Raeford, N. C., Sept. 12, 1929.

You remember, reader that just as great brains are planning law violations as are trying to prevent crime. The Devil has a strong force at work everywhere.

A man cannot barter principle without suffering irreparable loss, and this is often done in a pinhooking way, but the man who is unprincipled in small things is unworthy of trust in greater, certainly.

If you really want to help your town, be one of the whole citizenship of the place that treats the world fairly and honestly, and folks living elsewhere will stand by Raeford while they live.

Benedict Arnold died in a lone room in London, England, friendless and poor, and his last words were: "Traitor, Traitor!" You may lose all your worldly possessions, but you can retain honor and be respected when your last hour comes.

Benedict Arnold was a traitor to his country. Fifty thousand pounds of British gold, ($250,000) and a Major Generalship was the price of his perfidy; but nothing can replace honor when sullied. I hope my last end will be like his, if I am untrue to my friends.

We believe a number of people are trying to persuade themselves to believe there is no devil and no hell. The fact that anybody tries to think such stuff is the strongest proof that there is a devil, and they are led captive at his will, and hell is his headquarters.

The farmers of Hoke will find that the little they may grow and have for sale will supply the needed help they need to supplement the failing cotton crop. Those farmers succeeding best sell enough trash, as some call it, to pay current expenses of their farms, so their cotton and tobacco money is clear. But all cannot find a market for their truck. That we MUST FIND.

A party is to be given Friday night, Sept. 13th, at Bluemont Hotel for the benefit of Raeford Chapter U. D. C. Admission 50c. Come and make this party a success for a worthy cause.

A juror was withdrawn and a mistrial ordered by Judge Barnhill Monday morning, who is trying the mill strikers and labor organizers for killing Chief of Police Aderholt of Gastonia, on last June 7th, when juror lost his mind. It took ten days to get that jury. Governor Gardner has called another special term of court for that trial Sept. 30th and appointed Barnhill as judge. Two special terms of court now have failed to try this case, the first term in Gastonia, when the defense moved the trial out of Gaston county, and Judge Barnhill moved it to Mecklenburg; now it's all to do over again.

Holds Special Services

Commemorating the completion of the tenth year of the pastorate of Rev. W. A. McLeod, a special service will be held at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, in which all members of the church and friends of the popular pastor are invited to participate.

Interest throughout the entire community centers in the event since Dr. McLeod during his years of residence in Cuero has exerted a profound influence for good not only in church but civic affairs. For this reason a large attendance is expected at the service Sunday morning which will serve as a tangible expression of appreciation and love which the people of Cuero feel for this greatly admired and revered religious and community leader.—Cuero (Tex.) Record.

Tapp-Williams.

Miss Mary Carmen Williams and C. F. Tapp were quietly married Tuesday afternoon Sept. 3rd, at the parsonage of the First A. R. P. church, Charlotte, the pastor, Dr. D. G. Phillips, officiating.

The bride was attired in blue georgette with accessories to harmonize. She wore a shoulder bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. Tapp and bride left for a trip to White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. After Sept. 10th they will be at home in Raeford.

The bride was educated at Queens college and is a bright and attractive young woman.

The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Tapp of Timberland. He is superintendent of a tobacco plantation at Raeford.—Charlotte Observer.

Miss Driggers Hostess.

Little Miss Lee Driggers entertained a few of her little friends at her home last Saturday. There was one table of rook and Pollyanna. At each place were baskets of salted peanuts.

Punch and cake were served to the following guests: Mildred Polston, Margaret Cole, Helen Polston, Genevieve Polston, Edna Lentz, Eliza Newell Walters, Dixie Smith, Mary Helen Gatlin, Isabe Bethune.

Mr. Lacy Clark of Durham spent the week end with relatives in town.

Mrs. Clyde Covington and Miss Mary Shaw of Wagram were in town Monday.

Mrs. Sarah Chisholm has been confined to her room by illness for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy D. Niven and children left for their home in Dunedin, Fla., after visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Tapp have arrived in town and are living in the house vacated by Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Murray.

Messrs. H. L. Gatlin, Vance Norton, M. B. McBryde, Fulton Watson, N. Barefoot and N. A. McFadyen are serving on the Federal court jury in Rockingham this week.

Rev. J. M. McBryde has returned to his home at Fort Defiance, Va., after visiting relatives. He preached at Bethel Sunday morning and at Wagram Sunday night.

Mrs. J. E. Neal, and son, James, and Kelly Guilkey of Marion are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Covington. James Neal is entering Presbyterian College for men at Maxton.

Messrs. Charles and John Livingstone and Misses Sallie, Mattie and Kitty Livingstone of Wagram came over Sunday morning to hear Dr. W. M. Fairley preach at the Presbyterian church.

Thanks to Mrs. J. E. Conolly for a pretty, second crop Red June Apple. This little tree in her yard bloomed for a second crop last fall, but bore no fruit. This year it has 27 nice apples, two of which fell off Monday and the editor gets one of them.

Mr. W. L. Floyd's car sideswiped a truck loaded with tobacco at the Chisholm place near town Monday evening, and turned his car over three times. The car was badly damaged and he got only a few cuts and bruises, and was going as usual Tuesday in that same car.

Entertains Bridge Club.

Mrs. W. P. Covington and Mrs. J. B. Thomas very charmingly entertained the Bridge club and the husbands of members at the home of the former last Friday night.

The attractive home was especially lovely with bowls and vases of mixed flowers.

After a spirited game Mrs. Lawrence Poole was presented a rose colored bon-bon dish for high score for the ladies, and Prof. W. E. Pell, who won high score among the gentlemen, was given a pair of bronze book ends.

Those present besides club members and their husbands were: Prof. and Mrs. W. E. Pell, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Garrett, of Sanatorium and Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Blue.

Since we can first remember the Turks were killing other religionists at will, Armenians and others. Now they are killing the Jews. We said at the close of the World War that the Turkish people should not be allowed to exist longer as a government, and the Allied Powers while they had the chance, should have wiped those people off the map. The world is worse for having such.

Miss Mattie McLaughlin is visiting relatives in Smithfield this week.

Mr. Malcolm McBryde of the U. S. Navy is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hector McBryde.

Miss Dilcie Tarplay has returned to her home in Spartanburg, S. C., after spending the summer with her sister, Mrs. John Walker.

Fairmont is the biggest little tobacco market in the border belt, and this year more tobacco is being sold in that town than in any of the neighboring towns in that belt.

Nell Battle Lewis is a lawyer. We did not know she was a licensed attorney until we saw by the papers that she had joined the defense counsel in that striker murder trial going on in Charlotte. Bet she will be heard from that trial.

If your bank account does not average a daily balance of $50, a charge of 50 cents is made by the bank carrying the account; and if you write a check and have not the money in the bank to meet it, you pay 25 cents for the trouble you make.

The city tax rate in Laurinburg has been raised from $1.19 to $1.27. In many counties of the state the tax rate has been raised, notwithstanding the one cent tax on the gallon of gas. The money must be raised for more expenses created as we live faster and do more.

Raeford school never had so many pupils as are to be accommodated this year, and it now looks like instead of carrying the children to the schools, we will have to go back to the Ayeck idea of carrying the schools to the children. That is the only way this state is able to educate her numerous offspring.

Mrs. F. B. Lester has been sick for several days, but is some better.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Giles and children, who are at Vass now, were in town a while Saturday.

Quite a number of Raeford people heard Mr. F. S. Blue at Aberdeen Chapel Sunday afternoon where he conducted services.

Walter Duncan Brown left Wednesday for Maxton to enter Presbyterian College for men.

Dr. and Mrs. P. P. McCain of Sanatorium have as their guests Dr. McCain's father, mother and sister. Dr. and Mrs. J. I. McCain, and Miss Mildred McCain of Due West, S. C. Dr. J. I. McCain is professor of English at Esquire College.
