MRS. BRANDON CLUB HOSTESS

Mrs. L. B. Brandon was hostess to the members of the rook club when she entertained at her home on Fulton Street on Thursday evening of last week.

Three tables, made up entirely of club members, were in play in rooms made attractive with arrangements of summer flowers.

During the game an iced drink was served and after the game Mrs. Brandon was assisted in serving a refreshing dessert course by her daughter, Mrs. Ray Muench and Sally Boyd Muench.

WOODMEN CIRCLE MEETS

The Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle Cedar Grove No. 179, held its regular business meeting Tuesday night, August 5, in the W.O.W. Hall. Plans were discussed for the next Southeastern District Convention, which will be held in October in Raeford.

The meeting of August 19 will be a local one and all members are urged to attend.

REUNION SUNDAY

Friends and relatives of Mrs. Lucy Smith and her brother, J. A. Wilkes met at their home Sunday for a reunion. About 50 from the county and surrounding counties were present. The bountiful picnic lunch, which was served at noon, and the good fellowship that prevailed made the occasion a pleasant one.

LINDSAY REUNION SUN.

The family of the late John Lindsay and Florence Cameron Lindsay held their reunion Sunday afternoon at the Aberdeen Pond. All four of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay's children and all of their 12 grandchildren with the exception of two were present. The children are: Mrs. F. A. Monroe and Ed Lindsay of Hoke County, Mrs. John Baker of Cameron and Mrs. B. F. Smith of Pinehurst. Mrs. Frank Bethea of Rockfish was the only guest other than the family.

A picnic supper was enjoyed.

RECENT BRIDE HONORED

On Wednesday night of last week, Mrs. Billy Dean Holland, recent bride, was honored at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Martin McKeithan, Mrs. Gene Matherly and Mrs. Frances Faulk at the home of Mrs. McKeithan on Harris Avenue.

After several bridal contests Mrs. Holland was presented a basket of many useful, as well as lovely gifts, from those present. Refreshments were served after the honoree had opened and displayed her gifts.

Arrangements of late summer flowers were used in the living and dining rooms.

TWO COUPLES HONORED

Dr. and Mrs. Julius Jordan, who were recently married and Miss Doris Bradley and Jake Austin, whose wedding takes place in Kipling Saturday evening, were honorees at a picnic supper given Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gatlin and Mr. and Mrs. Marion Gatlin.

Twenty six couples were invited to partake of this hospitality.

After supper both couples were presented with gifts from their hosts and hostesses.

The girls came in for refreshments and then went to the movies.

FINAL PRENUPTIAL PARTIES FOR COUPLE

The last two days preceding the Brown - Cameron wedding were filled with social affairs honoring the young couple, their attendants, and out-of-town relatives here for the wedding.

Buffet Supper Friday

On Friday evening at seven o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Upchurch gave a buffet supper at their home. Following this supper the rehearsal was held in the Methodist Church.

Cake Cutting

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cameron extended a broad invitation to the large family connection and young friends, as well as to the bridal party to the cake cutting at their home following the rehearsal.

All white flowers and light from many candles, made the living room and dining room most attractive. Punch was served in the living room from a punch bowl of milk glass with matching cups. The four tiered wedding cake, topped with the traditional bride and groom under an altar of flowers was on the dining room table. On either side of this cake were five-branched candelabra holding epergnettes with dainty white flowers and lighted candles. The cake was served with the punch.

Wedding Breakfast
On Saturday morning Mrs. Clyde Upchurch gave a wedding breakfast for the bride-elect, her attendants and members of the immediate families.

The bride's table, at which covers were laid for eight, was centered with a bridal scene in miniature on a reflector. There were the bride and groom in front of the flower covered altar and the daintily dressed bridesmaids.

A table, seating six, and centered with pastel flowers, was in the music room. Those for whom covers were laid were: Mrs. Upchurch, Miss Marie Cameron, Mrs. H. A. Cameron, Mrs. Vernon Brown, Mrs. David Tuttle, Miss Florence Cameron, Mrs. James Creed, Mrs. Robert McCleskey, Miss Katherine Blue, Mrs. Tom Cameron, Mrs. Clyde Upchurch, Jr., Mrs. Bill Upchurch, Mrs. Hubert Cameron and Mrs. Alan McGee.

Fish Fry For Men

Clyde Upchurch entertained the men making up the wedding party and others from out of town at a fish fry at John McGoogan's pond on Saturday morning.

Buffet Supper Saturday

Miss Jeanette McLaughlin is spending this week in Sanford with Miss Elizabeth McCormick.

Mr. and Mrs. Berder Niven visited Mrs. Niven's niece, Mrs. Howard Pope and family, in Sanford Sunday.

Miss Sarah Marie Cameron Married Here Saturday To Vernon Weaver Brown, Jr.

In a beautiful and impressive service Miss Sara Marie Cameron became the bride of Vernon Weaver Brown, Jr. on Saturday evening, August 2nd, at 8 o'clock in the Raeford Methodist Church, with Reverend P. O. Lee, the bride's pastor, officiating.

The altar, in front of which was the kneeling bench, was banked with ferns and Southern smilax, interspersed with floor baskets of giant white gladioli and double white althea and numerous seven branched candelabra with lighted tapers. Pews were marked with white glads tied with bows of maline.

The wedding music was presented by Miss Jessie Bright Ferguson organist, and Miss Katherine Blue, soloist. "O Perfect Love" and "Because" with McDowell's "To a Wild Rose" during the ceremony were organ selections. Miss Blue sang "I Love Thee" and "Thine Alone." "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin was played as the bridal party entered the church. Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" from A Midsummer Night's Dream was used as the recessional.

Ushers were: Perry W. Brown, brother of the groom, Waco, Texas; Walter Cheeseborough, Winston-Salem; James Creed, brother-in-law of the groom, Asheville; and Hubert Cameron, brother of the bride, of Raeford. Mrs. David Tuttle of Gastonia, elder sister of the bride, was Matron of Honor; Miss Florence Cameron, also a sister of the bride, was Maid of Honor; and Mrs. Robert McCleskey of Winston-Salem and Mrs. James Creed of Asheville were bridesmaids.

Their dresses were alike, except in color. They were made of net, floor length. The bodice of each was strapless, with ruffled neckline. Very full skirts, over hoops, had four panels, ruffled from waist to hem. With these dresses, they wore ruffled stoles. The Matron of Honor wore yellow; the Maid of Honor, aqua; one of the Maids, lavender; and the other, rose. All carried arm bouquets of pastel asters and pom-pom chrysanthemums tied with broad streamers of matching satin ribbon.

The bride entered the church with her brother, Tom Cameron, who gave her in marriage. The groom had as his best man, his father, Vernon Weaver Brown of Asheville.

The bride's dress was of lace and net, fashioned with scalloped neckline. The bodice was of lace, and panniers of the lace were draped to form a bustle in back. The full skirt ended in a court train. Her veil of illusion and lace fell from a close fitting cap edged with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds, lilies of the valley and stephanotis centered with a white orchid and showered with streamers of satin and net.

Mrs. Cameron had for her daughter's wedding a dress of dusty rose made of lace and chiffon.

The groom's mother wore a mauve gown of chiffon and lace, embroidered with crystal and pearl beads. Both wore shoulder bouquets of orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. While pictures were being made of the wedding party, guests were invited first into the lovely garden where punch was served, and then into the house. The house, Texas of the late Victorian Era, with its period furniture, looked lovely with its varied and tasteful arrangements of pastel flowers in reception hall; parlor, where the receiving line stood; gift room; and library. The dining room, where ices, cakes, nuts, and mints were served, was in all white. The full length table, covered with an embroidered linen cloth with inserts of lace and cut work, was centered with a large silver bowl holding Mt. Hood shastas, tube roses, baby's breath, white roses, and pom-pom chrysanthemums. White satin hearts and small satin wedding bells tied with tulle and centered with tube roses completed the center piece. Candelabra holding lighted tapers were silver, as were all other table appointments.

Arrangements of white glads, roses, and smilax with candles in antique silver candelabra were on buffet and mantel.

The many friends and near relatives who assisted at this reception were: Mr. and Mrs. Younger Snead, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Gatlin, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Senter, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Upchurch, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Bill Upchurch, Eloise Upchurch, Harriet Cameron, Iris Thomas, Jennelle Snead, Virginia McNeill, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McNeill, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Upchurch, Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Upchurch, Mrs. Alan McGee, Mrs. Lewis Upchurch, Mrs. Luke McNeill, Anne Graham, Lydia McKeithan, Mrs. Riley Jordan, Mary Sue Upchurch, Betty Upchurch, Rosemary Cameron, Joann Cameron, Betty Davis, Eleanor Leach, Mrs. George Wood, Gwen Gore, Mrs. Kenneth McNeill, Mrs. Sarah McNeill, Libby Suddreth, Sarah Jane Cole, Dr. David Tuttle, Mrs. Laura Hoyl Thomas, Elizabeth Hoyl, Mrs. John Walker, Mrs. Julian Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Cameron.

After the reception the couple left for a wedding trip, after which they will be at home in Winston-Salem. For traveling, Mrs. Brown wore Navy crepe with white accessories and the orchid lifted from her bouquet.

The bride is the second daughter of Mrs. Hugh Archie (Florrie Upchurch) Cameron and the late Mr. Cameron and is a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Tom Upchurch. She was educated at Peace Junior College and graduated from Salem College. She is now a teacher at Salem Academy in Winston-Salem.

Mr. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Weaver Brown of Asheville, was educated at the University of Miami, where he was a member of Kappa Sigma social fraternity. During World War II he served in the United States Navy. He is now manager of Universal C.I.T. Credit Corporation in Winston-Salem.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding, other than members of the bridal party and those assisting at the reception, were: Mrs. Howard Bishop and Mrs. David Bishop of Statesville; J. B. Hoyl of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.; Dr. David Tuttle of Gastonia; Guy Walters and John Hasty of Maxton; Hack Hall of Red Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Breeden of Ben-
