

Gardens are doing wonderfully well the past week.

Chickenpox is prevalent in many localities we hear.

Hoke citizens pay enough each year to hospitals to build one of their own

Elise High School is out for $60,000 to rebuild, and we hope it will get it.

It looks like peach blooms lasted a shorter time this year than we ever noticed before.

We never saw so many strawberry blooms in one spring before, and we hope for a big crop

Sale of Valuable Farm Property.

Under and by virtue of the authority conferred upon us in a deed of trust executed by J. T. Stutts and wife, Mamie C. Stutts on the 7th day of February, 1925, and recorded in Book 46, page 274, we will on Saturday, the 28th day of April, 1928, at 12 o'clock noon at the Courthouse door in Raeford, Hoke County, sell at public auction for cash to the highest bidder the following land, to-wit:

That tract of land on the east side of Quewhiffle Creek, adjoining the lands of Charles R. Auman, Jonah Cole, the Old Neill Graham Place, and J. A. McKeithen and others;

Beginning at a stake at the channel of Quewhiffle Creek about 40 feet above the Plank Road Bridge, the same being the beginning corner of Lot number 3 in the division of the Christian Love Estate, and also the beginning corner of Lot No. 2 in said division of which this tract is a part; thence with a line of Lot No. 3 S. 51 E. 29 chains to a stake, a corner of said Lot No. 3; thence with another line of said Lot No. 3 N. 76 E. 49.52 chains to Jonah Cole's south west corner of his tract of his 136.53 acres; thence with his line reversed N. 1 degree W. 54.80 chains to his northwest corner; thence as the old Love line N. 70 W. 22.50 chains to the channel of Quewhiffle Creek; thence down the various courses of said channel to the beginning containing 337 acres, more or less, the same being all of Lot No. 2 in the Christian Love division, except that 136.33 acres conveyed to Jonah Cole from the eastern end of said Lot No. 2.

This sale is made by reason of the failure of J. T. Stutts and wife, Mamie C. Stutts to pay off and discharge the indebtedness secured by said deed of trust to the North Carolina Joint Stock Land Bank of Durham.

This the 12th day of March, 1928.

"Common Sense Demands Individual Initiative for Electrical Service"

says Nation's Business

"It is a tribute to the adaptability of American business and to the common sense of our people as well, that in a short time a system of governmental regulation has been evolved that leaves management and operation to business enterprise. Private management and operation retains an initiative and freedom rarely found in governmental business."

THE history of America's growth and prosperity might well be called a history of the triumph of common sense. Common sense dictated a plan of government which would allow the largest possible freedom to individual enterprise. Common sense in business has shown how this freedom may be used for the greatest good of all.

In the electric light and power industry, the common sense of individual initiative has enabled a business whose service and earnings are governmentally regulated, to provide for an expansion of service which has required a billion dollars of new capital each year. The development of new uses for electricity in industry and the home, has called for an immense program of construction.

To provide for this growing public need, the power companies not only have not added a penny to the tax burdens of the communities they serve, but have actually yielded a constantly increasing total of taxes. And with all these demands upon them, with costs of fuel, material and labor constantly rising, they have achieved a steady decline in electric rates.

Foresight, courage, consummate skill in engineering and administration are merely tools with which the record of electrical service in America has been made. The force which made achievement possible is found in the freedom of individual initiative and public confidence in the financial integrity and standards of service of the companies.

In this power of individual initiative lies the secret of the success not only of electric light and power companies, but of every business where enterprise and faithful service receive their natural rewards. The common sense which has preserved this force for the growth of electrical service in America thus far, will continue to defend it against attacks in the future.
