MORRISONS ENTERTAIN THE COUPLES CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morrison entertained the couples club on Thursday evening at their home. There were three tables for bridge, made up of club members, and four guests. These guests were: Mrs. Herbert Chaney, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stone and Charles Hostetler.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Upchurch, Jr. were given the prize for making the highest combined score and Charles Hostetler was given the visitor's prize.

An ice course was served after the game.

D. S. POOLE HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Mrs. A. K. Currie had all the members of the Poole family for dinner Thursday, August 3rd, in honor of her father, David Scott Poole, who was ninety-two years old on that date. All the children, grandchildren and in-laws were present, except Miss Isabel Bethune, who is in Washington, D. C.

Many friends of Mr. Poole, as well as members of the family, sent him gifts to show in a small way their admiration, respect, and love for him. He appreciated it all and says that he doesn't feel any older than he did fifteen years ago. His fellow townsmen, county and state friends wish for him many more happy birthdays.

WEDNESDAY CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. MCPHAUL

The Wednesday afternoon club met with Mrs. John W. McPhaul at her home last week. Only club members were present and enjoyed a delicious dessert course soon after arrival. ## MRS. JACK MORRIS HONORED

Mrs. William Lamont entertained at her home on Friday morning in honor of her sister, Mrs. Jack Morris, a recent bride.

Roses and dahlias were flowers used in dining room and living room, in which rooms three tables were placed for bridge.

In the bridge game Mrs. Harvey Cole made highest score, and was given the prize. Mrs. Morris was given a very pretty odd piece of crystal in her pattern.

At one o'clock the cards were laid aside and the tables set for lunch. A delicious luncheon was served in courses.

Those enjoying this hospitality were the honoree, members of Mrs. Lamont's bridge club, Mrs. Sam Morris, Mrs. Paul Dickson, Sr., Mrs. Israel Mann and Mrs. Harvey Cole.

MRS. MARY ROBERTS ENTERTAINS CLUB

Mrs. Mary Roberts was hostess to her bridge club Tuesday afternoon at her home on Central Avenue. Bowls of summer flowers and greenery made an attractive setting for the two tables arranged for play on the summer veranda of the Robert's home. During the game a frosted drink and potato chips were served.

After several interesting progressions scores were added and Mrs. Arthur D. Gore was awarded high score prize for club members, and Miss Maude Poole was winner of the guest high score award.

At the end of play, a dessert course was served by the hostess. Mrs. J. C. McLean and Miss Maude Poole were guests of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter McLean and children attended the Elliot family reunion Sunday, which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Elliot in Seventy-First township near Fayetteville. There was a large crowd present, who enjoyed the day together and the picnic dinner.

Mr. J. H. Blue spent several days this week in Fairmont in the home of her mother, Mrs. C. A. Floyd.

FRIENDS CONGRATULATE BELOVED COUPLE ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

About 200 friends of Rev. and Mrs. B. P. Robinson had the pleasure of greeting them and offering congratulations on the occasion of their observing their fiftieth wedding anniversary. The children of Mr. and Mrs. Robinson honored their mother and father with an At Home between the hours of 5:30 and 7:30 on the pretty lawn of their home near town, where they and friends, assisted in welcoming and serving the many who called. Receiving at the drive was Bob Allen, who directed to the lawn where Mrs. Ben Robinson and Mrs. E. H. Robinson greeted the guests and introduced them to the first receiving line, which was composed of the following Robinson children: Mrs. Frances Davis of Greensboro, Mrs. Dabney R. Allen, Fayetteville, Mrs. James E. Harkins of Pekin, Ill., Ben Robinson and Earl H. Robinson of Raeford. Rev. and Mrs. P. O. Lee introduced guests to the second receiving line composed of Mr. and Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Robinson's two sisters, Mrs. Duke Howell and Mrs. Frank Tew. Mrs. David Blue of Concord directed to the refreshment table, where punch was served by Mrs. Marshall Thomas and Mrs. Benton Thomas. The table, placed on the side lawn, with a blooming crepe myrtle tree as a background, was centered with an arrangement of yellow glads, yellow dahlias and fern. The crystal punch bowl was on one end of the table and the cake topped with a golden wedding bell-on the opposite end. Yellow mints in silver compotes were also on the table. Misses Shirley and Nellie Allen, Bettie Davis, and Earl and Bennie Robinson, grandchildren served. Serving was directed by Mrs. Lucy McFadyen and Misses Margaret Gainey and Eloise McLaughlin.

After being served guests were directed by Mrs. Williams, a niece of the couple from Roseboro, to the register, which was presided over by Mrs. Charlie Walker and Mrs. Ernest Maxwell of Fayetteville, cousins of the family. Good-byes were said by Mrs. H. A.

Cameron and Mrs. Lewis Parker the first hour, and by Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Upchurch, the last hour.

The occasion was a most happy one. The afternoon was perfect, the honored couple was gracious and appreciative of the attention shown them and the "bride" looked lovely in a becoming dress and wearing a corsage of yellow rosebuds. They received numerous useful and valuable gifts, in spite of the fact that they had requested no gifts. The callers indulged in reminiscing and the two hours of good fellowship passed all too quickly.

Mr. Robinson, who is a former pastor of the Raeford Methodist church, built a home near Raeford and came here to live when he was retired. He is a native of Cumberland County and his wife, the former Miss Victoria Tew, is a native of Sampson County and daughter of the late Rev. John O. Tew. They were married in Fayetteville, February 12, 1900. Unto them have been born seven children, five of whom are living. There are eleven grandchildren.

Among the out of town people calling in addition to those mentioned were: Mrs. John Brantley Hooks, Mrs. Beulah Hooks Scott, Mrs. Frank Musgrove, Miss Bebe Flowers of Fremont; Rev. and Mrs. V. E. Queen, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Driggers and Mrs. Watson Lawhon of Fayetteville; Dr. Gad-dy Matheson of Aboskie; Mrs. E. F. Blue and Miss Elizabeth Blue of Parkton; James Harkins of Pekin, Ill., Dabney R. Allen, Ernest Maxwell, Charlie Walker of Fayetteville, Mr. and Mrs. J. Austin Rogers and daughter, Pansy of Cary; Mrs. R. A. Whitaker, Enfield; Mrs. James A. Doggett, Greensboro; and Mrs. Harold E. Stone, Falls Church, Va.

MRS. K. A. MACDONALD CLUB HOSTESS

Bridge was enjoyed at two tables Thursday afternoon when Mrs. K. A. MacDonald was hostess to members of her bridge club. Summer flowers in artistic design graced the home for the occasion.

Mrs. Arah Stuart compiled the highest score for the afternoon and was awarded a prize.

At the end of play a sweet course was served by the hostess.
