Untold millions sleep uncoffined, unknelt in Hitler graveyards from Tromsø, Norway, to Candia on the Greek Isle of Crete, men and women like ourselves who sought only to make the world a better place.

Dr. Thomas Nelson State's Dean Of Textiles Retires

Raleigh, Sept. 25.—After 42 years as head of the North Carolina State College textile school during which time he became known as the dean of the nation's textile educators, Dr. Thomas Nelson has retired.

The 71-year-old educator, a native of England, joined the faculty at the college in 1901, and immediately instituted a policy of expansion that has made for the school a position in the textile industry hardly outranked by any other in the nation. The retired dean says he had an idea that North Carolina could be developed into a great textile manufacturing center back in the early days of his association with the textile school. He saw unlimited opportunity for southern colleges to train southern boys and girls for leadership in the southern textile industry.

North Carolina, with its 600 textile plants, has proven a fertile field for Dr. Nelson's graduates. He admits there are as many as a dozen alumni holding managerial and executive positions in a single North Carolina plant.

Further afield, his graduates hold positions in a dozen countries whose mills are providing clothing and other textile products for unnumbered millions of consumers, including the armed forces of several nations.

His students came from many states and nations, and their records in employment have carried Nelson's name in textile circles from India to England and in the smallest North Carolina mill.

The Raleigh school, like other southern schools, had little to offer in the way of textile education when Nelson joined the faculty. In Nelson's case the textile department with a couple of machines, was tucked into a basement, had only one other instructor and taught only carding and spinning.

Today the school has a new, four-story building with 75,000 square feet of floor space. It is equipped with the latest machinery, and Nelson has attempted to make it one of the best-equipped institutions in the nation for the manufacture of fancy rayon and cotton fabrics. It now can turn out nearly every class of fabric made in the United States.

Military People Seeking Quarters

Fort Bragg, Sept. 29.—An acute shortage of housing for families of military personnel exists in this vicinity. Among the military organizations in need of more housing for their families is the 13th Airborne Division at Fort Bragg.

An appeal is being made to residents of Fayetteville, Dunn, Lillington, Raeford, Red Springs, Sanford, Pinehurst, Southern Pines, and Lumberton to make available rental property of any nature from bedrooms to complete homes to alleviate the prevailing acute housing situation.

Anyone having rental property in any of these towns is requested to communicate with the Special Service Section, 13th Airborne Division, Fort Bragg, or telephone Fort Bragg 5-1246, giving a description of the property and the rental price.

Although some of the families of the 13th may not arrive immediately, they are, nevertheless, willing to take tentative possession on the first of the month and pay the full month's rent.

SPECIAL ATTENTION MR. FARMER! FERTILIZERS

We will be in a position to start delivering your fertilizer requirements for the 1943-44 Season, beginning OCTOBER 15th to NOVEMBER 1st, 1943.

To insure your having your fertilizers when you need them it is necessary that you start taking in your fertilizers not later than OCT. 15th to NOV. 1st. This is due to the fact that the LABOR SITUATION is even now EXTREMELY CRITICAL and daily becoming more CRITICAL. Also, deliveries will have to be made with inadequate transportation facilities.

It is true that for the duration, you as well as ourselves are compelled to operate our business under the most unusual conditions, which will work a hardship on all of us. In your case it means that you will have to take in your fertilizers well in advance of the time that you will actually need them, to insure your having them on hand when you will need them. To whip the Axis and bring the War to a quick ending it is necessary that we all work together, and give and take when and where it is necessary.

TO YOU WHO ANTICIPATE FARMING DURING 1944: For reasons other than those outlined here, a bird in hand during October, November and December will be worth much more to you than what birds you may have in hand after that time.

Your small grain sowed this fall should have ample fertilizer under it, in addition to being dressed with Nitrogen next Spring. We can furnish your requirements for this also.

Make your plans now—See us or our Agents, and let us start delivering your fertilizers not later than October 15th to November 1st.
