Area Incidents

41 Wigs Are Missing

City police are investigating the theft of 41 wigs from a shop on Central Avenue, Friday.

The front door of the A and J Wig Shop was forced open and the wigs valued at $409 were taken, Raeford Police Chief Leonard Wiggins reported.

Last week in the county, vandals broke into a house under construction in Thomasfield and wrote filthy words on the bathroom walls with a marking pen, according to a complaint from Crawford Thomas, investigated by deputy sheriffs. The damage was estimated at $100.

Approximately 200 pounds of meat was stolen from the freezer at Upchurch School lunchroom last Thursday. According to the deputy's report, the screws had been removed from the freezer door.

Henry Maxwell reported Thursday three cases of soft drinks and three cases of corned beef were stolen from a storage building at Oakdale gin last Thursday.

Horace Hayes of Rt. 3 reported four tires stolen from his home last Thursday.

Amplifiers and speakers belonging to Rockfish Band were stolen from the Rt. 4 home of Patrick Vines last Saturday. The equipment was valued at $2,900.

Sarah Watson of Rt. 8, Sanford, reported that her wheels, tires and hubcaps were stolen from her car as it was parked outside Friendship Church in Wayside, Sunday, while she attended services.

Regulations Announced To See School Records

County school superintendent Raz Autry announced school policy for allowing parents to review their child's cumulative records:

"The Hoke County Board of Education recognizes the right of any parent to review the cumulative record of his or her child. The following regulations shall be adhered to in this matter:

1. Prior to the review of a cumulative record the parent must submit in writing a request to the appropriate principal to see their child's record.

2. The parent shall be notified by mail that their child's record is available.

3. The record shall be reviewed at the school in which the child is currently enrolled. The review shall be in the presence of the principal or his designee.

4. Form EC-9 shall be signed by the parent at this time.

5. If the parent wishes for the record to be released to another school, agency or individual, form EC-12 shall be completed, notarized and submitted to the principal.

Famous Trees Are Wanted

County Forest Ranger Robert Jones is asking citizens of Hoke County to let him know of any trees in the county which have played a part in the history of the nation, state, or a particular community.

Jones said that as part of the nation's Bicentennial, the Division of Forest Resources is compiling information about famous trees located in North Carolina. He also said that the Division is interested in trees that have a personal history revolving around the history of our state and nation.

Examples are the Liberty Oak and Battle Oak at the Guilford Courthouse Battleground, the Old Holly Tree in Pamlico County, the Henry Clay Oak in Raleigh and the Giant Oak at Blackbeard's Cove on the Outer Banks.

Clarification

The Martha Johnson who was convicted in district court Jan. 24 of shoplifting is not Martha Ann Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Johnson of Rt. 2.
