Farmers To Elect AAA Committeemen

Hoke County farmers will take time out from seasonal work in the next few weeks to elect AAA community and county committeemen for the coming year.

Three community committeemen and two alternates, as well as a delegate to the county convention, will be chosen in each of the county's 8 farming communities. The delegates will later elect the three-man committee which will administer AAA activities within the county.

T. D. Potter, chairman of the county AAA committee, said today that dates, hours, and places for holding the annual election are now being determined. Announcement will be made within the next few days.

In Hoke County, Mr. Potter said, approximately 2500 farmers are eligible to vote for committeemen this year. "Eligible" farmers are those who participate in the 1945 agricultural conservation or crop insurance program.

The county AAA chairman, in reminding Hoke County farmers of the forthcoming ballot, appealed for full participation.

"Solution of the postwar problems ahead of us is the vital concern of every farmer. Consequently, it is to his own best interest to vote in the coming elections—to make sure that the men administering AAA programs in the county are the ones he wants to represent him."

Fire Destroys Seed Cotton House At Oakdale Gin

Gin Saved By Firefighters.

A fire of unknown origin destroyed the seed cotton house at Oakdale Gin, about one mile from Raeford on the Lumber Bridge road, Tuesday afternoon, and would have destroyed the gin itself if it had not been for the excellent work of the Raeford volunteer fire department and other volunteers who managed to extinguish the flames as quickly as they would start on the main building.

The fire alarm was sounded in Raeford at approximately 5:10 P. M. Tuesday and the Raeford department sent both trucks and all apparatus to the scene at once, together with a large part of its personnel. As Oakdale is beyond the city limits there are no water mains or hydrants there, so all the firefighting had to be done with chemical apparatus and buckets of water from the local water system. Many chemical hand extinguishers were taken to the conflagration from Raeford plants and with these and the available water, the local fire department with its volunteer assistance managed to confine the blaze to the seed cotton house.

Harry Greene, chief of the fire department, stated yesterday that the blaze probably started from a match which had been dropped in a sheet of cotton, or some sparks from some of the moving apparatus which was in operation at the time. About four bales of seed cotton were destroyed in the house.

The loss was approximately covered by fire insurance, according to M. C. Dew, manager of the Johnson Company, who owns the gin. The gin operated as usual yesterday.

Rockingham Wins Over Hoke High Here 19-14

The strong Rockingham High school football team defeated a fighting Hoke County High team here yesterday afternoon 19-14 before the largest crowd of the season at Armory Park.

The Hoke team played well but were outweighed in almost every position and fell victims to a passing attack in the third quarter which netted the visitors all of their three touchdowns, after the home team had outplayed them for the whole first half and gone into the third quarter leading 7-0. Another touchdown was probably averted when Joe Maxwell intercepted in home territory late in the third quarter. The first touchdown was scored from near midfield in the first quarter when the locals got the ball near midfield and by a passing play and five line plays scored. The ball carried over by Plummer from the one-yard stripe. Extra point was scored by a pass.

After the disastrous third quarter the Hoke aggregation came back strong in the final quarter to score again. Franklin McNeill on an end run made the second tally from the eight yard line. Extra point was again scored by a pass.

Outstanding in the backfield for Hoke High were Plummer and McNeill and the kicking of Warner. The whole line played well with the work of Ted Clark, Poole, and Woodhouse being exceptional.

The game was sponsored by the Elm Williamson post of the American Legion, whose members handled the advance sale of tickets and advised the game. The attendance has been estimated at 400.

A coroner's jury last week ordered Harry Reynolds, white man of Hoke County, held pending investigation by the Grand Jury in connection with the wreck near Timberland last Thursday P. M. in which John Sanderson, white man of the Antioch community and Red Springs filling station operator, was killed.

The wreck happened at a curve in the Raeford-Aberdeen highway just north of Timberland just about dark, according to reports. Sanderson, accompanied by his wife and three children, ran into an unlighted truck which was on the road at the curve, and almost immediately a car driven by a Reynolds man of Hoke county was said to have crashed into the car and truck wreck. Sanderson was injured internally, as was one child and Mrs. Sanderson. All were rushed to the hospital at Pinehurst arriving there at 7 p. m., and he lived until about nine o'clock. Two children were admitted as patients, while his wife and one child were given first aid and allowed to return to their home near Antioch.

Harry Greene, coroner for the case, stated yesterday that the jury had not completed investigation of the case, because of the fact that some witnesses were still hospitalized. by Harry Reynolds of Hoke county Sanderson was the son of Walter Curtis Sanderson who lives near the Hodgin store. Until two weeks ago he had been operating service stations for Roy Singleton in Red Springs. He was employed for some time at the Maxton airbase and prior to that was connected with the service department of Eastern Air Lines at a Florida airport.

Why Tire Rationing Must Be Continued

F. B. Sexton, of the Hoke County War Price and Rationing Board, in answer to many queries from automobile operators in the county, brought the following statement from the Office of Price Administration in for publication:

"Many boards have informed us of the difficulty they are experiencing in rationing tires since the end of the Japanese War. Some have suggested that OPA drop tire rationing controls now rather than wait until the industry's estimated production becomes a reality and tires are in dealer inventories. The War Production Board has directed us to continue tire rationing for an indefinite period and supports their directive with the following supply picture.

Only 2,200,000 passenger tires were reported in dealers' inventories at the end of the war. There are over 1,000,000 wheels requiring tires of this type. Since Pearl Harbor, only 48,000,000 new passenger tires have been rationed. Thus, more than half of our wheels are running on pre-Pearl Harbor tires—all about four years old.

We are today producing slightly more than 2,500,000 passenger tires per month, or about 30,000,000 per year. Until these production figures are vastly expanded, rationing must be retained to prevent a chaotic condition in the distribution of tires."

Cotton Crop Almost Half Last Year's

Statistics furnished by the Bureau of the Census of the United States Department of Commerce and received this week show that up to November 1, 1945, there were 5,133 bales of cotton ginned in Hoke County as compared with 11,732 bales ginned up to November 1, 1944.

Green Stamps To Be Good For Meat

K. A. MacDonald of the Hoke County War Price and Rationing Board, wishes to advise the public that the green stamps in the current ration books will take place of the expired red stamps for meat, butter, and fats.
