MISS TAPP ENTERTAINED ON THURSDAY EVENING.

On Thursday evening Misses Brooks and Frances Tapp, very popular brides-elect of October 9th, were honored by three organizations of their church. The Gleamers Sunday School class, the Lottie Moon Circle and the Business Woman's Circle of the Baptist church entertained in their honor at the home of Mrs. Paul Burnett.

Mrs. Burnett's home had unusually pretty flower arrangements. Beautiful roses and milk and wine lilies were effectively used in living room and spider lilies with greenery in dining room.

The honorees were given all white corsages on arrival and late in the evening were presented with crystal in the patterns they have chosen.

After an hour or more of conversation and interesting contests, frozen lime punch was served with a variety of dainty sandwiches, cookies and mints. All appointments and refreshments carried out a green and white motif.

MISS COLE, BRIDE-ELECT HONORED

Miss Nancy Lee Cole, whose marriage to Jimmy Conoly will take place Sunday, October 16, was shown an attractive courtesy when the members of Methodist Youth Fellowship entertained on Monday evening at the home of Miss Iris Thomas.

An hour or so was spent in informal conversation after which Miss Cole was presented with a shower of miscellaneous kitchen gifts by those present.

At the end of the evening pink and white ice cream and cake were served.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT MEETS

Mrs. Tom Cameron, Mrs. Lewis Upchurch and Mrs. Clyde Upchurch were hostesses to the Educational Department of the Woman's club at its first Fall meeting Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Clyde Upchurch, Jr., new chairman, presided, with Mrs. Neil Senter, new secretary.

Several matters of business were discussed and dispensed with before the program of the afternoon was turned over to Mrs. Paul Dickson, Sr. The subject of the afternoon was on gardens. Mrs. Dickson made practical suggestions from her own experience in planning and planting a perennial border now. She listed perennials to be had this fall by colors and heights. For backgrounds azaleas and camellias were discussed as this is also the time to plan and plant these shrubs. Mrs. Marion Gatlin was next on the program with subject "Old Gardens of the South." She chose Middleton and Magnolia Gardens near Charleston. Mrs. Neil Senter read Mrs. Gatlin's paper as she was unable to be present.

Mrs. H. A. Cameron told of the beautiful Rock Garden on Mount Lookout, near Chattanooga, Tenn. which she had visited and showed pictures. Mrs. Robert Gatlin gave the names of flowers commonly mispronounced.

This meeting was at the home of Mrs. Clyde Upchurch, which was most attractively arranged for the occasion. Fall flowers, in pastel shades, were effectively used, being placed on mantels and tables.

The dining room was especially pretty and arranged formally, as for a tea. The table was covered with a linen embroidered cloth having lace inserts and centered with a pillar arrangement of flowers flanked by candles. Mrs. Tom Cameron poured Russian tea and the guests served themselves from the table. Party sandwiches, tidbits, nutty cookies, mints and nuts were placed on the table.

Many members of the club were present. They were enthusiastic about the coming year's work and appreciative of the hospitality shown them at this meeting.

HELEN JEAN TILLMAN HAS BIRTHDAY

Little Helen Jean Tillman celebrated her 4th birthday Saturday afternoon with a party given at the home of her parents. Mr. and Mrs. James Tillman. 15 guests were invited and arrived at 4 o'clock after which they played games and took pictures. They were served birthday cake, ice cream and candy.

The Raeford Woman's club was well represented at the meeting of the Ninth District held in Fayetteville yesterday. The meeting was in the First Presbyterian church and lunch was served at the Fayetteville Woman's home on Dick street.

COUNTY MEDICAL AUXILIARY MEETS WITH PRESIDENT

The Hoke County Medical Auxiliary was entertained last Thursday evening by its president, Mrs. A. L. O'Brian. At seven o'clock a delicious dinner was served with covers laid for Mrs. A. L. O'Brian. Mrs. G. W. Brown, Mrs. R. L. Murray, Mrs. R. A. Matheson of Raeford, Mrs. Willis, Mrs. Byrd, Mrs. Reese, Mrs. Peck, Mrs. Hiatt, Dr. Lynn Johnson of McCain and Mrs. Marcus Smith, guest of the Auxiliary.

Dr. Johnson made a most interesting talk on the McCain bed at the Sanatorium which was established and endowed by the Auxiliary. She told who had occupied it since its establishment and of contributions made to it by others than the Auxiliary. After this talk and business matters were dispensed with, tables were arranged for bridge and rook. In the rook game Mrs. Byrd made high score and Mrs. Peck in bridge. Both were given prizes.

MRS. DEZERNE CLUB HOSTESS

Mrs. Paul Dezerne was hostess to her bridge club Thursday evening of last week. Mrs. W. T. Gibson, Jr. was the only guest other than members. At the end of several interesting progressions high score prize was awarded to Mrs. T. B. Lester and Mrs. Arch Graham captured the floating prize. Mrs. Dezerne served a delicious frozen fruit salad after the game.
