

ROCKFISH NEWS

By Mrs. A. A. McInnis

The general meeting of the WMU of Tabernacle Church will be at the church Thursday evening at 7:30. Don't forget the homecoming at this church, October 16.

Marvin English and Fred Wood, students at ECC, Greenville, spent the past week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. English, and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Wood.

Marion Wood of Campbell College, Buies Creek visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wood, over the week end.

A. A. Wright of Raleigh visited his daughters, Mrs. E. T. Brock and Mrs. Roscoe Bundy and families, the past week end.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. McKeithan visited Mr. and Mrs. Parker McKeithan at Stedmina Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dupree Lockamy and sons went to Wade Saturday where they visited Mr. Lockamy's sister and family and his father, J. C. Lockamy, who lives with his daughter.

Sorry we didn't mention how nice Fayetteville Street looked last week after the road crew got around to smoothing it over. We did appreciate it though, and they 'didn't even wait to be threatened with being brought before the Nail Keg's Court either. But, alas, for all the nice work that was done, along comes lone, and all this rain to undo everything.

Smith McInnis returned home Monday after two weeks at Moore County Hospital where he underwent an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Ray have been informed that their son, Thomas Ray, who has been stationed at Camp Gordon for some time, is now on his way to Germany.

O. L. Townsend visited his sister, Mrs. Fred Cameron, and family at Carolina Beach last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Koonce had as their guests last Sunday, Mr. Koonce's father, G. F. Koonce of Lakeland, Fla.

Galatia Church is planning a homecoming this fall. As yet the exact date has not been set, but they hope to have it some time in October.

Mr. and Mrs. Wight Parker of Laitenberg and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Allen and daughters of St. Pauls visited in the home of A. L. Long, Mrs. Louise Watson and Mr. and Mrs. Grady English Sunday.

Mrs. Scott Turner reports another case of mumps in their family this week. Sammy, who was the patient last week, has about recovered, and Scott III is taking his turn with it. Mrs. Turner is hoping all the while that it doesn't have to go through the whole family at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Plummer's children all decided to come to see them at the same time last Sunday, so the result was a complete reunion of the family. Sgt. and Mrs. C. M. Allison and children of Charleston, S. C., Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Wilson and children of Fort Bragg, Dr. and Mrs. Billy Plummer of Goldsboro, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Miller and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Plummer and children, who live near by and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Plummer of the home made up the happy group that gathered with Mr. and Mrs. Plummer for a big Sunday dinner and a jolly good time. Other guests of the Plummers on this occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wade of Raeford.

Just before you get to Moore County Hospital you see a marker beside the road that marks the old Yarkin road. On this marker we read that this was originally a buffalo trail from the Yarkin River Valley to the Cape Fear. Just imagine seeing a line of buffaloes tramping along that trail.

Mrs. E. D. Braddy and her granddaughter, Miss Dayne Capps, attended the homecoming at Vass Methodist Church last Sunday. Mrs. Braddy, who before marriage was Miss Susan Cameron of Vass, was a member of this church before coming to Galatia.

The storefolks need to be saving up the nail kegs, for with the rainy weather damaging and cutting the cotton crop short and the cooler weather coming, there'll have to be a place to thrash out all the knotty problems that come up and nothing can take the place of a good Nail Keg session.
