No injuries were reported, and an investigation is continuing.

An August 8 court date was set for the pair.

William Cooper, Rt. 1, Parkton, reported a break-in between 6:30 - 8 p.m. last Saturday in which a camera and a .22 rifle valued at $165 are listed as stolen. Entry was apparently made by forcing a rear door, according to the report.

SAVE FROZEN FOODS

A bad storm may knock out your electricity. And if it does, you'll do well to know what to do with the food in your freezer.

One of the best things you can do is to keep the freezer closed -- so the food stays frozen as long as possible. Open the freezer only to add dry ice or to move the food to the locker plant.

Also, estimate how long the food will keep. Food will usually stay frozen in a fully loaded cabinet for two days. But it won't keep more than a day in a cabinet that's less than half full.

If the power will be off more than a day or two, move the food to a freezer-locker plant -- if there's one in your area.

Or put dry ice in the freezer -- if it's available. Use about twenty-five pounds for a ten cubic foot cabinet. Add dry ice soon after the power goes off, and food will stay frozen for three or four days in a fully loaded cabinet. It helps to cover the freezer with blankets -- but leave the air-vents uncovered in case the electricity comes back on.

When the electricity is restored, clean the freezer before refilling. Destroy food that has a questionable odor or color. It may be dangerous.

You may safely refreeze partially thawed food if it still has ice crystals. But, remember the quality will never be the same.

If you don't want to refreeze food that is safe to eat -- you may preserve it by canning -- or you could serve it right away for family meals.

HINT: Place hard-cooked eggs in cold water as soon as they are through cooking. Then you will have no trouble in removing the shells, and the yolks will have no dark rings.
