Farm Bureau President Urges Farmers To Join

A. C. Edwards, Hookerton, resident of the North Carolina Farm Bureau, has declared that Tar Heel farmers will "continue to strengthen their position by seeing that each county goes over the top" in the current state-wide drive for 80,000 members.

The NCFB president told some 50 campaign leaders and members of the Board of Directors at a meeting in Raleigh, November 2 that "the time is short to finish the drive successfully." He reminded them that county Farm Bureau membership totals for the drive must be in the State Farm Bureau office at Greensboro before November 30.

Edwards said the only way farmers can hope to keep gains they have made is through strong, sound organization. He urged everyone present to return to their counties and communities and work hard to make sure their individual Farm Bureau unit membership quotas are met well ahead of November 30.

Others who spoke included: Vice-President P. N. Taylor, White Plains; R. Flake Shaw of Greensboro, Executive Vice-President and Secretary; the various District Chairmen for the campaign, and John I. Eagles, Hookerton; Walter G. Lowry, Pineville and George G. Farthing, Asheville, Field Representative for the State Farm Bureau.

Man Gets Term For Reselling Potatoes

Pensacola, Fla., November 17—Desmond Boutwell, Jay, Fla., trucker, was fined $100, placed on a year's probation, and sentenced to three months in prison—with the sentences suspended contingent upon payment of fines—in U. S. district court here today for alleged embezzlement of government property.

A three-count criminal information alleged that Boutwell resold, for human consumption, Irish potatoes bought by the Commodity Credit Corporation as a price support measure and intended for livestock feed.

It is alleged the potatoes were bought by CCC in the Foley, Ala., producing area under the 1949 price support program, and treated with a harmless purple dye. Quantities were sold to Boutwell by CCC on two occasions at 10 cents per 100-pound sack, under a contract which provided title to the potatoes should not pass to him until they were actually fed to livestock or processed into feed for livestock.

Boutwell entered pleas of nolo contendere to each of the three counts. Judge Dozier A. DeVane imposed fines of $40 on each of 2 counts, and sentenced Boutwell to three months in prison, and one year's probation on the remaining count.

Boutwell was arrested last July and has been at liberty under $500 bond.

Investigations in the case were made by agents working under the direction of H. S. Patterson, in charge of compliance work of the Production and Marketing Administration in the southeast.

Prosecution of the case was handled for the U. S. government by Col. Hayford O. Enwall, assistant U. S. attorney, Gainesville.
