> We, as a committee appointed by his Honor, Judge E. H. Cranmer, presiding at this term of court, have the honor to submit resolutions as a part of the memorial services today, which are hereto appended:

> In as much as God hath in His windom and unfathomable ways deemed it best that our beloved brother should be so untimely taken, we desire a permanent record of our expressions of sympathy which extends to Mrs. Dixie McQueen Smith, widow of the deceased, and to the other members of the immediate fam ily, and have transmitted to her a copy hereof.

The outstanding qualities of the deceased were his fairness as an opponent at the bar, his un-Mr. J. H. Campbell had a lot selfish devotion to his profession,

He was deeply religious and a faithful worker for the advancement of the common good, loyal to the church of his fathers, and a bitter enemy to the man or the cause which blocked righteous progress.

It is resolved that this record shall bear testimony to the fine ideals, rich imagination, and restless energy of our deceased fellow-member of the local bar. To him perhaps more than any other in the range of our acquaintance, it was the rare honor Mrs Wm L. Poole gave her to grow in grace, and benedictoseen him eat may well surmise and keep them.
