7th Grade Has Halloween Party
On Wednesday night, October 30, the seventh grade had a halloween party. We all met in front of the Edgemont Hotel and paraded to the woods in the back of the school grounds. There we came to a big fire. Peanuts containing fortunes were given to each one. After which refreshments consisting of waffles, rolls, peanuts and marshmallows were served. After this we marched back to the hotel. The party was enjoyed by everyone and we hope to have many more.

Many Adults Enroll For U. N. C Home Study Courses

Increasing Popularity Shows Correspondence Instruction Is No Longer an Experiment
Chapel Hill, N. C., Nov. 4.—That correspondence instruction is no longer an experiment but an assured success is shown by some of the facts revealed by the University of North Carolina Extension Division and by the new correspondence instruction catalog of that Division, which has just come from the press.

It is now possible to study any of 150 different University courses by correspondence. Practically all of these courses had either the A. B. or B. S. degree or to the advancement of teacher certification credit.

There were 1695 individuals registered for University correspondence sent a total enrollment of approximately 2,500, due to the fact that work last year. This number represents more than one course. The enrollment for last year showed a gain over that of previous years.

The records show a high percentage of completions for the course begun. More than 75 percent of all those beginning courses in the past have completed them. To give some idea of the prodigious amount of work handled by the Bureau of Correspondence Instruction of the Extension Division, it was reported that 42,000 lesson assignments were examined during the school year 1928-29.

A distinct advantage of correspondence instruction is that it is especially adaptable to adult education. Special arrangements are made to meet the requirements of adult students who, for various reasons, desire study without securing academic or professional credit. Any mature person, regardless of previous education may register as a non-credit student for any of the subjects listed especially for such persons. The Extension Division endeavors to adjust the adult education courses to the individual's needs and interests.

Correspondence instruction offers many unusual advantages, especially to students who are engaged in a full-time position, or teachers who wish additional professional training.

Flora Macdonald College Celebrates Home-Coming

Red Springs, N. C., Nov. 6th.—The weekend of November 1-3 was Home-Coming at Flora Macdonald College. The alumnae came from far and near in goodly numbers and spent a few days renewing old friendships and happy memories.

Friday evening at six o'clock they gathered for dinner in the dining hall. Miss Louise Mandeville, Alumnae President, in an informal manner welcomed every one. The student body gave cheers for Founder's Day, the alumnae, and Dr. Vardell. Mrs. Eugene Morgan of Laurel Hill, N. C., one of Flora Macdonald's daughters, delighted her audience with two songs. One of these was composed by Charles G. Vardell, Jr., son of Flora Macdonald's honored president.

Mrs. Dan McCormick, of McDougal, N. C., also an alumnae told of the varied activities of F. M. C. graduates.

The only speaker of the evening was Dr. Ashley Chappel of Monroe, N. C. He said that he had decided to say nothing that had any sense so everyone would enjoy him. However, running through his side-splitting non-sense, was a serious thread which might be summed up in "Girls do not be content with the ordinary; look for thrills, but those of the right kind; as only the best in life can satisfy."

On Saturday morning, Founder's Day, a program was given in the college auditorium. It consisted of musical selections, a welcome from the Alumnae President, greeting to the old girls from Dr. Vardell, and an address by Dr. E. V. Babbs of Laurinburg.

This latter was a masterpiece. The subject "Study to show Thyself True." Make Thyself a Pattern of Good Work."

The speaker brought out that the important thing is not "Who am I, but what am I and what am I for?" He ended with a tribute to the Flora Macdonald graduate saying that she is touching the lives of many with her personality which had been largely formed and fashioned by the Christian training at Flora Macdonald College.

The business meeting of the Alumnae was well attended and new projects for further work were planned. A reception closed the day's festivities.
