NOW A&P IS REALLY IN THE SOUP
(SOUP BUSINESS, THAT IS)

For years, our Ann Page Division has made great soups... but there were only 3: Tomato, Tomato Rice and Cream of Mushroom.

For some time, we've been working on new varieties. But you know fussy A&P.

If they are going to be called Ann Page, there can't be better soups... and you can't rush perfection. It's taken time but it was worth it.

When you taste our 4 new varieties, you'll agree.

And when you see the prices... you'll want to buy them all. You should, because they just might be the best values in the store.

One more thing, all 7 have shiny new green, red and gold labels.

Now that A&P is really in the soup business, shouldn't A&P be your store?

Local Business

Thomas A. Edison once said: "Discontent is the first necessity of progress."

Mr. Edison's fabulous inventions were responsible for much of what we consider modern progress. However, few of his innovations were accepted because of discontent. His ideas were thrust upon a complacent public.

No crowds were standing in line to wait for the dramatic improvements in Edison's light bulb and phonograph. Talking movies were not in demand for ten years after Edison had developed the process.

Even today it takes a lot of advertising to move most of us to adopt perfected lighting systems and high fidelity record players.

Each generation looks back on previous generations with amusement. The automobile could never replace the horse. If the Lord had wanted man to fly he would have given him wings. And so it went.

The truth is that few of us are born with the discontent which led Edison to search for new and better things. Few of us are willing to admit that change is necessary to progress. It has been the work of the salesmen of the centuries to make us discontent.

Indeed, it could be said that the salesmen created our cultures and civilizations. While the Edisons were creating shoes, weapons, tools, and wheels, the salesmen were making us discontent enough to try the innovations.

During the 20th Century advertising took over the function of creating discontent. At times advertising may seem to work too efficiently. On the other hand, it could account for living standards improving more rapidly in 50 years than during the previous 500.
