Native Roars In From Texas

1,300 miles on a motorcycle is one way to get from Texas to Hoke County, North Carolina.

And that's how Mr. and Mrs. Jesse W. Kelly did it.

They came from San Antonio last week to visit Mrs. Kelly's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Smith.

This was the first long trip by motorcycle for Mrs. Kelly, who got the bike as a birthday gift. Her husband has travelled all over the United States and Mexico that way.

"I didn't sleep for three days before I decided to make the trip," she said. "But it really wasn't hard once we got started."

Riding the big motorcycle is much less tiring than riding in a car, she said. "You feel so alert, out in the fresh air like that," she said.

Heavy makeup and the windshield kept her skin from getting windburned and they purchased ski masks before they left Raeford in case of cold weather on the trip back.

TRAVELERS - Mr. and Mrs. Jesse W. Kelly crank up for trip back to Texas.

Mrs. Kelly said the trip took two days to Kings Mountain, where they stopped to visit with her daughter. On the return trip, they planned to go by the mountains and the Blue Ridge Parkway, then head for Texas through Tennessee.
