Registrars

tered and his page added to the registry without requiring revision of the books.

In effect, the looseleaf system permits a complete and accurate registry of all voters in the county, and it is faultlessly accurate on a day-to-day basis. Under the old system, the books had to be "purged" every few years to remove the names of people who had died, moved away, or otherwise become ineligible to vote.

Registration books will open Saturday. Registrars will be at polling places in all 19 precincts from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Their presence at the polls will continue on Saturday, April 27, and Sunday, April 28, and Saturday, April 29, and Sunday, April 30. Their presence at the polls will be on a day-to-day basis. Voters may register during the week only by locating the registrar and asking to be registered.

The Democratic and Republican primaries will be held Saturday, May 3. Only citizens who have registered under the new system will be eligible to vote.

Tied in with the county-wide registration is a special drive being conducted by Negro leaders to have all eligible members of their race registered.

The drive is being spearheaded by the Rev. Thomas Walker and Jimmy Morrissey. The Rev. Mr. Walker said less than half the eligible Negroes were registered in the old registration books. Normally, only about half of those who were registered bothered to vote, he said.

Poole said he believes 5,000 voters will be registered in the new registration, partly because many people formerly believed they were registered when actually they were not.

With a complete new registration in the making, every citizen in the county should now know that he is NOT registered and that if he wants to vote May 3, he must get his name on the books.

Heavy registration is expected in the county's new precinct -- Raeford No. 5 -- which is predominantly Negro. The precinct was set up several weeks ago by the board of elections, which said it was necessary because Raeford precincts 1 and 2 had too many registered voters for the mechanics of voting and counting the ballots to be speedy.

Actually, both precincts had more than 1,000 registered voters. On election nights, the remaining ten precincts often would beat the two large urban precincts by sometimes four hours in reporting election returns.

Raeford No. 5 was created by taking away the northern portions of Raeford 1 and 2, plus a small area of Raeford 4.

Following is a complete list of registrars and where they may be found on the upcoming four Saturdays:

Allendale, W.L. Roper, Community Building.

Antioch, Mrs. Herbert Gillis, Community Building.

Ashmont, Harry Thornberg, Community Building.

Buchan, Mrs. Joe Odum, Odum's Station.

and his local campaign managers will visit several communities in the county.

Scott will arrive at the Hoke County line from Aberdeen at about 2 p.m. At 2:15, they will be at Byrd's Store, Ashley Heights; at 2:45, at Rockfish Fire Department, at 3 o'clock, at Puppy Creek Fire Department, and beginning at 3:15, they will tour Raeford Turkey Farms processing plant here.

The open house affair will be informal. Citizens wishing to meet and talk with Scott are urged to "come as you are."

Scott's campaign managers in Hoke County are Palmer Willock, Benny McLeod and John Balfour.

A dinner meeting of Scott supporters will be held beginning at 6 p.m. at Hoke High School. Tickets to the affair will be available at the door.

The high school facilities were made available for the meeting, with the understanding they will be available to any other candidate who wishes to stage a similar affair, school officials said.

There is a problem in Hoke County, they said, in finding accommodations for a sizeable dinner meeting or public speech. There are no private facilities in the area large enough to accommodate such a crowd.

Scott is seeking the Democratic nomination for governor in the May 3 Democratic primary. Also running on the Democratic ticket are J. Melville Broughton Jr., son of the late Gov. J. Melville Broughton, Broughton, a Raleigh attorney, is former chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee. Dr. Reginald Hawkins, Charlotte preacher - dentist, also is seeking the nomination. He is believed to be the first Negro candidate for governor since Reconstruction days.

Seeking the Republican nomination in the GOP primary are James Gardner of Rocky Mount, incumbent member of the U.S. House of Representatives, and John T. Stockley, Charlotte businessman.
