With The Army People

Anyone wanting to trace lost baggage call the Heaths—we understand they are experts since they went on their leave to Charleston, S. C. Also they can no doubt tell us how to enjoy a leave without benefit of light and water. Anyway, glad they had fun. . . . That beaming lieutenant you see on the street is Ken Williamson, who is the proud papa of a 7 lb 12 oz. daughter born at Fort Bragg hospital Saturday night. . . . Heard out at the grapevine that Frances Macomson was with the home folks in Spartanburg, S. C. while Perry was busy at Bragg. Her sister, Miss Suzanne Lindeman came back with Frances for too short a visit. . . . Sorry to hear that Doris Jordan is leaving us. She's heading west on the 15th.

News About past army Raefordites—Jessie Hardley is now at home in Arkansas, Kansas. Her husband, Major C. V. Hadley was awarded the Purple Heart in Belgium. . . . Mrs. David Blough and her son are in Natchez, Miss. . . . The Eason Blach's are now stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C. . . . Just talked to Bernice Heath. She said her luggage is on its way home from a three day leave spent "somewhere in South Carolina."

Sgt. and Mrs. Hecht, who have an apartment with Mrs. D. M. Davis, are leaving. Mrs. Hecht has been Dr. R. L. Murray's office nurse for sometime. Dr. was fortunate enough to get Mrs. Jackson, the nurse he had before getting Mrs. Hecht back. The Jacksons were sent to Camp Butler but are now at Bragg again.

Major and Mrs. V. L. Wemberly are residing in the M. B. Warren apartment.

Invents Auto Engine That Needs No Gas

ROCK HILL, S. C., Feb. 7.—W. Harper Patterson of Endicott, N. Y., the son of Mrs. Mammie C. Vick of Rock Hill, believes he has invented a machine which may alter the automobile industry after this war as drastically as did Henry Ford's first model T.

Patterson says he has developed an automobile engine which eliminates the necessity of gasoline and operates solely on air and oil pressure. So the day may not be too distant when Americans will drive up to the nearest air station and say to the attendant, "Fill'er up—with 80 pounds of air."

The inventor says he has patent's on his invention and plans to offer it for production after the war.

The Great Pasteur

Never Saw Chile's Nitrate Desert, But . . .

His bacterial research, which gave his name to the pasteurization process, provided the basis for one of the widely accepted explanations of Chilean Nitrate's origin.

Vast beds of Natural Nitrate in Chile's desert region are natural deposits—enough to last hundreds of years—of one of the oldest and best known fertilizer materials. Mystery of their origin long has challenged science. Many theories have developed. Some say prehistoric plants were "nitrified" by bacteria in the soil. That's what Pasteur's work suggested. Others say they are decayed vegetation. There is a belief the nitrate beds are droppings of billions of birds. Another, that electricity formed them through centuries of violent storms. Some think the beds are rotted rocks; some think they are a crust pushed up from underneath. Perhaps the right theory com-
