State College Answers Timely Farm Questions

QUESTION: Where can I get one of the wheat bins being offered by the Commodity Credit Corporation?

ANSWER: A recent report from F. C. Hall of the AAA office at State College stated that there were 9 bins at each of the following locations: Trenton, Kinston, Snow Hill, and Smithfield with 2 in Nash County and 3 in Beaufort. Hall suggested that prospective purchasers get in touch with the AAA offices at the various points before visiting the county for the inspection of the bins.

QUESTION: W. H. Wheeler, Jr., Extension farm forester of the State College Extension Service, suggests that you do what S. M. Tyson of Wadesboro is doing on 35 acres. Wheeler helped Tyson mark the trees on one acre and found that the whole area would produce about 200 to 225 units of pulpwood. In about 10 to 15 years there will be a good growth of sawtimber on the land. It's work such as this that can materially increase our production of timber, Wheeler says.

QUESTION: What is the best kind of poultry litter?

ANSWER: Prof. Roy S. Dearstyne, head of the Poultry Department at State College, says that ground corn cobs is one of the best types of litter available on the farm and that no poultryman should lose the opportunity of building up a supply of this type of litter. While not the best, wood shavings provide acceptable litter and poultryman near a sawmill can depend on this supply. "It's bad to run out of litter in mid-winter and now's the time to provide a full supply," Dearstyne says.

Farm Wage Rates Still Climbing

Raleigh, October 23.—North Carolina farmers are paying an average of $3.40 per day for their labor, according to Frank Parker, head of the Statistics division of the State Department of Agriculture. Basing his estimate on figures compiled by the Bureau of Agriculture Economics, Parker said that the daily wage rate for hired laborers is 40 cents higher than a year ago. However, it is still 99 cents lower than the $4.39 average for the country as a whole.

Farmers who furnish labor with meals pay an estimated $2.85 per day as compared with $2.50 for October of 1944.

Monthly farm wage rates in North Carolina are now running at around $65 without board and $47.75 with board.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Americans have a word for it

Bill Larkin's boy, who's back from overseas for good, was telling us about the funny customs and the different languages of European countries. One thing he noticed is that in so many of those countries there is no word for "home." "House," yes... or "building." But no name that stands for what we mean when we say home. "In spite of the fact," says Bill, "that it's the most important thing there is... a place where you can take your shoes off and let down your hair... enjoy a glass of beer before the fire and relax with folks you love! From where I sit, that may be an important difference between this country and some others. The conception of home as a place of tolerance and sacred loyalties—where differences of habit and opinion give way before love and understanding! Yes, we Americans have a name for it!
