GRASSY COTTON....

is always grassy cotton. No gin equipment nor mill equipment now in use will take grass from cotton.

Keep your cotton fields free from grass as possible, even if you plan to hand-pick.

Government classers now mark grassy samples "grassy," which kills the loan value, and cuts the sale price terribly. Don't let a grassy field cost you your government loan benefits.

Of course, our Continental Lint-Cleaner Gin will take out dirt and trash and thereby add considerably to the loan value—when there's no grass.
