MISS ANNE BUIE HONORS MISS ARIS SHANKLE AT DINNER PARTY

Miss Aris Shankle, whose marriage to Mr. Albert Swanson of Tacoma, Washington, will be an interesting event on February 11, was honored with a most beautiful party on Tuesday evening when Miss Anne Buie entertained the members of the Raeford school faculty and a few other friends at dinner in her apartment at the home of Miss Ida McLaughlin.

The apartment was lovely with arrangements of gladioli and camelias. Small tables at which dinner was served had centerpieces of miniature nosegays made of carnations and narcissi. The hostess served a delicious dinner. Bridal talleys were passed for bridge and rook. After several progressions Miss Louise Fletcher held high score and received an attractive prize. Miss Shankle was remembered with a dinner plate in her chosen China pattern.

Topdress Small Grains early

For best yields, small grains in most sections of North Carolina should be topdressed between February 1 and March 15, says W. H. Rankin, agronomist of the Agricultural Experiment station at State college.

Through the years tests have shown that late application of topdressing after April have resulted in lower yields than where the same amount of topdressing was applied at an earlier date, according to Rankin. He reports that under average conditions every topdressing with 16 pounds of nitrogen per acre gave

Miss Mary Stewart Covington entertained a few of her friends with a Sunday night supper, celebrating her sixteenth birthday. After supper all went to church for the vesper service.

Mrs. Lawrence Poole attended a meeting of bond chairmen in Raleigh last Thursday.

an increase of about 8 bushels of wheat, for example, while late topdressing gave only 3 bushels increase.

Rankin recommends from 16 to 32 pounds of nitrogen per acre and extra potash along with the nitrogen where heavy crops of legume hay has been removed.

Sixteen pounds of nitrogen per acre may be obtained from 100 pounds of nitrate of soda, 80 pounds of calcium or ANL, or 50 pounds of ammonium nitrate.

Small grains which are used for grazing need extra nitrogen.
