out regarding this farm legislation. It is strictly a Congressional action, conceived and passed by the Congress.

In spite of the problems on the nation's farms, which have brought many farmers to the point of throwing up their hands and considering quitting farming altogether, the Ford Administration, including Secretary Butz, did not come forth with any program to give our farmers any relief.

During the 1974 campaign, I said that the parity figure was too low and should be arrived at through a better formula; one that would be more in line with factors that prevailed when the tobacco was actually sold.

I believe this bill does that and I was glad to help it to pass.
