Orangegg A Day Helps Keep Doctor Away

An Orangegg is such a nutritious idea that it's a good suggestion for any member of the family, any hour of the day, containing as it does eight ounces of Florida orange juice, full of Vitamin C and low in calories, and one egg, an excellent source of protein food values, and economical now. Beat one egg well; add eight ounces of chilled orange juice (use the juicy fresh Florida oranges, now coming into markets, or frozen or canned orange juice) and beat well again. It's an ingenious way to insure getting an egg a day, and with eggs plentiful, it's an inexpensive meal-in-a-glass.

QUESTION:

Why is it safer to buy an advertised article than an unadvertised article?

ANSWER:

Because the maker of the advertised article has stuck his neck out — he, through his advertising, has put his name behind his product. He must satisfy the buyer in quality and price or lose out on future sales. He has made an investment in the reputation of his goods.

How can you explain these times to a boy?

To you, the world is in a pretty sorry state. But not to a boy. He's growing up in times like these. He doesn't remember anything much different.

Perhaps you ought to remind him that many precious things may be taken from him, temporarily. Many prized American freedoms, rights and opportunities must be suspended for a while, as the price of arming the nation against aggression.

But warn him that there may be danger of losing these freedoms permanently. Because there are some people who, for years, have been saying, "The government ought to own and run things. The railroads, for example, and the electric light and power companies." And right now the defense program may give these people a new opportunity for putting over their idea of government ownership and permanent controls.

And tell him that the real name of this idea is socialism, and that most Americans don't want it. For socialism means that people have less money, and fewer rights and privileges.

Tell him we all must make sacrifices today. But tell him, also, that when we give up any of our freedoms, we must be sure to keep the claim check that says, "Return to bearer on demand."

To help everyone remember the difference between temporary emergency powers and permanent socialism, we publish this reminder.

BILTMORE ESTATE

This beautiful estate, near Asheville, covers over 12,000 acres of farm and forest lands. In 1892, George Vanderbilt, the owner, appointed Gifford Pinchot superintendent of Biltmore Forest, which resulted in the first large scale reforestation program in the United States. Vanderbilt's home contains priceless art treasures, and 110 bedroom suites, a spectacular spiral stairway, and among other things, a chess table, said to have been used by Napoleon I during his exile on St. Helena.
