

4-H Fashion Revue Winner Chosen

Gwyn Mansfield was named overall county winner at the sewing contest and fashion revue presented by the 4-H Clubs and the Extension Homemakers Club Thursday night at the Raeford Presbyterian Church.

Miss Mansfield will represent Hoke County in state competition at Betsy-Jeff Penn 4-H Camp May 2-4 at a special Clothing Camp.

Youth Division contestants competed in Pre-Teen (9-11 year olds), Early Teen (12-13), and Senior Teen (14-19) categories.

In the Pre-Teens, Patricia Winchester received first place for an apron; Sonya McGregor and Brenda Pierce tied for first place for a skirt; and Sheila Monroe was awarded first place with a sportswear entry.

First place winners in Early Teens were Sharon Connell with sportswear, and Wendy Mansfield for a skirt.

Gwyn Mansfield took top honors in Senior Teens and Beth Cameron received second place.

In the Adult Division, Mrs. Woodrow Hayes won first place in Dresses; Mrs. Ann Bundy and Mrs. Gerald Winchester tied for first place in children's clothes; Mrs. Louise McDiarmid was awarded first prize in Coats; Mrs. Blanche Hedgpeth was first place winner in Ensembles; Mrs. Rhenda Cameron took first place in Sportswear; and Mrs. Barbara Hiser received first place in Men's Wear.

Judges were Mrs. Mavis Johnson, Cumberland County home economics extension agent, Mrs. Ann Braswell,
