

HOKE COUNTY JOURNAL

VOL. XXV. NO. 28.

RAEFORD, NORTH CAROLINA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1929.

$1.50 Per Year.

Last Warning

The attention of sportsmen and others is called to the fact that though the season for legally killing deer opened on October 1st there has been several chances made in the opening season on other game which are as follows: Squirrel Oct. 15th to Jan 15th Wild Turkey, Quail, Dove and Rabbit Nov. 20th to Feb. 15th. Raccoon, O'possum, Mink, Skunk, Otter and Muskrat Nov. 15th to Feb. 15th. The season closes on deer January 15th.

Licenses are on sale at Ashley Heights, Mcntrose, Raeford, Antioch, Dundarrach, Rockfish, and by Mr. Daniel McGill in Little River Township. Each county receives credit for the license sold in the county. "Trade at Home" and boost your own county. Several of Hoke's sportsmen bought licenses from other counties last season and we were among the lowest when the final check up was made in Raleigh. Let's do better Sportsmen!

There are two hunting licenses on sale, State and County. You are not allowed to buy a county license out of your resident county. The State gives you the privilege of hunting in other counties, so would advise hunters to buy State licenses as you are not allowed to trade in licenses. Then if you wish to hunt in another county you are prepared for the hunt.

We have in this county fifty deputy and district forest wardens who have the authority to take up violators of these laws, so get your license before starting out. All violators will be prosecuted.

H. R. McLEAN,
County Warden.

Radio Program, State College.

Wednesday, Oct. 9th: Tobacco Situation; by Dr. Forrester.

Wednesday, 16th: Care of Cotton Seed, by Dr. Winters.

Wednesday, 23rd: Distributing Agricultural Information, by Dr. Jeter.

Wednesday, 30th: Lowering production Costs with Drainage, by Prof. Holman.

Nov. 6: Co-operative Marketing, Dr. Carl Faylor.

Nov. 13: Food Poisoning, Dr. I. V. Skapp.

Nov. 20: Pruning Fruit Trees, by M. E. Gardner.

Nov. 27: Cost of Growing Broilers, Dr. B. F. Kaupp.

Food Will Come High.

Apples are scarce and defective, and will be high priced this winter.

Irish potatoes have rotted in the ground, or since they were gathered, so they are getting up fast in price. There are not as many Irish potatoes now as there was at planting time last spring, so they will be high priced this winter.

We expect sweet potatoes to rot this winter, because of the wet season, and if you have a good crop, handle them carefully.

We expect meats to be higher than at present, so will lard. Grain crops are very good, but the price of corn on the market is higher than it has been for years.

It will be a good idea to sow wheat and oats this fall. Live at home is good advice any year.

The low price of our money crops leaves us in poor fix to buy high priced foods, and living will cost more next year than this year.

Abundant Seed Rye for sale. See J. C. McLean, Raeford, N. C.

Marriage and Divorce.

There were 68 marriages in Hoke county in 1928, and two divorces; 84 marriages and one divorce in 1927.

During the year 1927 there were 642 divorces in the state; in 1928 there were 609. There were 22,204 marriages in 1927; 21,373 marriages in 1928. There were 29 annulments in each of these years, that is where courts annulled unwise marriages.

Divorces are increasing in proportion to the number of marriages, and a smaller per cent. of the people are marrying.

Singing Class Coming.

The Oxford Orphanage Singing Class will give a concert in the Raeford school auditorium Thursday evening, Oct. 17th, at 8 o'clock.

Classes from this orphanage have many times entertained the people of this town, and have always given a pleasing program, and we hope a good audience will greet the class on the 17th.

Miss Louise Blue Entertains.

Miss Louise Blue entertained her Sunday school class at her home last Friday night. Each member of the class invited one person.

After a number of contests and games, the hostess, assisted by Misses Kathleen Dew and Mildred Peele, served lemonade and little cakes.

Those present were: Misses Evelyn Falk, Allie Mae and Virginia Davis, Viola Teal, Jennie Clark, Peggy Bethune, Catherine Campbell, Frances Jean Freeman, Irma Jordan, Jessie Margaret McAdven, Sarah Ella Conoly, Charlotte Ray and Clyda McInnis.

Fayetteville and Raeford Tie.

In a football game played on the local grounds last Friday afternoon Fayetteville and Raeford high school football teams played a tie, 7 all. Rogers was the star of the game, intercepting a pass on Fayetteville's 20 yard line, and ran for a touch down. Raeford also made the extra point by a pass.

Fayetteville scored a touch down by a long pass in the last minute of play, and then made the extra point by a line pluge. It was a hard played game and very interesting from start to finish. Fayetteville's team had the advantage in weight by possible 10 pounds to the man, but the Raeford boys held them well, and we are proud of the defense they put up. Fayetteville has a good team, and will be heard from later.

Entertains at Bridge.

Mrs. J. S. Johnson entertained the Bridge club at her home on Central avenue last Friday night. Autumn flowers were used in the room where the four tables were placed for the game.

Mrs. Clyde Upchurch received the high score prize, an attractive vase.

Mrs. Paul Johnson and Mrs. Harry Greene assisted the hostess in serving chicken salad, sandwiches, punch and home made candy.

Those present besides the club members were Mrs. F. B. Sexton and Mrs. Harry Greene.

Dr. John P. Monroe noted physician and surgeon of Sanford, who was shot by an insane man for an imaginary reason, the first of last week, is recovering well and is glad to note.

TODAY.

Today is mine, I dare not wait. An other dawn may be too late. The present only I can claim. Make use of it, shall be my aim.

Today is mine, life's little span. It's ending is not known to man. We have our way and then pass on.

Some changes follow every dawn. Then may we wisely use today. In a self forgetful, kindly way, So that tomorrow's rising sun, May find no task of ours undone.

Some word of ours, or friendly token, May help to heal a heart that's broken; There are often those along the way,

Who need our thought and help today.

Today some one may need a friend, On whom they can always depend.

I'll be a friend then while I may, Tomorrow may not be my day.

-MRS. T. B. UPCHURCH.

Safety First in Automobiles.

Safety is a major factor stressed in the modern motor car. It is in this phase of construction that the greatest automotive progress of recent years has been made.

Four-wheel brakes, non-shatterable glass, ball bearing spring shackles and similar improvements have all helped. Behind these improvements stands the greatest factor of automobile safety - the all steel body.

As the traffic on our highways grows more congested and the accident toll mounts, stronger car construction is essential and it is only logical for automobile construction to follow the lead of all-steel construction of railroad cars.

Unquestionably, thousands of lives have been saved by this trend in motor car design. Power, appearance and speed are essential, but safety must come first.

Rally Day.

Next Sunday is Rally Day at Raeford Presbyterian church, and all the members with their families are urged to attend.

A pageant will be given, which will be interesting and instructive, and other features of the 11 o'clock hour's service will be good.

A collection will be taken for Sunday School Extension, to organize and maintain Sunday Schools where religious services are being neglected.

Dr. John P. Monroe, a popular physician and surgeon of Sanford, was shot five times by an insane man as the doctor was having the tank of his automobile filled with gas at a filling station on Wednesday of last week. The man was named Maness, had been in the asylum in Raleigh some time ago, but had made his escape a year ago. He claimed as a reason for the shooting, that Dr. Monroe had tried to poison himself and family. It is hoped the noted doctor will live, but he is dangerously wounded.

Messrs. Arch Tapp and Herbert McKeithan shot simultaneously and killed a fine three snag buck up Rockfish creek near the Shaw Old Field, while on a hunt last Thursday. The deer weighed 91 pounds, and the seven hunters all had a nice meal of venison Friday. Mr. McKeithan drew the hide and will have a rug made of it. It is a very pretty hide.

You can be examined for cancer symptoms this week free of charge, and it would do you no harm, and it would be wise, for prevention is easier than cure. It is said that one woman in every eight, and one man in every eleven, who have lived past forty years of age has cancer.

Police Bearley of Southern Pines last week discovered in a "sanctified" colored church a lot of stolen goods, and captured three of the rogues when they came to carry away a part of the stolen goods are said to have been taken from Hoke county stores.

Mrs. Richard Pischal of Greensboro, who was visiting her sister, Mrs. Joe Gullede last week, received a message on Saturday morning that her husband had been operated on the night before for appendicitis. She left immediately for Greensboro, accompanied by Miss Susan Gullede.

Last Sunday afternoon a truck passed through Raeford loaded with cotton. The one we saw had on twenty bales. Some one remarked another load had passed in the morning. We do not know that it was a Red Springs truck. Some one told us it was, but we do say people who have no reverence for God have no regard for the rights of man, and are dangerous characters.

About the time you expect the weather to be dryer, it gets wetter.

Mrs. A. A. Guin, who has been a shut-in for several years, is able to come to town in their car occasionally, her friends are glad to see.

The Journal is sorry to hear of the illness of Mr. John Hendrix, and glad to hear of improvement in his condition at last account.

A goodly number of Raeford people attended the Home-Coming at Bethesda church last Sunday. We are told they had the largest crowd they ever had at a reunion.

At 10:30 o'clock, on Oct. 19th, the dedication of Memorial Hall at the State University will take place. This is the newest addition of buildings at Chapel Hill, and is a fine one.

There has never been a year since we can remember that had more insects eating up things. A big fight is on now to save the collards from worms, terrapin bugs and blister bugs.

After every big, exceptionally heavy rain, people hope the weather will settle for a time, but within a few days rain comes again. The last 15 months or more has been wet weather.

The pastor, Rev. W. M. Fairley, D. D., being sick, Dr. Stewart of Flora McDonald College, Red Springs, conducted services in the Presbyterian church Sunday morning. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed.

A. J. Kincaid, aged 70, one of the leading business men of Maxton, died at his home last Friday afternoon after several days struggle with double pneumonia. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and a Mason of high rank.

A case of diphtheria was reported in Laurinburg last week.

It is said leaf tobacco is selling lower in this state than elsewhere.

A Scotland county citizen recently found 29 boll weevils in one okra bloom. They are very plentiful.

Newspapers seem to care more for the amount of tobacco sold in their towns than for the price it brings.

Cape Fear river has been opened up considerably since 1908, so water does not get so high at Fayetteville.

Belgium and the Netherlands have the greater population in proportion to size than any of the larger countries.

The September storm came last year on the 6th, and paralyzed business for a time. It set in this year on the 28th.

There are more automobiles in the country than in any year since this conveyance came out, and that is part of the trouble.

The gathering of cotton in this year has been retarded very much because of wet weather, and considerable loss in this county has resulted, as to how much we only guess, but it leaves the folks blue as indigo.

Newspapers in towns where there are tobacco warehouses announce in box car type the sale of good tobacco on their markets at 14 cents a pound average. Twenty cents a pound average would not pay cost of production.

Henry Ward Beecher once told of his buying a pig for $9, feeding it six months and selling it for $10. He said he lost money on the feed, but made a dollar on the pig. It depend on how you figure things to determine loss or gain.

If there were a good crop of cotton made this year, the price it is bringing would not leave the money on the average farm to pay the taxes, to say nothing about clothing, foods not produced at home, automobiles, school supplies, etc.

A rogue broke the lock on Teal Bros. gas tank Monday night of last week and stole 25 or 30 gallons of gas. Also stole a water pot and carried that away full of gas it is thought. He also stole several gallons of oil. It is evident that the rogue was acquainted with the place, for there are two tanks, only one being used, and the unused tank was not molested.
