The June 1 forecast of peach production based on reports from peach growers throughout the state, is placed at 365,000 bushels. This is the same as the May 1 estimate and represents the second smallest crop since estimates were begun in 1909. In 1943 late spring freezes cut the state's peach crop to a mere 252,000 bushels.

Senatorial Race Waxes Warmer As Climax Nears

Graham And Smith Both Cover State For Votes As Primary Nears

North Carolina's action-packed, knock-down, drag-out Democratic Senatorial campaign moved on toward its climax this week with both candidates hitting as many stumps and shaking as many hands as possible.

Each side in the race between Senator Frank Graham and Willis Smith of Raleigh was blaming the other for the injection of the race issue into the campaign.

Smith spoke at Asheville on Tuesday and headed for Greensboro where he was scheduled for a television appearance last night. Former Senator Robert R. Reynolds, who ran a slow third in the first primary, appeared in a transcribed radio address urging voters to vote for Smith in the primary June 24.

Senator Graham spent the first of the week on a handshaking tour of eastern North Carolina where he reiterated his opposition to FEPC and said he believed in working out the race problem through education, religion and good will. The senator visited Cumberland, Bladen, Pender, Onslow, Jones, Craven, and Lenoir counties.

Governor Scott, who appointed Graham to the senate last year and who has supported him strongly, made a transcribed radio speech in his behalf.

A considerably lighter vote than the record 618,000 of May 27 is expected as the Senate race is the only race in about half of the state's 100 counties. In this county this is the case, as there are no local contests to be run off. Graham led Smith by over 50,000 votes in the first primary, lacking some 5,000 of a majority.

FARM ITEMS

By E. M. STALLINGS
Hoke County Farm Agent

Tobacco Aphids (plant lice) were reported in the county for the first time on field plants on Monday, June 19.

Luther Tapp, farm manager for C. J. Calloway, has two fields between Timberland and Five Points in which the lice are present in large numbers. Several days of hot dry weather sometimes destroys these insects, as does heavy rains, but weather is not a sure remedy.

Most of the insects damaging tobacco in the county are listed below with recommended treatments.

Budworm: Use 5% DDT dust — about 6 lbs per acre dusted in each bud; or 50 lbs corn meal with 1 lb arsenate and use 12 lbs per acre, a pinch in each bud.

Grasshopper: 20% Toxaphene dust. Use 15-20 lbs per acre. Apply to grass and weeds around edge of field as well as on tobacco.

Hornworm: 20% Toxaphene dust. 12 to 20 lbs per acre; or Mix 1 lb Paris green with 5 lbs lead arsenate and use 2 lbs of mixture to 50 gallons water. Spray 50 to 80 gallons per acre; or Mix 1 lb Paris Green and 5 lbs lead arsenate with 10 lbs hydrated lime and use 15 to 18 lbs per acre or

6 lbs Cryolite to 50 gallons water, and use 50-80 gallons per acre; or Dusting grade Cryolite. 15-20 lbs per acre; or

4 lbs lead arsenate to 50 gallons water and use 50 to 80 gallons
