles south town.

The funeral was conducted from the residence of Mr. Lentz by Rev. W. C. Brown Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and interment was made in Raeford cemetery at 3 o'clock.

We sympathize with the parents and other relatives in their sad bereavement. During that short life the little child so endeared herself to her loved ones that her memory will ever be sacred and sweet; and doubtless her little arms will ever be beckoning upward, homeward.

Mr. Percy Howell found a car not where he left his, Saturday night. His tank was full of gas, but he ran it in and locked it. Sunday two strange men drove Mr. Howell's car in, and claimed it was an accident. But they had lost the license and the tank was empty, so they paid $25 and re-exchanged.

The Misses Austin Entertain.

(Communicated)
On Thursday night, Nov. 18, Misses Myrtle and Myrtle Austin entertained the senior B. Y. P. U. of the First Baptist church.

The home was beautifully decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and ferns.

Delightful games were played. Miss Lela Watson receiving the highest score was presented with a lovely box of stationery.

Following this delightful refreshments were served, while the Victrola played. About fifteen guests left with many joyous words of appreciation for the delightful evening's entertainment.
