BABY CONTEST

The NEWS-JOURNAL wishes to thank all the participants in the recently closed baby contest for their splendid enthusiasm and co-operation in pursuing the contest to its successful closure. The contest was a success, financially and otherwise through the untiring effort of the sponsors of the several children entered in the contest. The circulation of the NEWS-JOURNAL was increased by several hundred subscriptions, most of which are in the county. It is hoped that the termination of the contest was such that it was agreeable to everyone.

POOLE'S MEDLEY

By D. SCOTT POOLE

The Japanese resent the idea that they are inferior people. The Bible teaches that "all men are created equal." That is in the sense of justice. They are not equal intellectually, nor physically. Some of all nationalities are bright, and some dumb.

...ography is harder to learn now when I studied "The World as It Is," and "Murray's Manual of Physical Geography" as useful textbooks.

The Japs are desperate, and the Americans determined, so the great battle of Luzon will go down in history as one of the outstanding battles of all time. The Japs are not physically equal to American soldiers—in fact no match at all. Football, baseball and wrestling have made Americans physically superior to other men.

I had seen one boy throw another after time in wrestling while the defeated boy lay on his back up some hither to un- ... and undiscovered ... and win the bout ... to the best of which we ... able is something some never learn.

I had no teacher, and as I read, reread my textbook, giving up some times in despair, almost, but knowing that would never do, I would determine to try once again, and begin afresh. After awhile the light would shine in, and I would rejoice that I persisted in my efforts.

The names of countries, cities, have been changed in recent years. There is now no St. Petersburg, Siam. The inhabitants of Africa, Madagascar, and all Central and Northern China are different folks. Some parts of North Carolina were densely ignorant fifty years ago.

For weeks children had nothing but bread and milk upon which to live and when a man went to the store, sold a load of turpentine and bought a side of western bacon, and a big jug of molasses and carried them home, his children were sick next day. That was bad management. He should have provided all these things all the time.

The United States Navy has suffered some bad blows lately, it is believed, however, not much has leaked out about this. But large battleships were a mistake, since a little 2nd-class airship could drop a bomb on it and sink it—at least damage it. A little cruiser, or destroyer, are harder to hit, and they sink the subs.

If you think back, you have not heard much of the British Navy since the Battle of Crete. A hundred airships hardly let a ship get away. Shooting down airships has grown into a custom by American aviators. are armed better, and have better gunners.

We who do not have to fight should produce food crops, row vegetables, and all the grain we can. Any of us can cultivate a patch of corn, and feel proud of the accomplishment. One industrious man, well equipped, should produce bread for 200 to 500 persons, under favorable circumstances.

All kinds of domestic animals, hogs, cows, sheep, and goats are better than those of seventy-five years ago, but the horses are nothing like so good. Were you to drive any horse you have now to Fayetteville and back in a day, you would likely kill him. They are not use to travelling on roads.

Teacher: "Is there anything that hibernates in summer?"
Pupil "Yes mam. There is Santa Claus."

A travelling man told a mill superintendent he could pick the married men from the singlemen. He and the superintendent placed themselves at the entrance, and sure enough he guessed the married men correctly. Asked how he knew, he said, "The married men brush their shoes on the mat, and the single ones didn't."

"Say, Marcellus, whar's Sambo."
"He is in de horse pistol, Sambo, "What happened to him?"
"He came down de ladder about ten minutes after it was took down."

"Whose boss in your house?"
"Both me and my wife; 's bosses the children and me, and I boss the goldfish."

A Hoke county farmer was asked if he weighed his hogs, and he said, "No Sir. I lost a whole lot of meat by that once."

The bombing of defenseless Manila shows that Japan is still in heathenish darkness, and the light of civilization has not shown in. Those poor foolish people are courting destruction.

How can a person face the bare facts of life today without utter defeat? It is beyond my reckoning to figure how people can open their eyes to the crushing realities of a stern world and go on "just living". They don't. Most of them are covering their eyes to uncomfortable facts. Thereby they expect to protect their peace of mind. Nevertheless facts are facts. Closing your eyes will not blot out the hellish ambitions of Hitler. Turning your head does not erase the fiery scourge of war.

Men are being expelled from this world by the millions today in untimely unnatural death because men have forgotten God.

Life for you holds only a few years of existence in the wake of war and death. Your friends and relatives will become victims of this awful cataclysm.

These are facts. And I'd rather face facts than dodge them. Dodging them does not allow us to escape their results.

"Well", you ask, "So what?"
Just this: The Lord Jesus Christ can give you glorious peace in your heart. Though everyone is shot down around you and everything swept from beneath your feet, yet the Lord Jesus can allow His peace to flood your soul. The Christian does not live in an imaginary world. He faces a real world. But he faces it with an indwelling Christ who imparts victory.

The Bible declares: "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee."—Isa. 25:3. "Great peace have they which love thy law and nothing shall offend them."—Ps. 119:165. Yes, we who know this wonderful Christ can look on a world of woe and despair, yet we feel the peace of The Lord of Hosts pulsating through our hearts.

Lamp Brooder Takes Another Job Of Hen

A home-made brooder, which can be built for from $5 to $7.50, is suggested by C. F. Parrish, Extension poultryman of State College, for use by those persons who formerly raised a few chicks with hens. Artificial incubation has robbed the hen of hatching her eggs, and now the small brooder takes another of her jobs.

"Of course," Parrish pointed out, "the brick, oil and electric brooders are used by poultrymen with large flocks. But for the farmer who wanted to raise a small flock, the hen was usually used for brooding purposes.

"Thousands of farm families have pledged to increase poultry production as a part of the Food-for-Freedom campaign. The homemade lamp brooder will solve their problem. The brooder holds from 50 to 60 chicks, and from 150 to 200 chicks can easily be brooded per year with this equipment."

The brooder is constructed in two parts; The bottom section houses the lamps; the top section accommodates the chicks. The tray that separates the two sections is covered with 26 to 28-gauge tin. The tin side is placed downward, next to the flame of the lamp, and the top part of the tray is covered over with one inch or more of sharp, coarse, dry sand. The chimney of the lamp should be one to one and one-half inches below the metal tray which divides the two sections.

Parrish said that the brooder "is of simple construction, easy to operate, and is heated by one to three lamps, depending upon the severity of the weather. It should be operated in a protected place, such as under a wood or wagon shed."

Detailed information on the construction of a lamp brooder, including Blue Print No. 46, may be obtained free by farm people from their County Farm or Home Agent, or by writing to the Extension Poultry Office, State College, Raleigh.

Answers To Timely Farm Questions

QUESTION: Is there any AAA soil building payment for establishing a permanent pasture?

ANSWER: Yes, E. Y. Floyd, AAA administrative assistant of State College, says two units ($3.00) is offered for the establishment of a permanent pasture. However, a sufficient pasture mixture must be sown on land properly prepared, including the application of sufficient phosphate, potash and liming materials, where necessary, to assure a good stand. The pasture mixture must contain a full seeding of legumes and grasses (other than timothy and redtop).

QUESTION: Should I select eggs of some definite weight for hatching purposes?

ANSWER: Best results are usually obtained from eggs that weigh 24 ounces to the dozen, says C. F. Parrish, Extension poultryman of N. C. State College. In addition to the
