

Farm Machinery Dealers Need Order For Parts

Farmers are being advised to order repair parts for their tractors, plows, and other machines at the earliest possible moment. "There's an important reason," says D. S. Weaver, State College agricultural engineer, "and it's not the usual 'Shop Early and Avoid the Rush' sort of appeal".

Here's the way the Extension Service specialist explained it: The Office of Production Management is prepared to give farm machinery manufacturers priority on metals, BUT not until they receive orders from their dealers, BACKED UP BY BONA-FIDE ORDERS FROM CONSUMERS.

Therefore, says Weaver, farmers must determine now what parts they need to put their machines in good order for the 1942 season. Then, they must place their orders immediately for these parts.

The usual practice of waiting until just before a machine is needed in the spring, and then going to town for a repair part, will not work this year. There won't be any repair parts there, unless the order is placed at once.

"In the 'Food for Freedom' program farmers must produce more food with fewer men," Weaver pointed out. "Greatly increased use of farm machinery is indicated. To meet the demand for new machines would require the manufacture of 20 to 25 percent more tractors, plows, combines, etc., than were produced in 1941.

"On the other hand," he declared, "there is only enough metal available for 75 to 80 percent as many farm machines as were manufactured last year, even with priorities on metals. This shortage must be made up by better use of all present machines."

Hoke Narrative Report For December

The ten Home Demonstration Clubs of Hoke County met in December with 271 people present. Christmas parties took the place of the regular demonstration meetings. Many all the club members, instead of exchanging gifts among themselves, brought gifts suitable for boys in the Army Camps. A committee from each club sent these gifts to the boys in camp from the local communities.

At the Ashmont meeting, Miss Prenter, a home missionary who is spending some time at the State Sanatorium, brought the Christmas message.

Miss Flora Boyce who now lives in Raeford, accompanied the Home Agent to Club Meetings and checked out library books. Miss Boyce is a former school teacher and has taught several years in China and Korea. Miss Boyce talked at several of the club parties and brought some excellent first hand information on the situation in those countries and Japan.

The Allendale Club gave a miscellaneous shower for a recent bride, Mrs. Howell who was formerly Ruth Watson.

The Home Agent spent the afternoon of December 1 at Carthage where she attended a hat canning demonstration given by Mr. D. E. Hall of the Harper Company. Mrs. J. A. Roper, Mrs. Will Hasty, and Mrs. Shawwood Currie of the Allendale Club also attended.

The Home Agent spent Tuesday December 2, in Lumberton where she attended an all day demonstration on handicraft.

Miss Vera Stanton, Southeastern District Agent, visited the County on December 3 in the interest of the measles project.

Several Club members from each community assisted in securing Red Cross subscriptions in the recent drive.

Thirty library books were checked by club members during the month. The mattress and comforter project was continued during the month. All mattresses have been completed but several dozen comforters are still to be made.

were home here Saturday afternoon, pastor, Rev. E. C. ... ed by her former pastors, Robinson, Clegg and Rev. B. B. Robinson, Rev. H. K. Holland and Rev. J. Reamy. A choir from all the churches sang Crossing of the Bar and Roll of Ages. The home was taxed to capacity to hold the throngs of sorrowing friends and the many beautiful flowers sent as a last tribute. Interment was in the family plot at the Raeford cemetery. Pallbearers were Crowford Thomas, H. L. Gattlin, Jr., Fred Johnson, Walter Brown, Arch Graham, Harry Green, Lawrence McNeill, and Edwin Smith. The very close friends and immediate contemporaries of the deceased carried the flowers assisted by many younger women.

Mrs. Upchurch who was Mollie Johnson was born March 25, 1866, in Wake County near old Wake Chapel about sixteen miles from Raleigh. Her parents were William and Mary Ann Jones Johnson. She was married to Thomas Benton Upchurch on October 20, 1889, and moved to Raeford in 1898. She was reared in the Christian Church, but on coming to Raeford she and her husband helped to organize the Methodist Church. She was an active worker in the church up until the last. The Raeford Methodist Church was organized in 1900 and Mr. and Mrs. Upchurch's names headed the roll of the new church. She had been an officer of the Women's Missionary Society since its organization in 1905 and had been awarded a life membership in that society, a coveted honor. She was always interested in the schools of the town and the Parent-Teachers Association. She was very active in woman's club work and from its beginning she always held an important office in the Raeford's Woman's Club. Her ability as a club woman was recognized by the N. C. State organization and she was a past president of the Ninth District. Recently she received a Pioneer Club Woman's Medal of the State of North Carolina. She had written and published several books of poems.

Surviving Mrs. Upchurch are her husband, three sons, C. E. Upchurch, T. B. Upchurch, Jr., and L. W. Upchurch, all of Raeford, three daughters, Mrs. H. A. Cameron, Mrs. R. B. Lewis of Raeford and Mrs. Allen McCall of Winston-Salem. Three children are dead. They are an infant and a son, Lawrence, and daughter Marie. Nine grandchildren, one great-grandchild, a brother A. G. Johnson of Washington, D. C., two sisters, Mrs. J. D. Smith and Mrs. Irene J. Cook of Virginia also survive.

Some of those from out-of-town attending the funeral were: Relatives, A. G. Johnson of Washington, D. C., a brother of Mrs. Upchurch; Mr. and Mrs. Maton Smith of Fuquay Springs, sister and brother-in-law; Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Sherron of Fuquay, niece and nephew; Hardy Mills of Raleigh, nephew; Tapley Johnson of Fuquay Springs; Dr. and Mrs. J.
