

It was "Tar Heel time in Washington" during the recent convention of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce convention, when North Carolina Chamber Secretaries entertained Senators and Congressmen from their state with a banquet at the historic Willard Hotel. Rep. Charles B. Deane, of Rockingham, prevailed upon Senators Clyde Hoey and William B. Umstead to pose for this newspaper picture at the "Eighth District table." In the group are (standing left to right) Woodrow McKay Lexington, national C. of C. councillor; Senator Umstead. Mrs. McKay and Senator Hoey. Seated (left to right) Representative Deane, George S. Coble, President, Lexington C. of C. Arthur C. Cundy, secretary, North Wilkesboro C. of C.; Mrs. Cundy, Mrs. Coble, and John Lang, of Carthage, Deane's Secretary.

credit. He visited his brother Hugh W. Shockley in Washington, then came here, and from here he was going to the old home in West Union, S. C. for a short stay before going to his present home in San Francisco, California. Mr. Shockley served as a commissioned officer with the Navy throughout World War II and took part in several Pacific engagements.

Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Ritter, Miss Bennie Lee Brock, Thomas and Miss Catherine McInnis, and Mrs. Mary McInnis were among those who attended the out door concert given by Hoke High School Band Sunday P. M.

John Locke McCall, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCall of U. S. Navy is at home on leave for a few days.

W. T. Boseman who has not been well for some time is able to be up again we are glad to report.
