Entered as second-class mail matter at the post office at Raeford, N. C., under Act of March 3, 1879.

Good Suggestion

There has been considerable discussion in the week since the death of Representative W. O. Burgin about the selection of someone to serve in his place for the remainder of the term. Various reports and rumors have been going up and down the district boosting many different persons for the post, some of which have been mentioned in the larger newspapers of the state.

Mr. Burgin's widow has been mentioned, as has Miss Jane Pratt, secretary to Mr. Burgin and several of the district's congressmen before him. Also talked of for the post have been Ryan McBryde, Roland Beasley, John Lang, Pat Taylor, and possibly others.

We think the selection of Ryan McBryde would be the best thing that could be done. Next we'd like to see Miss Pratt get the job. But, taking all factors into consideration, we think the suggestion made by Governor Cherry and published in the News and Observer this week is about the best solution.

The governor's idea is for the District congressional executive committee to wait until after a Democratic candidate has been selected in the primary of May 25 and select that candidate as a candidate for the remainder of Mr. Burgin's term. He supports this suggestion with the fact that the congressman thus elected will remain in office when this term is out and thus be senior to all those congressmen elected this fall. It is a known fact that a congressman's seniority has great hearing on his influence.

We therefore urge the congressional executive committee to follow the plan suggested by the governor in selecting the Democratic candidate in the special election, which must be held.
