

THAT COUGH IS ONE CAUSE FOR ALARM

Get Rid of It by Taking Cheney's Before it Turns into Something Worse

Does that hacking cough worry you because it hangs on so? Really it is a cause for worry, for if you don't get rid of it you may find yourself the victim of a far more serious malady.

Suppose you go to the drug store and get a bottle of Cheney's Expectorant and begin taking a teaspoonful every two hours.

More than 250,000 deaths and over 4,500,000 cases of serious illness annually are ascribed by Federal and State health reports to needless unsanitary conditions.

Yet wholly sanitary conditions may be brought about in the country just as quickly and easily as in the city.

Septic tanks, privy vaults, protection for domestic water supplies, anti-proof outbuildings—all of these can be provided for a little cost and a little work by any man.

China's new constitution, by a special "drafting committee" of parliament and promulgated simultaneously with President Tsai Kuid's inauguration, will end the iniquitous tuchun system of government, if its provisions can be enforced.

General Jan C. Smuts, prime minister of South Africa, wants the United States and Great Britain to go ahead with the proposed reparations inquiry regardless of France's attitude. In an open letter published in the London Times he again urged Great Britain to co-operate with the United States in calling the conference.

Washington—

Although the door still is open for American helpfulness in the reparations problem, President Coolidge regards the latest move in that direction as having come definitely to an end.

The cell doors of the District of Columbia jail swung open for an hour recently—long enough for Miss Gladia Peyton, 19-year-old prisoner, to march to the altar and become the bride of Frederick Ewers.

Alumni reunions and dinners enlivened the program of sectional meetings and other activities of the delegates attending the annual convention of the Southern Medical association at Washington.

Meeting at Washington at the call of Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, heads of sixteen railroad labor organizations took up for discussion legislative proposals for which they may ask consideration at the coming session of congress.

President Coolidge probably will deliver in person his message to congress when it convenes next month. He considers it wise to continue the custom, revived by President Wilson and continued by President Harding, although he is inclined to be guided largely by the desires of congress.

Exclusion from the United States of all aliens ineligible to citizenship will be urged as a provision of the immigration legislation to be considered by congress at its coming session by senators and representatives from a number of western states.

Margin trading in stocks, bonds, grain and cotton would be prohibited by a bill which Senator King, Democrat, Utah, is preparing for introduction as soon as congress meets.

Rabbi Simon Glazer, of the Great Synagogue, New York, reiterated his challenge to Dr. H. W. Evans, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan to debate the Klan issue. "I am going to prove the Ku Klux Klan is a 100 per cent un-American, irreligious and barbarous organization," Rabbi Glazer telegraphed Dr. Evans, asking him to be present at the address the rabbi will make before a mass meeting in New York December 30.

Delegates to the Southern Medical association concluded their annual convention in Washington with President Coolidge and the election of officers. At the white house, the formalities of the customary handshake were dispensed with and President Coolidge spoke briefly. He declared the members of the medical profession were rendering "a service that reaches beyond any trade or occupation."

Hog cholera is becoming more prevalent this fall than in any year since the decline of the last extensive outbreak, which reached its height in 1914, the department of agriculture announced. Reports show the disease has appeared recently in communities which have been free from it for 25 years. In many localities it gained considerable headway before hog raisers realized the nature of the trouble.

Domestic—

INSTITUTIONAL IMPROVEMENT BONDS SELL AT GOOD FIGURE.

NEW YORK BANK GETS OFFER

Strong Competition is Offered, Including Some of the State's Financiers.

The state of North Carolina sold $10,649,500 of institutional improvement bonds to the First National bank of New York city and associates, $3,049,500 of the issue bearing an interest rate of 4.50 and $7,600,000 a rate of 4.75.

A competing group of New York financial interests forced close figuring for the bonds, and Governor Morrison and the council of state spent the full day in session before finally awarding the issue to the First National. The other group of bidders was composed of Hallgarten and company, Blair and company, Chase Securities corporation and associates.

Besides, five North Carolina banks and one individual submitted bids for small shares of the issue. The New York financial people bid on the whole issue so that the smaller bidders lost out.

The North Carolina bidders and the amounts wanted were as follows: A. E. Alexander, High Point, $2,000 at 5 per cent; Bank of Reidsville, $5,000 at 5 per cent; Murchison National bank of Wilmington $100,000 at 5 per cent; Carolina Bank and Trust company, of Elizabeth City, $75,000 at 4.50.

The sale was the first at which there was such lively bidding. The First National, represented by its vice president, E. B. Saweezy, and by J. A. Vanlingled, of the J. A. Vanlingled company, bond merchants, submitted four bids, seeking in addition to the institutional bonds five millions of highway bonds. No highway bonds were offered for sale, however.

In opposition to the First National's accepted bid of 4.60 and 4.75, Hallgarten and company and associates, operating through the Raleigh Bank and Trust company, offered a premium of $64,961.95 on the $10,649,500 issue at 4.75 or a $5,325.95 premium for $1,500,000 at 4.50 and $9,149,500 at 4.75. Counting in the millions, however, the difference in interest made the First National's offer the more advantageous for the state, it was figured.

Complete 89 Miles of Road in Month.

All records for the completion of hard surfaced roads under construction in the State were smashed during the month of October when 89.1 miles of road were finished, according to reports made public by the State Highway Commission. The record for September of this year was 83.9 miles of all hard surfaced types completed.

The Public Service Production Co. of New Jersey, at work on approximately $1,000,000 worth of roads in Nash and Beaufort counties turned the longest mileage of finished roads during the month, and the largest estimate of costs that has ever been turned in to the auditors of the commission. This company completed 3.25 miles of concrete road in one month.

The record of the company under the direction of George McNutt, who has recently been placed in charge of their operations in the State September 1 they had been in difficulties that held down production to less than two miles per month. James O. Heyworth, working on the Lumberton-Maxton road stands second in the list for the month.

Impending winter weather will cut down production of finished roads somewhat during the next few months, but Commission Page believes that the mileage will not drop below 50 miles per month during the winter, and an average of upwards of 70 miles during the year. More than 800 miles of road will be finished before the end of 1923.

The statement of completed mileage for the month does not include gravel and other secondary type roads, but the hard surfaced types. Concrete road completed reached 28.7 miles; concrete base, 31.4 miles and miscellaneous, including sand asphalt, penetration macadam and waterbound macadam roads, 3.7 miles.

Since July the work completed each month has been in excess of the amount of new construction let to contract.

New Corporations.

Charters, were filed with the Secretary of State for the following corporations to do business in North Carolina: Dodge U Driven Co. of Asheville, with $15,000 authorized capital and $11,000 subscribed by C. M. Fortune, J. R. Hooks, Jr., and R. O. Wells, of Asheville. Piedmont Bonded Warehouse Corporation of Salisbury, with $100,000 authorized capital and $10,000 subscribed by E. A. Goodman, L. G. Goodman and A. L. Klutz, all of Salisbury.

Staple Crops in N. C. Pass $300,000,000

North Carolina's cotton crop is worth $174,960,000.

North Carolina's tobacco crop is worth $74,970,000.

North Carolina's corn crop is worth $59,108,400.

The three staple crops will bring into the farmers of the State, according to season-average prices on the estimated production, issued by the State Department of Agriculture, an aggregate of $309,638,400, or a sum that will keep the State well within its place four from the top in the value of agricultural products.

The State's superiority in cotton is well known. Following is the survey of the tobacco, corn and wheat crops:

The tobacco crop in North Carolina shows the largest yield since the 1920 crop when it made the largest production in its history. The 357,000,000 pounds is about 25 per cent more than was produced last year and 12 per cent more than the five years average. The yield of 700 pounds per acre is unusually large, as is shown by the 623 pounds per acre average yield for five years. This production is at the expense of quality, although last year's crop averaged 1 per cent less. The price per pound is running below last year's average.

The general practice followed in planting the present crop was to leave it thicker in the row and to top it higher than usual. In fact, many fields were observed in Coastal counties that were not topped at all.

The rank of second in the production of tobacco will be maintained this year. Kentucky holds first rank with a yield of 476,000,000 pounds at an average of 800 pounds per acre, with the quality below last year's.

This State is unusually fortunate in its present corn crop which is the best since 1918, when 63,830,000 bushels were made. The present production of 56,835,000 bushels has an average yield of 22.5 bushels per acre as compared with 20 bushels for the ten-year average. This year's crop is 13 per cent better than last year's, while the average price for November 1st was 16c higher than the 88c average a year ago.

It is of peculiar interest to realize that North Carolina has the largest crop of any Southern State except Tennessee and Texas. Texas being an empire in itself, eliminates competition. Tennessee's large interest in live stock and tendency to incline more to the Mid-western farming practices, with least interest in Southern crops, partially puts it in a different class. This is one of the evidences that North Carolina is not strictly a one-crop State. In fact, it is one of the most diversified states in the union.

The wheat crop for North Carolina with a production of 6,633,000 bushels is the largest since 1920 when almost 8,000,000 bushels were produced. The value per bushel, however, is more favorable. The small grain crop for North Carolina was generally good, especially in the heavier producing counties. The harvesting and threshing seasons were favorable for satisfactory housing of the crop. Prospects are favorable for a good planting this fall.

Bond Issue For More Highways.

Another bond issue for highway construction in North Carolina, with $25,000,000 as the suggested amount, is being advocated as the outlook for a special session of the legislature next year grows more promising.

If prominent friends of the highway movement continue their present attitude, a movement for an additional issue of twenty or twenty-five million will likely follow an announcement from Governor Morrison of his intention to call the assembly together. What the governor proposes to do is of course unknown and will not be in advance of a report from the ship and water transportation commission. But there are many hopeful that he will issue the call.

The state's authorization of highway bonds now aggregates $65,000,000, and supporters of the proposal for another issue contend the state's ability to meet great obligations is more promising now than it was when the first issue of $50,000,000 was voted. At that time many good roads enthusiasts advocated a $75,000,000 issue while a $100,000,000 for good roads was a plan of the early future.

Another $25,000,000, it is claimed, would complete the program with a great big bang. The state, of course, will be well supplied with good roads with the completion of the present program, but the additional expenditure would place it second to no other state in the union in the completeness of its highway system.

Importance is added to the suggested new issue when it is reported that the administration favors it. Whether the administration will give the proposal a chance to be considered depends on the governor's decision as to a special session.

Employment Service Gives Jobs.

A total of 2,412 persons were placed in positions of remuneration during the month of October by the Employment Bureau of the State and Federal Governments in North Carolina according to the monthly report of the Bureau issued by M. L. Shipman, director, 1,978 of these were men and 434 were women. The greatest number were placed in positions by the Wilmington branch of the Bureau which handled 530 while Asheville handled 512.

COULD HARDLY DO HER WORK

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Eat, Sleep and Feel Better Every Day

Chicago, Ill.—"I was weak and run-down and in such a nervous condition that I could hardly do my work. I was tired all the time, and dizzy, and could not sleep and had no appetite. I tried different medicines for years, but they did not help me. Then I read in the papers about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for other women and gave it a trial. I began to eat better and could sleep, and consider it a wonderful medicine. I recommend it to my friends and will never be without it."—Mrs. M. OBLEN, 2640 S. Marshfield Ave., Chicago, Illinois.

It is such letters as these that testify to the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This woman speaks from the fullness of her heart. She describes as correctly as she can her condition, first the symptoms that bothered her the most, and later the disappearance of those symptoms. It is a sincere expression of gratitude.

For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been so praised by women.

She Gets Blamed. Growls were heard Sunday morning. The lady in the apartment across the air shaft called cautiously to ask what the trouble was.

"I didn't buy the proper supplies for Sunday," explained the wife who was being blamed.

"But you came home with a full basket." "Yes, but I forgot my husband's cigarettes."

BITTER TASTE, HEAD "SWIMS"

Signs That Black-Draught is Needed to Help Eliminate Poisons—An Arkansas Woman's Experience.

Hatfield, Ark.—"I have used Black-Draught for a number of years," says Mrs. C. V. Dale, of this place, "and I have never found any other liver medicine so good. When I get bilious, my head swims and I get a bitter taste in my mouth, then I know I must get something to eliminate the poison, so for years, when I would get this way, I would take the Black-Draught."

"I always feel better after taking two or three doses. It cleanses the system and my head quits swimming, and I feel like I can do my work. I have recommended it to others."

Biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, bitter taste, warn you that your liver is out of fix. Prompt treatment, with a dose or two of Theford's Black-Draught, often will prevent serious sickness. Bile poisons and other unhealthy matters should not be permitted to lodge in the system. Drive them out with Black-Draught, the old, long-established, well-known, purely vegetable powdered liver medicine.

Keep a package in your house, handy for immediate use. Sold by good druggists everywhere.
