

Anti-Trust Lawyers Use Charges Court Rejected As Flase, A & P Contends

Inflammatory and damaging allegations made in a suit against the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company at Dallas, Texas, were so baseless that the federal judge "threw the anti-trust lawyers and their case right out of his court," the company will say in advertisements this week end.

The advertisement, scheduled for publication in 2,500 newspapers throughout the nation, was the third in a series discussing former court cases where federal judges found there was no evidence against the company and administered stinging rebukes to the anti-trust lawyers.

In the Dallas anti-trust suit, the ad states, the anti-trust lawyers "made practically the same allegations they are making today" in their current suit to break up the 90-year-old food store chain.

Federal Judge W. H. Atwell, the ad states, ruled that the Dallas case "should not even be tried" because the indictment "contained inflammatory statements he would not allow to be presented to a jury."

"If I thought I was presiding over a court and that I might have to sentence some person because he was a great big fellow, or because he was a lilliputian, I would feel like resigning," the ad quotes Judge Atwell.

"God knows we don't want it ever to occur in America that the size is going to determine whether a man is guilty or innocent."

Judge Atwell, the ad also says, told the anti-trust lawyers—"if the indictment is not good then it is better to find out before an expensive trail than it is after an expensive trial. I do not think it is good, and thinking that, it is my duty to sustain the demurrers and motion to quash."

Captioned "the third time the anti-trust lawyers were wrong," the advertisement reviews two other actions — the Washington, D. C. bread case and Wilson, N. C., potato case — in which federal judges found no evidence to support "damaging" charges brought by anti-trust lawyers against A&P.

The anti-trust lawyers are "still determined to destroy A&P" the ad continues. But, it adds— "Everything that has happened since this suit was filed proves that the American people don't want A&P destroyed."

The ad cites how suppliers, unions, competitors, newspapers through editorials and people "in all walks of life" have rallied to A&P's support.

"The housewives of this nation, whose patronage has made this company big, are buying from us in increasing numbers and increasing volume," the ad says.

"Apparently most Americans do not want to let the anti-trust lawyers in Washington blow the whistle on any businessman who does a better and more efficient job and grows big in the process.

"No one can make them believe it is a crime to try to sell the best quality food at the lowest possible price."

10,000 teachers in North Carolina and worked with many immature children who are weak in reading. Mr. Gerow works chiefly in North Carolina, however, he is frequently called to other states as a reading and educational consultant. He is a native North Carolinian, having taught and served as school administrator for over sixteen years.

He is being sponsored in Hoke by the Board of Education. He will work in the various schools in the county with the supervisors and will hold two general meetings one with the white teachers and one with the colored.

BOB REYNOLDS

Bob" says he is against giving away huge sums of money to foreign countries and peoples; favors a reduction in taxes, is for labor, the farmer, veterans, states' rights and a pension of $100 a month for every person 65 years of age or over.

He is against Communists and wants to bar aliens and immigrants from this country. Fair employment, social equality, and such questions are for the states to settle and not something for Congress to legislate.
