Charge Reduced To Trespass, No Cake Walk, Warns Judge

A 17-year-old Raeford man charged by police with larceny was allowed to plead guilty to a reduced charge of trespassing Friday as visiting Judge Charles L. Guy warned the defendant his apparent sweet tooth may lead him into the penitentiary.

Donald Butler, Rt. 2, Raeford, had been charged with the theft of two packages of doughnuts and two lemon pies from a bakery delivery outside the Raeford A&P store Jan. 31.

Judge Guy announced he would not find Butler guilty of larceny on the evidence presented, but told him "there is no doubt in my mind you went down there to do this".

"I hate to see a larceny charge put on a young fellow, it'll follow you all your life", Guy said. "I think sometimes young people do things to be smart so don't think you're getting away with this, you're not".

"I've been told you're a good boy, but this is a good way to end up in the penitentiary", Judge Guy warned Butler.

Butler was handed a suspended six month term and fined $25 and costs.

In other action, a 22-year-old man was found guilty after pleading not guilty to shoplifting a can of chocolate cake icing and two pairs of bedroom shoes from the A&P in December.

George Walters, Jr., 16, and Phillip M. Ryne, 16, waived hearings on felonious escape and will face indictment by the Superior Court grand jury.

Two defendants pleaded guilty to driving under the influence (DUI) and a third pleaded guilty to driving while license revoked.

Pleading guilty to drunken driving were Dock Morrissey, P.O. Box 501, Raeford, who was sentenced to 90 days suspended for one year, ordered to give up his license for one year, and fined $100 and costs. A limited permit was issued. Breathalyzer result was listed as .15, according to records.
