

March 8-14

Girl Scout Week

To Be Observed

Girl Scout Week is fast approaching and Hoke County Girl Scouts are working on exhibits, practicing marching and flag routine, and rehearsing Girl Scout and Brownie promises. Mrs. C.R. Pursley, Girl Scout Week Coordinator, announced that the week of March 8-14 has been designated as the 1970 Girl Scout Week and that the theme is "Awareness-Action." Each day of the week is assigned a different theme which is based on Girl Scout principles or practices. Sunday's emphasis is Duty to God; Monday's is Homemaking; Tuesday's is Citizenship; Wednesday's is Health and Safety; Thursday's is International Friendship; Friday's is The Arts Day; and Saturday's is Out-Of-Doors Day (helping others as invalids or small children).

"The general plans," Mrs. Pursley said, "are for each girl to attend, in uniform, the church of her choice on Girl Scout Sunday. During the week the girls are urged to wear their uniforms as often as possible; attend their weekly meetings and conduct special trips or projects. Thursday, March 12, will be the 58th birthday of Girl Scouts so that troops meeting that day may have a birthday party. "The week's activities will be climaxed by the parade, flag ceremony and exhibits on Saturday morning, March 14th at 11 a.m. The exhibits, on the grounds of McLaughlin School, will be open to the public from 10-12."

"Not all troops have submitted their plans for their exhibits; however, those which have are: Troop 169-First aid tent and supplies, Troop 521-fire building, Troop 384-Day Camp registration, Troop 835-outdoor kitchen, Troop 421-knitting, other crafts, Troop 190-Kaper Chart, Troop 397-Flag Ceremony and Color Guard, Troops 352,355 and 318 will bring arts and crafts."

"An exhibit and tent will also be set up for the preliminary registration for Summer Day Camp. The dates for the camp are July 13-17 and all troops are being encouraged to register early in order to determine the quantity of supplies and equipment to be ordered. "Following the parade, there will be a brief program which will include Bearing the Colors, a Flag Raising Ceremony, songs and promises from the Girl Scouts. After the troop flags are retired, the Scouts and spectators are invited to tour the exhibits."

The Honorable John K. McNeill, Jr. has proclaimed March 8-14 as Girl Scout Week in Raeford. The Mayor's proclamation paid tribute to Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. on its 58th anniversary and called upon all citizens to cooperate with Girl Scouts in implementing their triennial theme, "Awareness-Action." Mayor McNeill asked citizens to give Girl Scouts their cooperation, and support so that increasing numbers of girls may benefit from a program which also benefits us all."

Plant Dogwoods Now For Beauty

Among the early spring flowering trees, the flowering dogwood is one of the most beautiful either in its natural woodland habitat or in cultivated landscape plantings. The tree often reaches 15 to 20 feet in height with a low, broad head and tiers of horizontal branches. It can also be trained in the form of a large broad shrub with multiple branches from the base.

The four large bracts surrounding each cluster of tiny yellow flowers opening in early spring produce the showy display of white for which the tree is famed. In autumn, the leaves turn to gorgeous shades of orange, scarlett and crimson. The bright red fruit borne in small clusters adds to the colorful autumn effect. In winter, the button-shape buds are prominent on the tips of the greenish or redish-brown twigs.

The dogwood grows best in light shade, but will tolerate full sun. The most favorable soil is moist, fertile loam, slightly acid to neutral. The addition of peat or leafmold improves nearly all garden soils for the dogwood. A mulch of leaves or other coarse material is especially beneficial to dogwoods. It keeps the soil moist near the surface where their roots are most active.

The best time to transplant dogwoods is the fall and winter through March. Plant them very shallow -- no deeper than they came out of the ground. Nursery-grown trees that have been root-pruned and grown in full sunlight are far superior to those dug up on the woods. Small trees, even seedlings, live much better than large trees.

College Students

The University of North Carolina Men's Glee Club is proud to inform you that a native of your city has excelled in the program of choral music at the university.

Vincent McAllister, 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. McAllister of Route 1, Raeford is presently a freshman majoring in Psychology. He is a talented Bass just beginning his 2nd semester in the club, and is also an active member of the Carolina Choir.

The Men's Glee Club has a rich heritage as one of the oldest in the nation. The organization is known widely for its versatility and high level of musical performance. The director is Mr. Robert P. Porco.

The spring concert agenda includes a tour of Florida in addition to numerous community series and high school appearances throughout North Carolina.

Requests and information concerning appearances in your area may be directed to the Glee Club office in Hill Hall on the campus of the university.

Miss Sarah H. McLean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burd McLean of Rt. 1, Shannon is on the Dean's List at N. C. Agricultural and Technical State University at Greensboro with an average of 3.1 out of a possible 4.0. Miss McLean is a freshman at A and T State University and is majoring in Elementary Education.

Nearly one in six East Carolina University students last fall made high enough grades to earn places on the university's official honor lists. Hoke County students were Abigail Best, 2, daughter of

Mr. and Mrs. John Best, Susan Gibson, 3, daughter of Mrs. W.T. Gibson and Janet Maxwell, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Maxwell.

About 19 per cent of the students -- a total of 1818 were officially commended on the three honors lists. The honorees include 1461 North Carolinians and 357 from out of state.

Most elite among the honor students are the 157 who made all A's (1). Next are those who made the Dean's List (2) by earning a solid B-plus average with no grade below C.

The Honor Roll (3) includes those students who made a B average with no grade below C.

It has been announced by the Academic Dean's Office that Linda Herbin, daughter of Mrs. W.T. Herbin of Raeford, has been named to the Dean's List for first semester at Vardell Hall.

Linda, a senior at the Red Springs preparatory school, has attended for two years.

Richard Lewis Neeley, son of Mr. and Mrs. R.E. Neeley, Rt. 1, Raeford, made the Dean's List for the fall term at Davidson College, where he is a senior.

Requirements for this recognition under the college's new curriculum call for a minimum grade point average of 3.50 for three consecutive terms. Under the old curriculum, students could make the Dean's List with a B-plus average for just one semester.

The list for the fall term includes 101 students.
