Police Seize Pot Of Pot

City police and SBI agents raided a Raeford home Tuesday night and confiscated four suspected marijuana plants growing in the living room.

Earl Bullard, 26, of 319 1/2 South Main was arrested and charged with possession of marijuana and manufacture of a controlled substance.

He was jailed with a $2,000 bond, with a preliminary hearing set for April 11.

Raeford Police Chief Leonard Wiggins said a team of four city policemen and two SBI agents searched the Bullard residence about 6 p.m. after obtaining a search warrant. The plants were sent immediately to the SBI lab in Raleigh for analysis.

Police officers taking part in the raid were Wiggins, J.C. Barrington, Charles Campbell and Earl Tindall.

Hint

Put wrappers from bars of soap in the bottom of your clothes hamper. A generous layer of them keeps a fresh aroma in the hamper until you're ready to do the next washing.

Saving is simple. Banks make it complicated.

The razzle-dazzle schemes most banks give you make saving harder. Not better. Because most people save for very basic reasons. To keep their money safe—and to earn the highest possible interest. Which is the way we approach it at Southern National.

We ask you a few questions. Then we suggest a plan with the highest interest the law allows. It's the best you can do. And you'll walk away with peace of mind. Instead of a headache.
